ANARCHY.

MOBS TERRORIZE CITY OF SPRINGFIELD, ILL.

Maddened People Kill and Burn and Governor Calls Out Troops.

Police Powerless to Quell Outbreak Against Negroes That Started Over Assault on White Woman in Capital of State—Mayor and Candidate Chafin Among the Injured—Mobs Work in Different Portions of City.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Aug. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] 2 a. m. The mob captured a young negro at Twelfth and Madison streets and immediately lynched him. The helpless victim, shrieking and protesting his innocence of any offense, was swung to a tree on the northwest corner of the street intersection and the body riddled with bullets. The negro was supposed to be Charles Hunter, porter at a local hotel.

At 2:15 o'clock the militia fired a volley into the mob that was congregated in the black belt. The commanding officer claims one man was killed. The fire is still raging and the mob refuses to disperse.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Aug. 15, 2 a.m.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Robbed of their intended victims, two negroes accused of the murder of a white man and an attack on a white woman, a mob of thousands of whites tonight inaugurated a reign of terror in Springfield such as this city has never known.

The mob—or mobs, for they worked in sections of hundreds—wrecked and burned the habitations of negroes and attempted to kill and maim all of the race whom they encountered.

The mob paid no attention to the troops or the police. Soldiers or policemen who interfered were stripped of their arms and the latter also of their stars. The firemen were interfered with when they attempted to extinguish fires starved by the mob.

Mayor Reece was stoned and forced to flee when he attempted to address and quiet the mob. Eugene W. Chafin, Prohibition nominee for President, was struck in the face with a brick for interfering to save a negro's life.

GATLING GUN COWS MOB.

Only once did the mob show any fear and that was when a Gatling gun was trained upon them. Then they left the street and turned their activities in other directions.

Two persons are known to have been killed and the list of injured numbers fully sixty, some of whom will die. Troops have been called from near-by points by Gov. Deneen.

Among the injured are:

Fred Ramsey of the gatling gun section, I.N.G., struck by stones.

Oscar Dahlka, policeman, struck on head by rock.

Albert Bierlein, employed at postoffice, shot in hip.

Phil Pollock of Chicago, badly lacerated while aiding Mayor Reece in escaping from mob.

John A. Snell of Sherman, shot in shoulder.

E. W. Bingham, struck on head with brick.

The entire district between Mason and Jefferson streets and Ninth and Eleventh streets, covering four square blocks, was wiped out. From one point eight fires were counted at one time. The firemen responded to the general alarm, but were absolutely powerless before the maddened mass.

At this hour the eastern sky is lurid with the reflection of raging fires. None of the militia ordered early in the evening has arrived. It is doubtful if any relief will come before 4 o'clock.

END NOT IN SIGHT.

There is no likelihood of a cessation of the rioting until more troops arrive. And until order is restored there is no possible way of ascertaining the number of people who have been injured or possibly killed.

Drug stores in the business portion of the city have been kept busy all evening attending to minor injuries of persons who have been able to reach them for aid. Bullet wounds in legs and arms are common casualties, while any number of persons have sought relief from cuts inflicted by knives and thrown missiles.

The mobs are working in different portions of the city. One crowd has been busily engaged since early in the evening wrecking the negro quarters in East Washington street; another has completely demolished Harry T. Loper's big restaurant on Fifth street, within two doors of the busiest corner in the city, and set fire to his big touring car which was found standing in front of the place, and still other mobs have chased the negro residents wherever they have been found, assaulting and beating them mercilessly.

POLICE POWERLESS.

The police and Sheriff's deputies, aided by the local company of the militia and the troop of cavalry stationed here, have been powerless to make any impression upon the crowds which fill the streets from curb to curb and from one street to another.

The riot was caused by a criminal assault last night by a negro upon Mrs. Earl Hollam, wife of a motorman, living within a mile of the Courthouse in one of the thickly settled and most respectable portions of the city; and the killing, less than a month ago, of William C. Ballard by a negro who had broken into Ballard's house, presumably to commit an assault upon Ballard's daughter.

Early this morning the city was scoured and several negroes were taken into custody. One of them, George Richardson, was partially identified by Mrs. Hollam as her assailant. Richardson, whose reputation has been bad in so far as white women are concerned, had worked upon a new house being constructed in the neighborhood. He denied his guilt.

All afternoon a great crowd swarmed about the County Jail, jeering the officers and making repeated threats to storm the jail and lynch both the negroes, Mrs. Hollam's assailant and Ballard's murderer.

At 5 o'clock the crowd's attention was taken away from the jail by a carefully planned ruse, that of calling out the fire department, and in the short interval the two negroes were hustled into Harry T. Loper's big automobile and spirited away. The ruse only served to further infuriate the mob.

All afternoon Ballard's sons had been quietly organizing a mob in the north part of the city to help them to avenge their father's death. The rioting broke out first on East Washington street, where two negroes were assaulted and terribly beaten by a crowd of men and boys.

Since early this evening there has been an indiscriminate shooting all along East Washington street. One negro saloon after another has been ransacked and demolished. The negroes have taken refuge on the second floors along the street and in numerous instances have fired into the street, wounding white people.

Gov. Deneen took active charge of the situation early tonight, and ordered out several companies of militia. Col. R. J. Shand, commanding officer of the infantry, was placed in command of the situation. Up to 11 o'clock he was powerless to cope with the mobs and orders for militia from other cities have been sent out.

At midnight there was not a negro saloon, rooming house or flat left unmolested upon the levee. One place after another has been devastated and ruined by the mob as it continued on its way to the negro residence quarters on East Mason street. There is no telling how many negroes have been injured or killed in the night's disorder. Hundreds of the blacks left the levee and their homes early in the evening, seeking the country fields for protection and no doubt that action has saved many of their lives.

Richardson was arrested today for assaulting Mrs. Earl Hollam, wife of a street-car conductor. Last night Mrs. Hollam was dragged from her bed in her home, forced into the garden and assaulted. She was badly bruised and was unconscious for some time. When Richardson was arrested she identified him as being the negro who attacked her. Feeling grew so intense against the negro that Sheriff Werner, late today, secretly took Richardson and Joseph James (the latter in jail charged with the murder of C. A. Ballard, who had chased James from his house where James had gone evidently with the intention of assaulting Ballard's daughter) to Bloomington for safe keeping.

NEGROES HURRIED NORTH.

UNSAFE AT BLOOMINGTON.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BLOOMINGTON (Ill.) Aug. 14.—Richardson and James, the Springfield negroes brought here to avoid a mob, late tonight were hurriedly placed aboard a train and taken to Peoria to prevent possible capture by a crowd of rioters, which, it was feared, might come to Bloomington after the negroes.

BANDITS HOLD UP TRAIN AT SPOKANE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) Aug. 14.—Bandits held up the Northern Pacific westbound passenger train tonight near Trent, nine miles east of Spokane, drove out the engineer and fireman, uncoupled the mail car and locomotive from the rest of the train and then themselves ran the engine and mail car to Yardley, in the outskirts of the city.

A special train with officers has gone to the scene. It is not yet known whether the robbers got away with much loot.

HUNG HOURS BY HIS TOES.

Boy on Trapeze Nearly Dies from Being Long Suspended.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Phillip Moosser, Jr., has an awful headache tonight, but otherwise is not much worse for a remarkable experience he had today. Phillip and his brother Lawrence went to the gymnasium in their home and started to do stunts on the trapeze. Soon after, Lawrence was called away, leaving Phillip swinging by his toes.

Lawrence did not return for two hours and when he did he found Phillip still swinging by his toes. Lawrence called to his brother, but received no answer.

Phillip was hurriedly taken off the trapeze after it was discovered that his toe had become fast in the rope. Several physicians were summoned and after five hours' work the young man was brought back to life.

Long Islander Finds Wife Gone With Clergyman at Whose Church Both Were Ardent Worshipers. Detectives Locate Fugitives in the West, Where Minister Preached.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Accused by her millionaire husband of improper conduct with her pastor, Mrs. E. Barton Hall will fight the divorce suit instituted by Hall, the Long Island millionaire.

Mrs. Hall is with her father, Benjamin Kirk, in North Carolina, and Rev. Denham is supposed to be at Pleasant Hill, Mo. Hall and his wife were both ardent worshipers at Denham's church. Then Hall found his wife gone and a note left behind which read: "I am all right and happy. You will not see me again." The millionaire sought the pastor for consolation. He was amazed to find that he, too, was missing.

Skillful detective work finally located the minister and Mrs. Hall on a trip through the West.

The complaint says that Denham on his journey preached fervently at several towns where Mrs. Hall passed as Mrs. Denham.

PRELATE'S JEWELS IN PAWN.

Cross, Chain and Ring Worth $2500 Believed Property of Archbishop of Buenos Ayres.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Resting in a silk-lined pigskin box, marked with the letter "B" in gold, in the showcase of a pawnshop at Thirty-fifth street and Sixth avenue, is a jeweled pectoral cross of solid gold. Its chain is of the same metal. The box also contains a massive gold ring, an agate signet with its embossed ivory bust of the Christ encircled with diamonds, while on either side in filigree work is a two-barred cross in diamonds, whose gleams meet a ruby, cunningly set at the end of a thin band of gold.

Cross, chain and ring are of the sort worn by an archbishop—in this instance, believed the Archbishop of Buenos Ayres. From a commercial viewpoint the jewels are useless to the proprietor in their present shape. They were pledged two years ago for $800 by a young Brazilian. Their intrinsic value is estimated at $2500.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING.

ETHEL LUDWIG AND DR. FITZGERALD WED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "We are married and happy and we don't care if the world knows it. There is nothing to conceal. Everything is lovely and all has been forgiven. We have telegraphed mother of our marriage and she knows all."

So spoke Mrs. Ethel Fitzgerald, formerly Ethel Ludwig, as she dispatched word to her parent in Chicago telling of her wedding to Prof. Fred Fitzgerald.

After a thrilling cross-continent flight from her mamma, who not only said nay to her proposed marriage to Prof. Fred F. Fitzgerald of Cooper's Medical College, San Francisco, but even spirited her away from Chicago when the professor appeared on the scene, Miss Ethel R. Ludwig, former student at Stanford University, arrived in Sacramento this evening on the Overland Limited and a half hour later was joined in wedlock to the man whose suit her parent opposed.

PASSENGERS SYMPATHETIC.

The train steamed into the depot at just 4:50 o'clock and as Miss Ludwig alighted she was greeted by Prof. Fitzgerald. She was escorted to the platform by a bevy of women passengers, who, having learned the story of her romance, showered rice upon her and her intended.

From the platform the couple rushed to the depot and saw to it that newspaper men were stalled by a friendly conductor, who volunteered the information that the professor and Miss Ludwig had been married on the train by a Truckee priest. While the conductor held the curious ones in conversation the couple slipped out a side door and made straight for the County Clerk's office.

From the Clerk's office the two walked arm in arm to the residence of Rev. Richard Rodda on Twelfth street, where the Methodist minister had witnesses and everything ready for the ceremony.

The wedding was a simple affair. There were no decorations. The bride wore her traveling gown of blue silk and a large red hat adorned with huge red plumes, and looked very pretty. The young son and the wife of the minister acted as witnesses.

REFUSES TO TELL STORY.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald said that they did not care to discuss their future plans. Mrs. Fitzgerald said the newspapers have followed her pretty closely for the last several days, and that they have left very little out that has happened to her.

She refused to discuss the trouble she had with her mother, and would not affirm or deny the story that Mrs. Ludwig had chloroformed her in an endeavor to keep her from coming west to marry Fitzgerald.

Mr. Fitzgerald, however, stated that the reports that his wife had fled from Chicago in order to outwit her mother are false, claiming that Mrs. station and consented to her coming to this city to marry him. He also said that they will remain in Sacramento several days and will then depart for San Francisco, where they will make their home.

PAPA IS PLEASED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PALO ALTO, Aug. 14.—When Mr. Ludwig heard by telegram that his daughter and Dr. Fitzgerald were at last married, he said:

"I hold no animosity against my wife for this affair. Her actions were peculiar, but I withhold judgment on the case till I learn what really did or did not take place.

"Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald will live in Palo Alto till the first of the month and then will probably move to the city. They are married now, and if Palo Alto wasn't a dry town I'd say: 'Let's have a drink.'"

MAKING HAY.

FARM VALUES MORE BY EIGHT BILLIONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That old mainstay of prosperity, the American farmer, has been making hay and other things at record-breaking rate in the last few years, in spite of the loud complaints of others less industrious, that the industrial sun has not shone so brightly as it should. The results of his silent toil, when put into figures, fairly stagger one.

A summing up of these wealth-producing operations is given in the following comparisons:

	1880.	1907.
Total value—
Farm property	$12,180,000,000	$28,075,000,000
Farm products	2,212,000,000	7,412,000,000

How each member of the farming population has shared in the good fortune is shown by another group of statistics:

	1880.	1907.
Farm property per capita	$1,579	$2,341
Farm products per capita	286	618

The increase in the value of farm property between 1900 and 1907, according to statistics published by the Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore, is $8,000,000,000, or nearly nine times as great as the aggregate national banking capital of the United States, more than half as large as the total capitalization, bonds and stock included, of all the railroads of the United States and nearly three times as large as the aggregate savings-bank deposits of the whole country.

Think for a moment of the increase—simply seven years increment—in the value of farm property being half as large as the entire capitalization of all the railroads in the United States, into which the surplus money of the land has been pouring for over three-quarters of a century!

With the agricultural conditions of the country in such a fundamentally-sound position, as indicated by these figures, there cannot be any such long period of industrial depression as the nation suffered in former years, when the farmers were the poorest people in the land. With the certainty of crop yields which, in the aggregate, will give the greatest amount of railroad tonnage and the greatest value to farm products which we have ever had, nature has laid the foundation for a great expansion of industry.

The tenor intimated the woman wh is his wife did not possess such q pacities.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Evelyn Thaw is reported much worried today over her husband's move in seeking to have himself declared a bankrupt. She is wondering if the proceedings in Pittsburgh mean more trouble for her, and is inclined to believe they do.

Those that know her say that even during the most strenuous days of the trial she did not show the worry she has had in the last few days. She fears the bankruptcy proceedings are simply preliminary to the complete stoppage of her $1000 a month allowance.

Despite the rumors of a life annuity and of $1000 a month allowed her by Mrs. William Thaw, it is declared on good authority that Harry's money is the only part of the Thaw millions that has come her way.

Daniel O'Reilly will fight hard to block the Pittsburgh proceedings. In connection with the rumor that an attempt would be made to get Thaw to Pittsburgh in the bankruptcy proceedings, Mr. O'Reilly said:

"If Harry Thaw ever gets into another State he is as free as anybody. No extradition laws can reach him. He is held here only on an order from the Supreme Court, which fixes his domicile.

"The Federal Court has the power to send him to Pittsburgh, but I don't think it would be possible to find a judge to issue such an order."

JAPS FIGHT FOR WHITE BRIDES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Japanese colony in St. Louis has raised a fund, according to a statement today by Attorney Henry Watson, for a test case to determine whether Japanese may wed white girls. Watson today notified Recorder Joy that mandamus proceedings would be instituted to compel Joy to issue a marriage license to Joe Numata, a Japanese, and Miss Elizabeth Burkle, a white girl, who were refused a license yesterday.

NATION'S PROTECTORS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—The churches and the schools of the United States were held up as "the only army and navy that can protect us in the future" by Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota last night. He delivered an address at the rally that marked the close of the eighth convention of the Luther League of America at the Auditorium. Fully 3000 persons were present.

TOO MUCH HEALTH WORK.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO Aug. 14.—As a result of overdevotion to health promotion, Mrs. Nancy Balleon of Oak Park is near death. While taking a sun bath yesterday Mrs. Balleon fell from a scaffold she had built outside her room on the second story of her home and on which she was lying. Mrs. Balleon had been interested in a number of health exercises. After taking a walk in the morning in her bare feet, exercising on the parallel bars and taking a cold plunge, she has been in the habit of dozing she rolled from her cot off the scaffolding. She is suffering from three broken ribs and concussion of the brain.

ENGLISH TO BE UNIVERSAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT]

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—English is destined to become the universal language of the world, in the opinion of A. C. Myer, member of the lower house of the Danish Parliament, the editor of a Denmark newspaper, who spoke last night at a meeting of Chicago Scandinavians. "We non-English speaking Europeans might as well recognize the fact that English is destined to become the universal language of the world," said the speaker. "There is no use shutting our eyes to it; it is bound to be so in the nature of things. Already Europeans working for me on the continent and in the Scandinavian nations are learning English. The English language will continue to spread until it is spoken by every nation and tribe in the world."

QUEER RELIGIOUS CREED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—"Doubt and be damned" is the battle cry of a new religion, according to Mrs. Jennie Blakeley of No. 663 West Sixty-third street, who, with her husband, Albert Blakeley, is promoting it and who together comprise the "Kingdom of Heaven Church of the First Born." The couple claim to have received a divine manifestation from out of the clouds fifteen years ago this coming 29th day of August, and they declare that ill will befall any one who discusses it before its fifteenth anniversary. They filed their charter of incorporation yesterday, and while it indicates that nine persons participated in the organizing of the church, Mrs. Blakeley acknowledged that she and her husband are really the only ones who "acted." Blakeley is named in the papers on file as "ruler" and his wife as "secretary" and the claim is made that the Almighty elected them.

WOOL GROWERS TO MEET.

Five Hundred Attendants Expected at Annual Convention in Salt Lake This Month.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) Aug. 14.—The annual convention of the Wool Growers of America will be held in this city, August 25 to 28 inclusive. It is expected there will be upward of 500 sheep owners in attendance. An attractive programme has been arranged for the meeting, with speeches by prominent western men.

The convention will have a number of matters before it for consideration, not the least important of which will be the movement to inaugurate a national storage plan.

The question of transportation also will be taken up, and an active fight made to eliminate what is alleged to be unjust discrimination against the western wool growers, on the part of the more important railroad systems.

The decision of the Executive Committee with reference to the establishment of a central wool station for the intermountain country will also occupy a prominent place in the deliberations of the convention.

BALLOONS IN UNIQUE RACE.

North Adams No. One Apparent Cup Winner.

Contestants Make Trip Without Accident.

Object to Land Nearest to Destination Chosen.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NORTH ADAMS (Mass.) Aug. 14.—The balloon North Adams No. 1, with A. D. Potter of Greenfield as pilot, and A. Holland Forbes and daughter, Natalie, aged 12, as passengers, and owned by the North Adams Aero Club, undoubtedly won the cup offered by Mr. Forbes in the first point-to-point race ever held in this country. The race was started from North Adams this afternoon. The No. 1 landed at 2:50 p.m. on a farm at West Whattley, about five miles from its previously declared destination, Haydensville.

Starting at 1 o'clock, the Greylock, owned and piloted by Dr. Gregor M. Randall of North Adams, landed at 2:30 o'clock at a farm in Ashfield, fully twelve miles from its destination.

The third balloon to start, the Heart of the Berkshires, owned by the Aero Club of Pittsfield, was the last to land, coming down at 3:30 p.m. in Amherst, within six and one-quarter miles of Whattley Station, its destination.

The conditions were that previous to the race the occupants of the balloons should designate some place at least thirty miles from North Adams, where they would attempt to land, that they should land within ten miles of the postoffice of the place and that the balloon landing nearest the announced destination should win the cup. Further, the winner should hold himself open for six months to a challenge for the defense of the cup.

As each balloon got away it ascended to about three thousand feet, without veering much from a vertical line, and then floated lazily away eastward.

FLIGHT AT BERLIN.

New Dirigible Balloon Mansuvers Successfully and Returns to Starting Point.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—The new dirigible balloon, constructed on the flexible system, made a flight over and around Berlin today that lasted for two hours and forty-five minutes. The start was made at Tegel. Various maneuvers against and with a moderate wind, were carried out at an altitude ranging from 600 to 1000 feet.

The airship showed excellent stability and answered to the will of the pilot easily and satisfactorily. The ship returned and landed at the same spot from which it set out.

ST. LOUIS IN GERMAN RACE.

President Dozier of Aero Club Leaves for Berlin Preceded by New Balloon.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] D. D. Dozier, president of the Aero Club of St. Louis, will depart tomorrow night for Berlin, where he will act as representative of the Aero Club of America at the international balloon races which will be held in the German capital in October. Mr. Dozier goes to New York for a day or so before taking the liner for Europe.

The Aero Club of St. Louis has purchased a new balloon, which will carry the flag of the city in the great races in Germany. It will precede Mr. Dozier and its pilot, Lieut. Frank P. Lahm, to Berlin. Lieut. Lahm captured the cup when the races were held in Paris two years ago. The St. Louis club has engaged him now as pilot, and the probabilities are that Albert Bond Lambert, the St. Louis business man who has qualified as a pilot, will accompany him on the fly for the coveted trophy.

An interesting feature of the ceremonies attendant on the races in Berlin will be the presentation by Mr. Dozier of handsome gold medals to Oscar Erbsloeh, the German, and Alfred Leblanc, the Frenchman, who competed successfully last year in the international races in St. Louis.

WRIGHT SHIPS WINGS.

Orville, to Make Flights at Fort Myer, Sends Aeroplane to Washington.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

DAYTON (O.) Aug. 14.—Orville Wright today shipped to Washington the aeroplane with which he will make flights at Fort Myer. He will go to the capital himself in a few days. Concerning the mishap to his brother's aeroplane in France yesterday, Mr. Wright said:

"I have a cablegram from my brother explaining the affair. It resulted from a wrong move of the lever controlling the lateral rudders that govern the equilibrium, just as the aeroplane reached the level of the ground, causing it to list and bringing one end of the structure in violent collision with the earth. In the upper air the mistake would have resulted in no harm. The aeroplane can be put in order in a few days.

EXPLOSION KILLS TWO.

BALLOON BLOWS UP.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Two persons were killed and six injured by the explosion this morning at the grounds of the Franco-British exposition of the envelope of the balloon owned by Capt. Lovelace of the New York Aero Club.

Preparations for an ascent were being made when the accident occurred. The cause is supposed to have been the throwing down of a lighted match. Miss Hill, aged 18, secretary to Capt. Lovelace, was one of the persons killed. She was burned to a crisp. The other person killed, a man, was employed by Capt. Lovelace.

Capt. Lovelace's clothes were burned, but he sustained no injuries.

FUNSTON BY FREIGHT.

General Arrives at Fort Leavenworth on Train not Designed to Carry Passengers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

LEAVENWORTH (Kan.) Aug. 14.—Brig.-Gen. Frederick Funston arrived here today from San Francisco to assume the position of commandant of the Army Service School at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

As Gen. Funston and his aides entered the reservation a salute of eleven guns was fired. Later he was given a reception.

The new commandant and his aides arrived on a freight train. They had reached Lawrence, Kan., forty miles distant, on the Overland Limited on the Union Pacific and disembarked there to make a brief visit.

The only train available to get him to Leavenworth in time was a mixed freight, and Gen. Funston and his party boarded it.

ATLANTIC FLEET.

BATTLESHIPS SAIL AGAIN FOR SYDNEY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

AUCKLAND, Aug. 15.—(Saturday.) The American Atlantic fleet departed for Sydney this morning at 8:15 o'clock.

The weather was fine and large crowds were ashore and afloat to bid farewell to the Americans. Excursion craft loaded to the rails dotted the harbor.

As anchors were hoisted and the flagship pointed her nose toward the mouth of the harbor, pandemonium reigned. The shore batteries belched forth their parting salutes, which were answered by the American ships, and the whistles and sirens on the excursion fleet resounded across the harbor and were reechoed by the distant hill. The American ships were kept busy dipping their flags in answer to the salutations of the New Zealanders.

The fleet steamed with precision of alignment out of the harbor and many of the excursion craft followed it far out to sea.

Cordial farewell messages were exchanged between Rear-Admiral Sperry, commander of the American battleship fleet, and the New Zealand authorities. Sir Joseph Ward, the Premier, voicing the sentiments of the people of the Dominion, said:

"Your all too short visit to New Zealand unquestionably has drawn the people of the United States and this Dominion closer together."

The message concludes with the following words in the Maori language:

"Kai ora aroha," which means "good luck and love."

Admiral Sperry in reply said the reception accorded the battleship fleet at Auckland had been hearty and cordial beyond his expectations and that it would unite in closer bonds the two white races whose interests in the Pacific were identical.

The sight when the ships left their anchorage was a magnificent one, the flagship Connecticut turning and steaming between the lines of battleships, which turned in order and followed her to sea.

Sir Joseph Ward, the Premier, and a large number of officials were aboard the government steamer, and as every battleship passed, Sir Joseph led in the rousing cheers for the Americans.

The battleship Kentucky, which was the last in line, responded lustily with cheers for New Zealand, and the bands on both vessels played the British and American national anthems and "Auld Lang Syne."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles Stanford, a horse owner, was robbed of $2115 and a pair of trousers while asleep in his quarters at the Meadows last night.

Stanford won a big bet yesterday. Before going to bed he placed the money in his trousers pocket and hung his garments over a chair near the window.

The burglar cut a pane of glass from the window and extracted the trousers without disturbing the sleeper. When Stanford awoke and reached for his trousers they were gone. They were the only pair he had with him and for various reasons he could not go in search of them. So he began to yell for assistance.

His cries brought neighbors to the room and the neighbors brought another pair of trousers. Stanford reported his loss to the police.

Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Edmund Coleman, a well-known resident of Deer Lodge, has returned from Alaska with information of the absolute abandonment of Copper Center, once the flourishing camp of the Klondike. Of the thousand buildings there not one was occupied nor was there a single person in the town. Following the failure of the gold deposits there was a general exodus of the inhabitants of Copper Center. Two of Mr. Coleman's party were drowned in descending the Yukon. He narrowly escaped.

PROHIBITION HITS GRAPE MEN.

Big Winery Appeals to Growers to Fight at Coming Session of the Legislature.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 14.—A local winery company, one of the largest in the State, has taken the initiative in a movement toward bringing about an organization of the grape growers in this county. The purpose of the organization is self-protection against the advances being made by Prohibitionists.

Edgar M. Sheehan, general manager of the winery, has sent out to grape growers a letter urging them to attend a conference to be held here next Thursday.

In the course of his letter he says:

"Railroad statistics for the first six months of this year show a falling off in wine shipments to the East of over 40 per cent., and now, with the vintage season almost at hand, the wineries find their storage cellars in no condition to take care of the big crop that will be harvested.

"We dare say that the advances of prohibition alone have had the effect of cutting the market price of grapes nearly in two and unless we get to-with organization the organized effort with odganization the organized effort that will be directed against us at the coming session of the Legislature we deserve to be punished severely."

Delegates to Grand Council of Y.M.I. Assembling, and Plans Being Perfected.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

Delegates to the Grand Council, which opens its session next Monday, will begin to arrive tonight and tomorrow to participate in the entertainment Saturday night and Sunday, which has been planned by local committees.

Great preparation has been made by the local comittees for the opening entertainment tomorrow night at Sutter's Fort. It will be replica of a night at the Fort in the days of '49. The feature of the entertainment will be the arrival of the pony post mail, an attack by the Indians upon the fort and the repulse by the defenders and the arrival of the overland stage.

The parade on Sunday morning will be one of the greatest of the kind ever held here. Every Catholic organization in the State will be represented in the line of march. There will be fully 7000 marchers.

WOMAN DENIED APPEAL.

COLTON ESTATE CASE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The appeal of Catherin Colton Dahlgren, who, on a writ of certiorari petitioned the Appellate Court to annul the order of the Superior Court of Santa Cruz, appointing the First Federal Trust Company special administrator of the estate of the late Ellen M. Colton, on the ground that the Santa Cruz court lacked jurisdiction, has been denied.

This action by Mrs. Dahlgren follows her petition of last December, when she asked to be appointed administratrix of the estate after the removal of Walter J. Bartnett, vice-president of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company, who was recently convicted of hypothecating bonds and stocks to the amount of $205,000 belonging to the estate and sentenced to ten years in San Quentin.

Bronco Busters Hold up Montana Rancher.

Failing to Get Money They Seize Daughter.

May Have Been Ruse to Effect Elopement.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BILLINGS (Mont.) Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two masked men, presumably bronco busters, at midnight last night went to the ranch home of Conrad Bauer, twelve miles from here, held him up at the point of their sixshooters and demanded what cash he had in the house. When told there was no money about the place, the masked men demanded whisky.

Bauer's wife slipped out a side door and ran to a neighbor's. When the masked men discovered this, one of them dashed around the house, and seizing Freda, the sixteen-year-old daughter of Bauer, threw her across his saddle and made off with her.

Bauer is of the opinion that the robbery phase of the case was a mere subterfuge to gain possession of the girl, and it is a question in his mind whether or not the young lady was a party to the alleged conspiracy.

Every effort of the officers to locate the kidnaped girl has proved unavailing. Bauer suspects two bronco busters of the abduction, one of whom he forbade paying attention to his daughter. Bauer declares he recognized the cowboy who poked his sixshooter into his face.

LONGSHOREMEN LOSE STRIKE.

SHIP OWNERS OF SEATTLE WILL NEVER EMPLOY UNION MEN.

Quarters With Sleeping-rooms, Restaurant, Gymnasium and Shower Baths Fitted up for Dock Hands. Employers Say That They Have Already Won.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Spacious and comfortable quarters, equipped with sleeping-room, a restaurant, reading and gaming-rooms, shower baths and a gymnasium, are to be erected for the strike breakers in the fight against the Longshoremen's Union in this port by the Shipowners' Association of Puget Sound, according to Charles E. Peabody, a member of the Executive Committee of the Association.

Work on the building will be started within a few days. It is to be a permanent structure and the institution will be conducted on up-to-date lines. The men will be charged a minimum rate for board and room, and the profits will be devoted to the maintenance of the gymnasium and reading-room. The owners say that, so far as they are concerned, the strike is already won and union men will never again be allowed to handle freight on local docks.

COURT UPHOLDS BURNS.

Judge Lawlor Dismisses Contempt Proceedings Begun by Ruef Against Detective.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Superior Judge William P. Lawlor today dismissed the contempt proceedings begun by Abraham Ruef against William J. Burns, chief of the District Attorney's corps of special agents in the bribery graft cases, holding that no contempt had been committed.

Ruef charged Burns and some of his agents with having approached prospective jurors in Ruef's coming trial, with a view to having them disqualify themselves. The decision, which reviewed the case in detail, held that both sides have a right to investigate the jury list and that the court has no power to define how this shall be done; that the persons interviewed were not drawn veniremen and that the complaint had failed to show that an attempt had been made to influence their opinion by illegal means.

According to the complaint in the case, an attorney claiming to represent Miller, settled with the street railway company, but did not turn any of the money received over to the injured man.

Miller is a Russian, and, not being a citizen, brought suit in the Federal, instead of in the State Court.

INDO-CHINA QUIET.

ear of Revolutionary Outbreak Said to Have Been Greatly Ex-aggerated.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PARIS, Aug. 14.—A semi-official atement issued here today declares at the situation in Indo-China, as scribed in letters received here a few ys ago, is greatly exaggerated.

In these communications it was said, mong other things, that a revolution-ry outbreak was feared and that dur-g the last few months 100 native sol-ers had been massacred and four na-ve officers and six French officers illed.

As a matter of fact the entire strife ith the Chinese revolutionists is prac-cally at an end and the interior situation is not serious. Only in An-am are there any evidences of agi-ation.

The Matin today expresses the opin-on that the recent outbreaks in this erritory are in reality a result of the military successes whose victories ver Russia aroused the militant spirit of the Asiatic world. The paper says hat adequate reforms will satisfy the natives and bring about control of the situation.

DUNNE CLOSES ARGUMENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Peter F. Dunne, attorney for the Southern Pacific, completed his argument be-fore the Railroad Commissioners to-day, having consumed two days, to show that nothing had been further from the minds of the officers of the company than the making of unjust discriminations between shippers.

Rebates, he contended, were good things in themselves, and he thought that nothing would be better for San Francisco than to have the railroad carry freight for nothing.

Atty.-Gen. Webb will begin his ar-gument on behalf of the State tomor-row.

RETIRED REAR-ADMIRAL DIES.

JAMES KELSEY COGSWELL PASSES AWAY IN FLORIDA.

Distinguished Naval Officer Will Be Buried at Milwaukee, Wis., With Full Military Honors Unless Family Makes Known Other Wishes—Gen. King Expresses Sorrow.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Aug. 14.—Rear-Admiral James Kelsey Cogswell, U.S.N., retired, is dead at Jacksonville, Fla.

A telegram received last night from S. S. Matsch, a brother-in-law of Cogswell, by Lieut.-Gen. MacArthur, U.S.A., simply announced the death of the distinguished naval officer and requested that Gen. MacArthur make arrangements for the burial in Milwaukee.

"This news comes to me as a tremendous surprise," said Gen. MacArthur.

"I had no intimation that Rear-Admiral Cogswell was in poor health and I only knew that as a retired officer of the navy he was living quietly with his family at Portsmouth, N. H.

"Unless it is otherwise desired by the family, he will be accorded a full military funeral."

Gen. Charles King, U.S.A., expressed the profoundest sorrow over the admiral's death.

Admiral Cogswell is survived by his widow, a son and a daughter. The latter is supposed to be with the mother, while the son is at sea with the Atlantic fleet.

One of the remarkable romances in connection with the naval career of Admiral Cogswell occurred more than ten years ago, and it was made the subject for reference in one of the interesting South Sea Stories, by the late Robert Louis Stevenson. In some manner the American warship on which Admiral Cogswell was an officer, was wrecked in the South Pacific Ocean. The crew was thrown upon an island uninhabited and for several weeks they remained there alone. Their daily food consisted chiefly of gulls' eggs and what they could gather in the way of fruits. Despairing of ever again seeing home or friends, the shipwrecked officers and crew made the best of their terrible situation. A consultation was held, in which Admiral Cogswell acted as leader, the commander of the wrecked vessel being incapacitated. It was suggested by the Milwaukeean that they might build a boat. This was carried out, under minute directions, with the result that a sort of sailing vessel was constructed from wreckage, and on this improvised vessel the wrecked crew shipped, under command of Cogswell. They finally touched at Honolulu, in the Hawaiian Islands, and were rescued more dead than alive.

BAILEY REFUSES TO ACT.

Dean at Cornell Declines President Roosevelt's Appointment on Farms Commission.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ITHACA (N. Y.) Aug. 14.—Liberty L. Bailey, dean of the Cornell College of Agriculture, who was recently appointed by President Roosevelt to be chairman of a committee of five to investigate the social, sanitary and economic conditions on American farms, sent a letter to President Roosevelt yesterday declining the appointment on the ground that he cannot give the subject the time he considers would be necessary to such an important matter.

When seen yesterday, Bailey expressed his regret at being unable to undertake the work, saying he considered the idea highly commendable.

In appointing Dean Bailey head of the commission, President Roosevelt wrote him a lengthy letter which was made public last Monday. The commission was asked to report to the President recommendations for improving farm life. It is stated that the President will incorporate these recommendations in a message to Congress, probably early next year.

RAILROAD RECORD.

TROUBLE OVER COLONIST RATE.

Connecting Roads Left Out on New Schedule.

Willing to Join in Reductions If Possible.

No Time Left for Filing Notice of Change.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Roads east, west and southwest seem to be in a quandary over one-way colonist rates announced by the transcontinental association lines to Pacific Coast points during September and October. Connections of the transcontinental roads are willing to join with them in putting the rates into effect and have so expressed themselves.

In making up their tariff sheets some of the transcontinental roads failed to pay enough attention to the requirements of the Interstate Commerce act or the rules adopted by the commission for its enforcement. Consequently, when their tariffs were filed with the commission, they were disallowed as not being in proper order. Thus far no united action has been taken to correct them, and the connecting roads have been waiting for the roads in error to correct their mistakes. Now it appears that they will not have time to give the requisite notice before the date set for the rates to become effective.

ESPEE BUYS ELECTRIC LINE.

EXTENSION TO SAN FRANCISCO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN JOSE, Aug. 14.—It is stated that the Southern Pacific company has purchased the franchise, tracks and other property of the Santa Clara Interurban Railroad Company and will probably extend that electric line to San Francisco. Although official verification of this deal cannot be obtained from those interested, it is understood that the negotiations, which have been in progress for some time, have been completed. The interurban company began work about three years ago and built several miles of track in Palo Alto, with spurs extending toward San Mateo and other points which it was proposed to connect.

ALABAMA PROTESTS.

OPPOSE RATE INCREASE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Strong protests against the action of the railroads in the southeastern territory in putting into effect on August 1 increased rates on grain, grain products, fresh meat, packing-house products and hay, will be lodged with the Interstate Commerce Commission within the next two or three days on behalf of the State Railroad Commission of Alabama. This protest will be brought to the attention of the commission in a formal complaint against those railroads somewhat similar to the one filed recently with the commission by the A. P. Morgan Grain Company, and others of Atlanta, Ga., and elsewhere, but will, it is understood, be couched in more vigorous language.

SHORTENING ROUTE.

NEW TUNNEL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

OROVILLE, Aug. 14.—A contract calling for the widening of the Southern Pacific tracks from Colfax to Clipper Gap, a distance of twenty miles, and the building of a tunnel through a mountain to avoid the sharp Cape Horn curve, and involving work estimated at $2,000,000, has been secured by the Utah Construction Company, according to a report emanating from the headquarters of the company. The work is to begin as soon as men and machinery can be sent to the place. The widening of the roadbed is for the purpose of double tracking the road over that portion of the mountain division.

RELIGION IN RAILROADING.

Directors Who Refuse Sunday Trains Threatened With Receivership.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WARSAW (Ind.) Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A set of railroad directors, too religious to permit trains on their line to run on Sunday, has brought the company into open rupture with its patrons and a receivership is threatened. The railroad is the Winona Interurban Railroad Company, touching the cities of Goshen, Warsaw, Milford, New Paris, Lebanon and Leesburg.

For two years the Sunday trains have not been run, much to the inconvenience of the patrons of the line. The directors had religious scruples and kept the cars in the barns. Today three thousand patrons of the road petitioned the company to start Sunday trains.

So serious is the situation that the Electrical Construction Company of Chicago recently filed a petition in the Federal Court, asking for a receiver for the road, with a view to forcing the company to run trains on Sunday, thereby increasing its earnings.

RECEIVER DISCHARGED.

Mexican Southeastern Railway Matter Comes up in Court at Santa Fe, New Mexico.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SANTA FE (N. M.) Aug. 14.—In the matter of the Mexican Southeastern Railroad Company receivership, pending in the courts here for more than ten years, Judge John R. McFie today approved the final report of the receiver, Henry W. Leman, discharged the receiver and canceled his bond.

The Mexican Southeastern Railroad Company was organized in 1896 in New Mexico, with a capital of $10,000,000, to build a road in Mexico from San Geronimo to Guatemala, as a part of the proposed intercontinental railroad system. The Spanish-American War came on and the company could not sell its bonds, and its concession from the Mexican government became forfeited, but a large amount of construction had involved the company in over a million dollars of net liabilities.

Car Famine not Serious.

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Aug. 14.—Talk of a car famine this fall that will tie up the grain movement and heavy fall traffic, is unfounded, according to local railroad men, who say that there is no cause for alarm. There will be the usual shortage of cars when the heavy grain shipments commence, the same shortage that has been experienced for years past, but nothing more serious. Reports from Chicago were to the effect that the jobbing and manufacturing interests were almost panicky over the prospect of a car famine.

GOVERNMENT TO SETTLE STRIKE.

Railroad Commission of Dominion Takes Hand.

Amicable Settlement Looked for on Canadian Pacific.

McVey Called to Ottawa for Official Conference.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WINNIPEG, Aug. 14.—It was learned tonight that the Dominion government, through the railroad commission, will intervene in the strike now on in all the mechanical trades on the Canadian Pacific. The prospects are for an amicable settlement of all differences between the company and the men within the next forty-eight hours. J. H. McVey, who is in charge of the local strike, left for the East on tonight's train.

The greatest secrecy is observed as to where he has gone or what is his mission. J. Clark, inspector for the railroad, and commissioner of accidents and rolling stock, was sent here by the commission in consequence of representations made to the Department of Railroads. Clark desires to have a conference with Mr. Whyte, second vice-president, and held a long conference with the executive.

In consequence of the report sent East by Whyte, McVey has been called to Ottawa to confer with the government with a view to an early settlement of the difficulties.

The first consignment of twenty-five Japanese mechanics to reach here for work in the Canadian Pacific Railway shops arrived from Vancouver last night and started to work this morning. Out of 1500 vacancies the company has filled 300 here.

MEMBERS HURT IN UNION ROW.

FIGHT STARTED AT STATIONARY ENGINEERS' MEETING.

Delegates Starting to Bolt Precipitate a Small Riot in Which Dozen Men Are Hurt—Police, Called to Quell Disturbance, Make no Arrests.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—In the presence of Matthew Comerford of Minneapolis, general president of the Stationary Engineers' Union, a dozen men were hurt, two of them severely, at the meeting here last night. A dozen attempted to bolt the meeting because three of their number had been expelled and started a separate order of the engineers. Emil Massow, who led the bolters, struck Michael Walsh, sergeant-at-arms, over the head with a chair, for closing the door on the order of the president, George W. Goding. Walsh turned to Massow and struck him several times, cutting a deep gash over Massow's nose and almost breaking that organ. Then the fight became general.

Charles Graif, another of the bolters, sent in a riot call for the police. When the latter appeared no one seemed to wish to press charges, and the wagon left without prisoners. President Comerford tried to get order. He had come to Chicago to attend the meeting.

"This is an insult to the national officers," said President Comerford. No attention was paid to him and the bolt went on.

Members of both factions threaten to cause arrests.

Typos Have Disagreement.

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—At today's session of the International Typographical Union the request of the Seattle union for support in the court case brought against it by an expelled member, caused a heated debate. The case was finally referred to the executive council for investigation and report, if, in the opinion of the International Typographical Union's lawyers, the matter warranted it. Business was temporarily suspended, and Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot spoke on the necessity of conservation of the nation's natural resources.

Boy Who Killed Woman by Setting Fire to Paper Beneath Her Returned to Italy.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Thirteen-year-old Francisco de Basco was indicted yesterday for manslaughter in the first degree. He built a fire in Fordham Park under the bench on which Mrs. Catherine McCormick lay asleep, causing her such severe injuries that she died. Things might have gone hard with the boy, but when he came up for pleading in Judge Cranns's court, Dist.-Atty Jerome, who had taken some interest in the case, applied to speak in his favor.

"This boy," said Mr. Jerome, "had no appreciation of what he was doing. I have made a personal investigation of the case. From all I can gather, I judge he built the fire of newspapers expecting only to frighten the woman. He had seen other boys do the same thing—build bonfires under sleeping tramps in the park, he was merely imitating them. His parents live in Italy, he has only one relative in this country, a brother; I think what he needs is some one to look after him, and I recommend he be discharged and turned over to the Gerry society."

Following this recommendation Judge Cranns handed De Basco, who looked much frightened, over to Superintendent Jenkins of the Gerry society, who said he would send him back to his parents.

ACQUITTAL ON FIFTH TRIAL.

Virginia Schoolteacher Freed of Murder Charge.

Once Sentenced to Death, Finally Escapes.

Family Died from Exposure in Courtroom.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ROANOKE (Va.) Aug. 14.—The fifth trial at Floyd Courthouse of John Richards, the Floyd county school teacher charged with the murder of his rival in love, Maurice K. Francis of Roanoke, ended today in acquittal. The first, second and fourth trials resulted in disagreements. The third resulted in conviction of murder in the first degree and Richards was sentenced to be hanged. The Supreme Court granted a new trial.

Francis was killed while on his way to see Miss Grace Link, his fiancée to set a date for the wedding. Richards had been a suitor for her hand and he was suspected of the killing. Immediately following the third trial of Richards, his father, mother and eldest brother died of pneumonia within the period of a week as the result of exposure in attending the trial.

The parents were buried on the same day, but the prisoner was not allowed to attend the funerals for fear of lynching. The case is one of the most remarkable in the history of Virginia courts.

INDIFFERENT.

HIS BUTCHERY IS FORGOTTEN.

SLAYER OF CHILDREN JOKES AT COUNTY HOSPITAL.

Wounds in Throat not Deep Enough to Kill and Duffy Will Soon Be Examined as to Sanity—Funeral of Victims This Afternoon—Wife's Sad Condition.

In the graves prepared by their murderer, the bodies of Mrs. Zalda La Com and Fred Duffy will be buried this afternoon. The headstones, purchased by the father a few days before he killed his children, will be placed above the graves.

Duffy is in the County Hospital and the attending physicians say he will recover. The wounds he made in his throat with a sharp knife were not deep enough and despite his plea to be allowed to die, he will probably live to stand trial.

The coroner's jury at the Pierce Undertaking Parlors yesterday afternoon returned a verdict of murder in the first degree against Duffy for the deaths of the children. A court of inquiry will be held to pass upon the old man's mental condition.

That Duffy was afflicted with mental insanity is the belief of officers investigating the case. Yesterday it was learned that he had been attending religious meetings at Peniel Hall on South Main street and that he had been in the companion of a religious enthusiast for some time past. According to the police report, this enthusiast met with Duffy while the latter was dug out the grave stones.

Time after time Duffy complained that this man that he could not prevail upon his son and daughter to see reason in the way he saw it. "They will not come to Jesus through our order," he said. Two days before the killing he went to his friend and said: "I have found a way to bring my son and daughter to Jesus. They will go to him on Thursday." He had expected to accompany his children to the other world.

The old man paid a considerable sum to the religious sect with which he associated and left most of his papers and belongings in a safe deposit vault, to be called for by some member of it. After settling up his affairs he went to his room and prepared for the last act of the tragedy.

The murderer had so far recovered yesterday that he spent the day at the hospital laughing and telling jokes. He never mentioned his acts and seemed to have forgotten them.

The doctors think that Dufty is insane, and he will be returned to the County Jail for trial as soon as his condition permits.

Mrs. Dufty has not yet regained her mental faculties and spends most of her time laughing or staring vacantly at the wall of the detention ward in the City Jail. She is being given all possible care.

Mysterious Man, Wrapped in Sheet and Flourishing Gun, Attempts Hold-up of Theater Party.

While returning from the theater about 11:30 o'clock last night, F. W. Gorman and C. O. Crane, accompanied by two women who live at No. 418 South Broadway, were accosted by a man wrapped in a sheet on the stairway leading to Fort Moore Place, above the Broadway tunnel. They were commanded to throw up their hands. The women screamed and ran down the stairs, followed by Crane and Norman. The man fired a shot and then disappeared.

Crane immediately telephoned to the police and an investigation was made, but with no results. Crane is of the opinion that somebody attempted to play a practical joke on the party. It is understood that he knows who the person was and will ask for a complaint today.

Crane is a manufacturing agent and has offices at No. 306 South Spring street. Norman is a clerk in the Ville-Lyon store.

LARCENY IS THE CHARGE.

While selling incandescent electric light bulbs on Fifth street yesterday afternoon, E. B. Reed was arrested and afterward confessed to stealing them from the United Railways of San Francisco, where he was employed for a week ago. Reed also had five watches on his person. He says he is a watchmaker and that the watches belong to him. He will be held pending an investigation by the San Francisco authorities.

TOOK MONEY ON RACES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The local police department was advised today of the arrest in Grand Rapids, Mich., of Charles F. Rust, wanted in San Francisco on a charge of embezzlement for the alleged swindling of two women out of $4000. According to the police, Rust in conjunction with Ida and Henry Ebel on April 11 last got Alice and Catharine Libby, of 257 Guerrero street, to put up $4000 on a horse at the Emeryville race track. The horse won and the trio disappeared with the money. Detective Lambert went to Sacramento today to procure extradition papers before going to Grand Rapids for Rust.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The Appellate Court has denied the application of Dr. Ralph A. The physician was found guilty at the first hearing of the case; granted a new trial by the Supreme Court, and again convicted. He has been at liberty on bail, but will be compelled to serve a four-year sentence at San Quentin as a result of the action of the Appellate Court.

RIVER GIVES UP SECRET.

ITALIAN MURDERED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—The finding of a suit case in the Chicago River at Monroe street yesterday convinced the police that Francisco Messna had been robbed and murdered. The Italian, who has not been seen by friends since Wednesday night, carried $250 with him in a belt when he left his boarding-house to go to a railroad station, where he expected to start on a journey to his home in Italy.

The suit case contained a number of letters written in Italian, photographs of a woman and two children, and a few articles of clothing.

A strange Italian was seen with Messna after he left the boarding-house and since then all trace of the missing man has been lost. Messna had been in Chicago but a few months, coming from Pittsburgh.

Thomas Dewitt of St. Louis Confesses to Choking Woman With Stocking.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 14.—Thomas DeWitt, 24 years old, in an alleged confession made to the police today told how he killed his former landlady, Mrs. Adeline Muller, aged 49 years, at her home Wednesday.

"I did not mean to kill her," DeWitt is alleged to have told the police. "I stuffed a stocking in her mouth because she was trying to scream. I was afraid that I would be arrested for disturbing the peace if she made a noise."

The cause of the struggle resulting in Mrs. Muller's death was her refusal to loan DeWitt money.

CRIME BRIEFS.

Daylight Robber Shot.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Leonard Smith, alias, William Fay, was shot and killed today in an attempt to rob a West Madison-street saloon. It was broad daylight and the street was occupied by many pedestrians when Smith, accompanied by two companions, entered the saloon. Their command to hold up bande was met by Lawrence McGraw, the bartender, with a fusillade of shots, one of which lodged in Smith's abdomen. The other two were arrested.

BRONX ZOO TREATED TO VIOLENT SCENE BY BRUINS.

Escaping from Keepers Animals in Adjoining Cages Enter Into Deadly Struggle from Effects of Which One May not Recover—Brutes Are Still Ugly.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—As a result of a fight between two inmates of the bear den in the Bronx Zoo, one bear is in the hospital, figuratively speaking, and may come out only in shape to be made into bear steaks, while another is proudly strutting up and down inside his cage, proclaiming his victory in bear language.

The victorious member of the bruin family is Admiral, a 900-pound Russian brown bear. The animal that lost the fight is Mike, the Yezo bear, which species has its habitat in Japan. The Admiral's cage is No. 2 and joins No. 3, in which Mike dwells.

The two have been on bad terms for a long time, but the iron bars kept them at a safe distance from each other. Admiral, according to keepers of the bear den, has been scheming to get past the barriers, and yesterday morning found a way. At the rear end of the dividing line of iron bars five of them had become rusty nearly through. Admiral discovered this and hurled his 900 pounds against the bars, landing almost on top of Mike.

There was an immediate mix-up, and when the keepers, attracted by the snarls of the combatants, reached the scene they found Admiral and Mike in a deadly embrace and slashing at each other with their long sharp claws. Soon there were ten keepers on the job, prodding the bears with the pike poles. The bears paid no attention to keepers, and Admiral succeeded in getting Mike's throat between his teeth. At this juncture a keeper landed on Admiral with a blow that made him let go. Mike took advantage of the opportunity to scud to a safe retreat. Then Admiral was driven into his own cage. Mike's wounds were attended to by the keepers as well as can be done with the bear still in an ugly mood, but the keepers fear he is fatally hurt.

CHOLERA IN ST. PETERSBURG.

Department of Health Announces That Disease Seriously Threatens Russian Capital.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 14.—During the past fortnight an immense number of cases of an intestinal disease have been recorded in the city, and today the Department of Health published figures showing that for the first five days of the current week there had been 250 deaths from this cause. Last week there were 175 deaths from the same malady. The department declares officially that the city of St. Petersburg is threatened with cholera.

The police have been asked to furnish prompt information concerning arrivals from the provinces, in order to facilitate the establishment of quarantine over sick persons and the authorities are making special efforts to inspect foodstuffs and provide boiled drinking water in the factory districts.

WOMAN DENIED NEW HOME.

Judge Says Matrimony Would Offer Simple Means of Remedy and Refuses Application.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Judge Goff in the Supreme Court has denied the application of Miss Lichtenstein to change her name to Miss Blanche Newman.

Miss Lichtenstein set forth that her two brothers had changed their names to that of Newman, and that for social reasons she desired to adopt the same name, as she found it very embarrassing to be known as Miss Lichtenstein while her brothers were known as Newman.

"Matrimony," said Judge Goff, "would be a simpler method to effect a change of name than the present proceedings, the reasons for which are wholly unsatisfactory. Application denied."

LOQUACIOUSNESS.

JAPANESE REGRET AMERICANS' PIQUE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

TOKIO, Aug. 14.—Special dispatches from New York and London printed in Japanese newspapers represent that the utterance of Count Okuma, attributing the naval expansion policy of the United States to the sudden rise of Japan to the importance of a world power, is arousing intense indignation and has caused a complete recrudescence of anti-Japanese sentiment throughout America.

The New York newspapers are quoted as editorially urging an American-Chinese alliance for the purpose of offsetting the belligerency of Japan. One newspaper is quoted as giving the views of Wu Ting Fang, Chinese Minister to the United States, on the subject of an alliance in which he threatens Japan with "an early evidence of the real power of the American navy."

Americans residing in Tokio, Yokohama and elsewhere throughout Japan are extremely indignant. They believe that the special dispatches exaggerate the tone of the New York newspapers and it is felt that it is particularly unfortunate that at this time anything should be permitted to retard the increasingly-friendly relations of the two nations in view of the elaborate arrangements on foot among the Japanese to welcome the American fleet and the growing cordiality exhibited on all sides toward Americans. American business men especially regret the publications because of the revival of the anti-Japanese propaganda in America will, they fear, undoubtedly afford gratification to the competing countries represented here and also offering serious damage to American trade.

Count Okuma's frequent utterances do not create a ripple here and his most recent one was passed quite unnoticed by foreigners until the specials noted the outcry of the Americans. Even then among Japanese statesmen and newspapers the first expression was one of amusement.

OKUMA NOT INFLUENTIAL.

Count Okuma is regarded here as a doctrinaire politician, who is now completely without political effect except in academic circles. His statement concerning the American navy and President Roosevelt's advocacy of its expansion was undoubtedly brought out by reports of Congressman Hobson's speech in the Democratic National Convention when he quoted President Roosevelt as predicting an early war with Japan.

Count Okuma's statement which has caused all the comment, was an excerpt from a series of articles printed in the Hochi, a Tokio paper, which are being written by Count Okuma reviewing world politics and printed from day to day.

When Count Okuma returned today from the country, he said to the Associated Press that he was surprised to find that his utterances had been considered purposely offensive.

"It was only natural," said he, "in reviewing the world's politics, to point out that Japan's rise above the horizon had caused the American navy to turn its attention toward the Pacific. It was undoubtedly true that some Americans talk unwisely concerning Japan, but never for an instant have I desired or intended to reflect on the honor and courage of the American navy or its sailors; but it is an uncontrovertible fact that commercial considerations weigh materially with all older commercial nations, even when it becomes a question of war. No one will endeavor more earnestly than myself to cultivate cordial relations with America, because I realize that only through such cordial relations can Japan hope to become a really great nation."

WHAT THE COUNT SAID.

In an article published in the Hochi, August 11, Count Okuma attributed the present naval expansion policy of the United States to the sudden rise of Japan to the importance of a world power, saying in part:

"Judging from the fragmentary speeches of President Roosevelt that have been transmitted here, it is not difficult to infer that an increase of the United States navy in the Pacific is directed at Japan."

Count Okuma expressed a doubt, however, that the views and ideas of President Roosevelt would long continue to govern public opinion in America.

SURPLUS IS GREAT.

BIG PROFIT IN WELLS-FARGO.

EXPRESS COMPANY EARNS FIFTY PER CENT. IN YEAR.

Earnings of Four Million Dollars on Eight Millions of Stock Shown by Reports on Business of Past Year—Depression Has Had Little Effect.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] During the year ended July 31, 1908, the Wells Fargo Company earned approximately 50 per cent. on its $8,000,000 of stock. A year ago its surplus earnings amounted to 53.92 per cent. Wells Fargo stock received 10 per cent. per annum in dividends. The company earned something like $22,900,000 gross from express operations.

Compared with the results of the preceding year only a nominal decrease of about $35,000 is shown. That gross earnings have held up so well is due to heavy increases which were effected during last August, September, October and November. They were sufficient to counterbalance the decreases which by reason of the panic have been reported since.

Expenses of operation will show an increase of about $300,000. The rise is due chiefly to the higher prices for all commodities and to the greater expense entailed in the keeping of horses, etc. Net earnings from express operations proper will compare about $2,600,000 with $3,368,022 for 1906-7. But the income from investments and profits from the Wells Fargo bank total approximately $1,400,000.

SCOFFED AT HYDROPHOBIA.

Victim of Dog Bite Who Disbelieved in Dangerous Results, Dies in Suffering.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Although Conrad Steingruebol laughed at the Christ Hospital physicians in Jersey City, who said that he would die in twenty-hour hours from the effects of a bite of a dog, the prophecy was fulfilled today. Steingruebol said he was a disbeliever in hydrophobia, and that he would be around again in a few days. He rapidly grew worse, however. He remained conscious until the end, and almost the last words he spoke were that he would get well.

Steingruebol was bitten by a dog a little over three weeks ago, but paid no attention to the bite, and when warned by his wife that he might develop rabies he merely laughed at her saying hydrophobia had no terrors for him. On Monday last he began to show signs of rabies, and consulted a physician. On Wednesday he called at the hospital, and when offered a glass of water he was taken with a spasm. From that time until he died his sufferings were intense.

SUBURBAN COMEDY.

JERSEY COW IS CAUSE OF ROW.

BABES CAN'T HANDLE PRODUCT, FATHER SELLS MILK.

Enter Hollywood Inspector, Center Stage; Declaims: "It Has Been Doped"—License Revoked Despite Protest of Pater Familias—Buys Another Bovine—Warnings Follow.

E. R. Purdy, local manager for the Bradstreet Company, has declared war upon the milk inspector of Hollywood. He believes that the man whose duty it is to pass upon the quality of the lacteal fluid dispensed in that city is not entirely disinterested, or else is somewhat mixed in his dates.

Mr. Purdy moved to Hollywood some time ago for the express purpose of providing his children with the comforts of country life. The first investment made, after the home had been secured, was a Jersey cow.

Now, although the Purdy babies are as healthy tots as ever gladdened a fond father's eye, they are not large enough to handle the entire product of a large, healthy Jersey cow, so the pater familias determined to branch out as an amateur dairyman.

Neighbors were more than anxious to get milk from the Purdy cow and as soon as the necessary license had been secured, no difficulty was experienced in finding as many customers as could be served.

All went well for several days; then W. L. Lewis, milk inspector, descended upon the household and announced that the milk vending must stop.

"Why?" demanded the head of the house in mystified tones.

"Your milk has been doped," came the response of the inspector.

"In vain Mr. Purdy denied that the fluid had been tampered with. The official was obdurate and informed him that his license was then and there revoked.

Mr. Purdy did not feel inclined to fight just then so, at the suggestion of the inspector, he sold the cow to a neighboring dairy. Later he bought another one and again sold milk.

The representative of the law landed upon him, so to speak, and told him that he was laying himself open to all sorts of trouble by vending milk without a license. Mr. Purdy declares that the old license is still in force, that Lewis had no power to revoke it, and that he will have his rights if it is necessary to invoke the aid of the courts.

WIFE SUES DAVIS.

Seeks to Attach Money in Possession of Man Accused of Beating Local Jobbers.

Advices from Cincinnati last night state that Mrs. Mary C. Davis, wife of William Davis, formerly of Santa Ana, who was arrested there Thursday, on a complaint charging him with the embezzlement of $3000 worth of goods from Los Angeles jobbers, has brought suit to attach $13,230, which was in her husband's possession at the time he was taken into custody. Mrs. Davis declares that the money belonged to her. It is, she alleges, an inheritance. She asserted in the complaint that she tried to get her husband to let her have it, but that he refused.

Davis was arrested while passing through Cincinnati on his way East. His baby became sick while on the train, and the couple stopped over for several days.

Davis denies that he is the man wanted in Los Angeles. The local police say they have absolutely identified the man, and Detective Hosick is now on his way East with requisition papers.

ch Touted Prelim Proves to Be False Alarm.

hough the Stars and Stripes were ed in defeat last night to the rious colors of John Bull carried Freddie Welsh, they were by no s disgraced, Johnny Murphy put- up one of the gamest fights ever in a local ring.

e fight went the limit of twenty- rounds, but the result does not tell real history of the fight. Except a few rounds in the earlier part the argument there was no time Murphy had as much as a ghost chance and it was only by the ex- e of sheer bulldog courage that was able to last.

elsh did not, perhaps, put up the fight he is capable of, but allow- e must be made for the slippery ition of the ring, caused by a y dew. All possible efforts were e to put the arena in condition, it remained like a skating rink oughout the fight and it was as h as both fighters could do to keep r feet. Under the circumstances e was no chance to secure the thold necessary for a knock-out , though Welsh landed many times manner that would have put his oment away under ordinary condi- s.

he fact that there was no knock- s during the full course of the en- nter to taken as an indication that lish lacks the sleep-producing ch. Last night's fight is hardly a criterion. He seemed to land der than in any former battle in city and the ability of Murphy to p on his feet must be laid as much the lack of foothold as to his won- ful gameness.

FOOTWORK USELESS.

ootwork of the kind that has made lish such a favorite with the fans this city was out of the question, under all the circumstances, he ot be given credit for using every rt to end the fight and for a re- rkable exhibition of the highest s of fistic science. He fought as ld with Brock, and it is question- e if Brock or Murphy looked the se after completing the course. rphy's lips were cut to ribbons, his t eye severely gashed and his right most closed at the end of the twenty- th round. For the last few rounds staggered blindly around the ring, always fighting and showing no signs anxiety to quit.

n the real interests of the sport it ems a pity that he was not taken t after the sixteenth or seventeenth und. He had no chance to over- me the lead Welsh had secured, and assumed inhuman to permit him to go just because he was too game to it of his own accord. Too much can- t be said of his courage, but it is doubtful if such exhibitions help to popularize the manly art.

Eddie Graney, for many years the post successful referee in the United tates, made his appearance at Ver- on after a retirement of two years. e handled his men in the same old ay and gave further proof of the ell-known fact that a better arbitra- r of fistic encounters never entered ring. He was persuaded to act out personal friendship for the club anagement, and gave his services ratis.

Owing to the coolness of the even- g and the general impression that e fight would be but an easy canter r Welsh, there was only a small rowd at the ringside when hostilities ommenced. Welsh was guaranteed 000 win, loose or draw, and there ould not have been more than $1500 the whole house. The preliminary, etween Sailor Sullivan and Jake Ar- o, was as raw as any ever seen in local ring. Sullivan started out to p up his man with wild swinging low, backed by facial contortions, ut lasted only a fraction of the sec- nd round, and went down, and re- ained until counted out, without re- eiving anything that looked like a low.

The principals of the main event ere slow in taking their places and the club might make some move toward insuring quicker action in the future. The fact that the public has paid its good money seems to be lost sight of in the unnecessary pandering to the whims of those who supply the entertainment.

The first round showed both cautiously feeling the other out, Welsh allowing Murphy to do the leading. In the second both showed more activity and in the third Welsh landed several hard body blows that made Murphy wince. From then on to the seventh Welsh took a strong lead and had his opponent bleeding freely from the nose. In the seventh Murphy fought strongly and in a rally on the ropes got the best of some give-and-take fighting. This was the only round in which he obtained even a semblance of advantage, but, throughout the fight, he made unexpected rallies and landed some good blows that might have had effect with the necessary strength behind them.

In the eighth Welsh went after his man and from then on to the end practically landed at will. Murphy's face looked like a raw beefsteak and clearly showed that there was steam behind the blows that were rained down on him. Murphy weakened with every round and there was no question of the finish after the fourteenth. Several times he was all but out, but in no less than four instances he was saved from what looked like a sure knockout by the tap of the gong.

He showed remarkable recuperative powers, however, and, even in the eighteenth endeavored to carry the fight to the enemy's ground. From then on the story was a tiresome repetition, Welsh landing at will and constantly jabbing Murphy's sore nose and eyes. Occasionally he relieved the monotony by fierce heart and stomach blows, but Murphy managed to hang on and finished the course staggering and almost blinded. Welsh had scarcely a mark and appeared fresh at the end. Had Welsh been content to let his opponent do the leading for the first few rounds a different story might have been told. But he roughed matters at every opportunity and showed evidences of slowing up between the fifteenth and twentieth rounds. After that he saved himself in some measure and started out to finish the fight too late in the game.

Wright and Little Have no Trouble in Beating Opponents in Men's Tennis Doubles.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The eastern pair champions in doubles in tennis, Beals C. Wright of Boston, and Raymond Little of New York, earned the right today to challenge Hackett and Alexander, the national champions in doubles and will play them for the national title in the tournament at Newport, R. I., to begin August 18.

Wright and Little won this right on the grass courts of the Crescent Athletic Club at Bay Ridge, by beating the western champions, Nat Emerson of Cincinnati, and Louis H. Waidner of Chicago, in the second round of the national lawn tennis doubles, preliminary. Wright and Little won in straight sets, 7-5, 6-4, 6-3.

Neither western man showed any ability to handle the service of their opponents. Wright's service was especially deadly.

LOVELY WINNER.

VENUS RISES OUT OF SEA TO A VICTORY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] K. R. Bradley's sloop Venus, today won the Arbitrary handicap in the South Coast Yacht Club race in the channel here. A. M. Squires' sloop, Wasp, in the same class, fouled her at the finish and was disqualified. Walter Folsom's sloop, Mischief II, being put second; Commodore R. P. Spalding's yawl, Minerva, was third; Warren D. Woods' sloop, Mischief I, was fourth and Francis Hays' yawl, Arrow, was last.

The race was a magnificent one, over an "L" shaped course which was calculated for a reach, a rest to windward, a spinnaker run and ballooner reach, a total of twelve miles over the four legs. A fourteen-mile breeze drove them on.

The yachts were started on their handicap time with three local cat boats first. These were lost in the shuffle of the big ones. Next over were the Minerva, Wasp, Arrow, Venus, Mischief I and Mischief II. The first leg strung the yachts out in this order, but the Venus gradually drew up. On the beat to windward she closed the gap between her and the Wasp and the Minerva and all three turned the windward mark at practically the same moment. On the run back they kept well together, the Minerva holding her spinnaker until dangerously near the turn and leading. The Arrow, sailing superbly, bowled along next and the Mischief II overhauling her dusky rival, rounded the windward mark at the same moment with her. The Arrow's hauling at this mark was the prettiest of the race.

What was expected to be a ballooner reach into the finish developed, because of a shift northerly of the breeze, into a dead beat to windward. [illegible] gave the advantage to the sloops, which sailed closer to the wind. The Minerva paced but to leeward; the Venus leading the Wasp but a few boat's lengths, held her gain; the Arrow was coming fast, while the Mischief II and her rival were booming along in a cloud of canvas.

The Venus had the Wasp at her rear, both pinched by the end of the long pier, and when within a few boat's lengths of the finish, saw the futility of trying to avoid short tacking. The Venus, with the Wasp on her weather quarter, came about suddenly, and the Wasp paid off, but the Venus took too short a tack. When she turned to the port tack again almost upon the mark, the Wasp came about and forced her to pay off. This brought the Venus between the Wasp and the finish mark.

In the drift to "looard," the Wasp fouled the Venus, who, catching a puff, crossed the line a winner, while the Wasp fouled the stake and was disqualified. Mischief II cracked across the line a fraction of over two minutes later, with the Minerva third in another half-minute. By two-fifths of a second, Mischief I took fourth position from the Arrow. The whole finish of the six southern yachts was accomplished in a fraction of over five minutes, showing remarkable closeness of handicapping.

Tonight, at the Potter Hotel, there was a grand ball in a wind-up of the regatta, and the cups won by the South Coast Yacht Club were presented. Townspeople crowded the ballroom, together with the visitors from the South.

Hosp Loses His Cunning in Two Innings.

Champs Bunch Three Singles for Lone Run.

Johnson Hits Out Homer With Two on Bases.

Portland, 5; Los Angeles, 1.

Too much Johnson was the cause of it yesterday, for this young thing was lucky enough to get two men on bases in the eighth inning and then slapped the ball over the left fence for a home run. This was all that was needed, for the best the Champions could do was to rip one run off Garrett.

Contrary to expectation the contest yesterday was a good one and was played in fast time. It generally happens that following something as strenuous as that Thursday game, the next one will be rotten, but yesterday was an exception, for the game was fast and snappy and was only marred by some queer decisions by the umpire. Delmas and Cooney made some beautiful assists, and Raftery ran in and grabbed a liner to center field that stamped him as a bird.

With the exception of the two hammerings that Hosp received there was nothing sensational about the play, for Thursday's game will make all those this week look calm. The Beavers happened to land on Hosp just at the proper times, and had no trouble in making runs.

Hosp pitched beautiful ball for four innings, but went to the bad in the fifth and was slammed around hard. Johnson was an easy out, and then came Cooney, who hit a triple over first base and easily scored when Danzig drove a double to left. Danzig ran to third on Ryan's hit to right and scored on Whaling's sacrifice fly to left. In the eighth McCredie doubled to left, Raftery singled to center, and then Johnson hit over the left fence for a home run and three easy runs rolled in.

Only two of the Champions reached third base, and one of these scored the only run they made. Nagle fanned, and then Oakes hit to left but was forced at second by Dillon. The big captain scored on successive singles to center by Wheeler and Smith. There was nothing doing in any other inning.

EAGAN'S HOMER WINS.

TAIL ENDERS MOVE UP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With a home-run hit that just skimmed over the left field fence, which is the first time at Recreation Park that a ball has topped the boards in that direction, and the longest drive on record, Truck Eagan won a 3 to 2 game for the Commuters today. It was in the eighth when there weer chances for extra innings, that Eagan took a fall out of the first ball that Skillman pitched. The leather went high in the air over toward Hildebrand, and just when it looked that it might hit the fence and drop back, over it went.

It had been a good game of ball, all the way through, with the Oaks getting more hits off Skillman and smashing the ball harder than the Seals did with Loucks. The Tail Enders, peppered Skillman hard in the second, when three bunched hits, one of them a double, brought in two runs but clever base running assisted the Seals in tieing up the score. After the homer, Skillman was retired in favor of Oscar Jones, but the locals couldn't equal the score.

Mohler planted the first San Francisco run in the opening inning, when he reached first on Houston's error, took second on a sacrifice, third on an out and home on Melchoir's hit to the right field fence.

In the second inning, Nick Williams walked, was sacrificed and stole third, being scored by one of Claude Berry's left field safeties.

The Oaklanders evened up things early in the game. In the second inning, Miller got his first two-bagger of the day, and was scored by Slattery's hit to right.

Anderson's grounder out to Williams advanced Slattery, who scored when Houston hit the ball into center out of reach of the fielders. The score:

CALIFORNIA LEAGUE.

GAMES AT ATHLETIC PARK.

Two games will be played in the California League this afternoon at Athletic Park, on Boyle Heights. The first contest between the Chutes and Athletics will be called at 1:30 o'clock, while the Edisons and Hoegees will cross bats at 3:15 o'clock.

The Hoegees and Edisons are now tied for first place in the percentage column, and the game today should be interesting for that reason.

Lyman, a new pitcher recently signed by Manager Ward of the Edisons, is showing up very strong in the box, and will pitch today for the Edisons. Lyman last Sunday struck out nineteen men in the game against the Athletics, and is probably the strongest twirler in the league.

Haight, second baseman for the Chutes nine, is playing a fine game, and bats well.

The line-up will be as follows:

Chutes.		Athletics.
Walters	pitcher	Greyson
		Ybarrando
Berryman	catcher	Cleveland
Perry	first base	Reiplinger
Allen	second base	Grayon
Haight	third base	Grace

SERGT. WARREN LEADS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Soldiers, representing the six divisions of the United States army, competed at Fort Sheridan today for places on the pistol team which will represent the army at the national shoot. Only preliminary work was done today, but high scores prevailed.

Sergt. Warren G. Dewey, Troop D, Eleventh Cavalry, leads with 529 out of a possible 600. His nearest opponent, Sergt. Thomas H. Coppard, Troop B, Fourteenth Cavalry, was five points lower.

SCOTS WHA' HAE.

CRICKET WEEK STARTS TODAY.

LOS ANGELES "A" TEAM WILL PLAY CLIFTON ELEVEN.

C. P. Hurditch and A. W. Liddell Are the Opposing Captains—The Former Twice Headed the Batting Average for the Champions of the Metropolitan League.

The first of five interstate cricket matches between Southern California teams and the Clifton, Ariz., eleven, is to be played today, on the Vineyard station ground. Wickets will be pitched at 11 o'clock, stumps being drawn at 6 o'clock.

The visitors have put in two strenuous days at the nets, and, as several of their players have shown good form with the bat and ball, keen cricket will mark the opening game between these rival teams.

A. W. Liddell is a particularly stylish "bat," while Thomson, Cuthbert and Wagstaff are each crack trundlers, who will do their utmost to keep the Los Angeles players from hitting boundaries. J. Stirrat, the wicket-keeper, has evidently had the gloves on before, as he was seen to good advantage yesterday. In Forest, the position of point should be in safe hands; while Forbes and Mason, both splendid fielders, will guard long on and long off.

Bowen, late of the Los Angeles Cricket Club, but now of Arizona, is a good bat and an excellent fielder, and at mid on will be seen to some advantage. Neill will probably field at mid off, with Dayer at cover point, while Bennie will be in position at long leg.

C. P. Hurditch will captain the Los Angeles A team today, while P. J. Higgins will captain B team tomorrow. Hurditch is one of the best cricketers in California, and would be an acquisition to any team throughout the cricket world. In 1896 he headed the batting averages of the New Jersey Cricket Club, the Metropolitan League champions, with a percentage of 58; while, in 1904, playing for the Livingston Cricket Club, he again had that distinction, with an average of 55.50.

When the Corinthians of England visited America in 1905, Hurditch made top score for New York, hitting up 68 runs in first-class style. When this brilliant batsman goes in to bat, the spectators are always sure of seeing some sensational play, and the opposing fielders are treated to an immense amount of leather-hunting. Cricket enthusiasts will ever remember the way he punished the Santa Monica bowlers in the late Dudley trophy matches, when he scored 38 and 73 respectively.

These are not the only performances this noted batsman has given, as in a recent match against Santa Monica he hit up 83 runs for the Pilgrims, and scored 56 for Zingaris against the Marylebone team.

For the benefit of the visiting cricketers, the nets at Vineyard ground will be up for practice every afternoon during "cricket week."

CHUGGERS BUSY.

AUTOISTS STOP IN SAN JOSE.

Have Delightful Trip Up San Joaquin Valley.

Speed for Miles Over Miller and Lux Rancho.

Expect to Arrive at Bay City at Noon Today.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rolling on toward San Francisco the Tourist tourers reached San José tonight after a hard 160-mile ride with one more day to reach their turning point. The Los Angeles motorists expect to roll into the Bay City shortly after 12:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The itinerary calls for a fifty-mile run. An hour will be spent at Stanford University. A large contingent of San Francisco autoists will meet the tourists at Palo Alto and escort them into the city and others will join the tour at San José. The Angeleños have accepted the invitation of the directors of the Olympic Club of San Francisco to make their headquarters at the club rooms.

At 5 o'clock this morning the tourists began leaving Fresno. Gaining strength as they swept up the valley, twenty-nine cars tore away for the North. There was a treat in store for the scores of journeyers. The gates of the great Miller and Lux Ranch were thrown open through the courtesy of the superintendent, S. J. Shannon, who acted as pilot. Shannon rode in the press car and took the long string of automobiles over the good roads of the largest rancho in the State.

Along the banks of the San Joaquin River, through hundreds of acres of rich dairy lands, beside numerous canals, the cars sped. It took almost the entire morning to traverse the ranch and the Los Angeles autoists were permitted to pass over a road hitherto forbidden to motorists. This road is to be opened according to Supt. Shannon and a shorter route up the valley will be afforded.

After a stop at Los Banos for the dinner the cars shot away for the Pacheco grade, one of the most trying climbs of the run. The grade proved difficult for several, but all crossed in safety.

A race between an Elmore and the Tourist press car today added to the interest. The Elmore passed the newspaper car on the summit of the Pacheco and led the way to Gilroy. Both cars started evenly from Gilroy and the race over the fine boulevards to San José begun. The Elmore took the lead and kept it for ten miles, Glen Lull driving. The Tourist hung on doggedly and after a stubborn contest passed the Elmore and led the way into San José.

Strenuous Talks
by the "Office Boy"
You would call for the police if any one stole your pocketbook; you'd shoot the man who broke into your house and tried to carry off your silver; you'd risk a bullet to save your watch from a hold-up man. But time, the most valuable thing you possess—your time, the material out of which you make, if you use it properly—thousand watches for a few houses with a rent receipt—you will let any casual acquaintance steal from you in any quantity, at any time, and you'll throw in a cheerful smile to show there's no hard feelings. Your time is your capital stock in trade. It is the only kind of capital that costs you nothing to get and everything to lose. The successful business man hoards minutes as a miser hoards gold. If you waste a day or two now and then you are going to run out of time a little while. The days in which you can do things by all your might are few and far at best. Youth doesn't last forever and you want to make every day count. A loss of two hours a day means, before the end of the year, two whole months crossed off the calendar. While there are quite a few days between now and December 1st, it's going to take every minute of the time to close out our summer goods and make room for fall lines. We'd like about two minutes of your time. We'd like to show you how a high-class store closes out their short lines of unreplaceable goods.

54.	EARL CLARKE, Carpinteria	1,768

ce' Capron of Pasadena swings first place this morning and heads scholarship running for the first forging in front of that wonder- little Marguerite Jones, and the Chi girl as well.

o will win? Which of the three will stand at the top on the last of the contest? or will the Pomona Thomas McKinley, astonish the munity and jump over the trio d of him now? These questions exciting the contestants and their nds, and their relatives, to the re- est degree of consanguinity; the s a matter of speculation to the st strangers who have become in- ted in one or another of the lucky iners.

ice Capron is one of the most eff- t workers ever entered in a Times est, and she is nearer to being ncess Alice" than any outsider is e. This hustling little American l, this up-to-date bicycle girl, who the trail daily here in the great n West can trace her ancestry k to an early date in England, after the Norman conquest, when ries, first Earl of Capron, lived flourished in the land.

anfield Capron, a descendant, ran y as a lad and came to the New rld of Columbus, and he and his led in Attleboro, Mass., where a ron has had his home, since 1660, where stands today the old home- d, in which Alice has an interest. e Alice has been in The Times olarship contest she has had good tune, like every story book princess, and has discovered a relative right here in Los Angeles who is ready to help her win. This relative is Charles Capron Thompson, an attorney, who has written the following letter to the top-liner:

"My Dear Little Cousin: Have you the Capron book? My grandmother was Anna Capron, born in Providence, R. I., descended from Charles, first Earl of Capron, and as there is but one family of Caprons in the world I presume I am right in using the title by which I have addressed you in this letter. Write and tell me about the family tree and perhaps we can get acquainted. Yours truly.

"CHARLES CAPRON THOMPSON."

This new-found relative has been most kind in pushing Alice's cause in the scholarship contest and her chances are good for that first prize piano from the Southern California Music Company, though, "Kismet!" one cannot predict what those other two girls will do.

Santa Barbara may have something to say about those first prizes, for the Santa Barbara contestant, Gladys Hill, is making a steady start for the home stretch. Yesterday she sent in a monster score of nearly 6000 points, including one new annual and five yearly renewals. Gladys came into the contest with the highest recommendation from the associate principal of the Santa Barbara High School, where she graduated last June at the early age of 16 years. She is working for a college course to fit herself for a teacher, for this bright Santa Barbara contestant is a fatherless girl, and must make her own way in the world. If she makes it as well as she is making her way in the contest it will be a glad bright world for the young girl. Gladys is number eleven in the tally this morning, and many patriotic Santa Barbara people will be glad to find her name up higher.

The Gardena girl, Anna May Elliston, sent in a booming score yesterday with one new annual in the bunch, and she is three places higher this morning. Watch for this girl to go shooting up the ladder within the last few weeks, for she has been working quietly ever since the first of the contest and her efforts are beginning to bear fruit. Anna May does not intend to be on the lower rungs when the scholarships are given out, for she is anxious to get a course in a good school of expression and is determined to win.

There is something exciting about the steady way Leon Riesenweber sends in a thousand points every day from Pasadena. Yesterday a new annual, and the day before a new annual, and the day before that 1000 from renewals. The Covina girl, Ida May Benjamin, sent a new annual to increase her standing yesterday, and she is now number thirty-seven instead of forty in the score.

Mae Simmons, as pretty and fresh as an English rose, is another one who believes in new annuals as a means of grace. She registered a gain of 1945 yesterday, with a new annual counting 1000 of the points.

The Soldier Lad, Wallie Swain, had a beautiful time at the meeting of the Stanton W.R.C. yesterday afternoon, when he was introduced by the president and accorded much honor as a lad striving to fit himself for a soldierly career.

Teresa Camp, one of the little Catholic girls, is making a stirring campaign, and many of the Catholic clergy are earnest in her behalf. She rejoiced exceedingly the other day when Father Donahoe of the Lady of Loretta encouraged her with a year's subscription. Father Burke of St. Thomas gave a subscription to The Times for Teresa's benefit, and the paper is to go way across the continent, and way across the Atlantic Ocean to County Cork in Ireland, where Father Burke has a brother, Rev. Father J. Burke of Youghal.

Teresa deserves all the assistance that the good people of any religion can give her, for she is the eldest of nine children having reached the age of 13 years, and like many another native daughter of the Golden West, she longs to share some of the beauty of life, ardently desiring to attain a musical education.

THE PRIZES.

Besides the valuable scholarships for which the young people are working, The Times offers fifteen cash prizes for those making the highest scores next to the top liner, who will receive the prize piano. The cash prizes, totaling $1500, are arranged as follows:

BANQUET OF BOOSTERS.

Waterways Association Will Hold Big Feast This Month to Create Enthusiasm.

Tuesday evening, the 25th inst., will be "Boosters' Night" in Los Angeles. At that time the Municipal Waterways Association will give a big boosting dinner at which the great disciples of progress will be present in force.

The dinner was decided upon yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the association. Mayor Harper was unanimously elected toastmaster on the spot and it was voted to make the affair a hummer if a liberal expenditure of thought and cash can accomplish that end.

It was in the mind of Mayor Harper that the plan originated, but his confreres in the boosting business jumped at the idea and promised to render every assistance in their power to help make the affair a great success.

Though only the general plans have as yet been outlined, it is proposed to have talks by Mayor Harper, Capt. Amos A. Fries, Corps of Engineers, U.S.A.; Joseph H. Call, and other well-known boosters.

"Princess Alice,"
Pasadena girl, who sweeps triumphantly into first place this morning.

FOR SALE—
WHY CRAMP YOURSELF ON A NARROW LOT WHEN I CAN SELL YOU AN ACRE PLOT FOR $325.
Thirty minutes from my office on the new Santa Ana electric line at Somerset station. Terms $10 down and $10 a month. You can raise everything for your table and then some. This is a recent subdivision of the old Bixby ranch, famous for years for its rich soil and remarkable fertility. Everything grows well there. The water flows without pumping. It is free. The market car, loaded there daily, reaches the city markets in 30 minutes on the Santa Ana line. The climate is ideal for poultry. A whole acre of this land is equal to five city lots and yet it costs less than a very undesirable lot in town. The upward tendency of the values makes Somerset Acres especially attractive just now. The land is high, being selected for its healthfulness, the station and power house because of its commanding position and pretty surroundings.

ilies from every parish in Los and from many of the cities use of Los Angeles and Mon- still participate in the annual and picnic to be held Saturday Red Cross. It is expected that 30,000 persons will attend. This has yearly been growing in ance as the greatest annual so- tainment in Catholic circles. The idea annual reunion of this charac- formed by a number of lay- and Bishop Conaty three years ago, each year it has proven a success.

Preparations have been going on un- ly among large committees com- representatives from the va- parishes of Los Angeles for the months, and the programme for the day is extensive, em- all the usual and several un- features. The opening of the day will be in the hands of the city officials. Mayor John E. Hay will present the key of the city to Bishop Conaty, who is to speak briefly on the sig- of the bringing together of the Catholic population of this terri- tory.

Joseph Mesmer, who is president of the Picnic Association this year, will announce the events of the day in their sequence. Among the sports will be several aquatic exhibitions.

The baby show, which will be held early in the afternoon in the Redondo Auditorium, is expected to furnish a considerable amount of amusement. And the entry list will be large. Last year there were nearly forty babies shown, and the judges were hardly able to decide on the winning chil- dren.

An Irish reel will take place during the day, and attractive prizes will be given the woman and man who are successful in securing the verdict of the judges.

A special band will give a concert from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. At the same time various races will be run. They will include the fat men's race, potato race, and jumping and speed events for old and young. Three prizes will be given in each of these.

Special arrangements with the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway and the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway have been completed, and extra cars will be run throughout the day to accommo- date the crowds. E. E. Thomas, presi- dent of the Redondo Chamber of Com- merce, with other members of the same body, will be at the depot to welcome the visitors, and they will act as hosts at a banquet to be given Bishop Conaty, the clergy, and mem- bers of the various committees.

Officers of the day will be Joseph Mesmer, Anthony Schwamm, Charles A. King, P. J. O'Connor, M. F. Bet- kousski, P. J. O'Donnell, Charles H. Coffey, M. G. Gonzales, W. J. Hopkins, E. Tynan, J. W. Carrigan, Stephen Buhr, John Lechner and Patrick Doyle. These officers, members of the clergy and of the press, will be adorned with a unique souvenir badge, consisting of a bar, surmounted by a cross and having a pendant on which will be en- graved the profile of Father Junipero Serra the founder of the Franciscan Missions in California, on one side, and, on the reverse, the famed campanile of the San Gabriel Mission. A button, bearing the picture of Bishop Conaty and the date and place of the picnic, will be given all those who attend.

Before Fabian Dare was to d, while a few examinations med to be passed, his adopted became bitten with a mania for as much as it used to, and he to own a real gentleman's eat. He knew one or two men made fortunes speculating in shares, men who did not know about mining, as he did. for poor old Buckbarrow! He mining reports and values, and ard the word manipulation. He lamb with a long fleece, but it all in the end, those man- Before Fabian Dare had with Oxford, his adopted ded in debt, and the young found himself penniless; so he to Londos to make his for- ven if he could have held on till graduated, the idea of being a ll-starved clergyman had no for him. He determined to e his message through literature. cannot as the greatest annual so- has yearly been growing in 20,000 persons will attend. This he blamed no one. He saw it was a game at which only a few could win, and live off the sweat of the brows of the losers, and that an equal division of everything—no prizes and no penal- ties—would make life even less worth living.

Of course, the idea of suicide had been very repugnant to him at first. 'Tis a cold plunge over the edge of the known, without any guarantee of ex- tinction in the unknown waters below. Perhaps only a change from the dream to the nightmare. Dare's vivid imag- ination could hint at dreadful possi- bilities. He had already experienced the horrors of living in an environment for which he was not fitted, and that seemed the most probable form which punishment would take, if there was anything logical or automatic in the universe. He felt that it was all wonderfully logical, wonderfully automatic, and suicide might call for some auto- matic revenge. The fear of death, not the love of life, keeps, perhaps, as much as half the world alive; but the fear of life had at last come to over- shadow the fear of death in the mind of Fabian Dare.

His left leg was curled under the seat, his right thrust forward to sup- port his elbow, for his chin rested on his half-closed right hand, the knuckles of which concealed his mouth. His gaze was now focussed on the far- away, for he had been sitting a long time in the Square. The fingers of his left hand drummed an irresolute sonata on his other knee.

During all the hour which Dare had spent trying life at the bar of his experience of it, the other man had watched the progress of the trial with the intensity of a surgeon at an im- portant vivisection. He had taken an externals—his Oxford cricket cap and the relics of a good tweed suit to his fragmentary boots. He had watched the young man's gaze rise gradually from those boots to the level of the life thronging by, till it passed beyond that, into regions where it could not be followed. Then the man nodded surgeon gratified by his experience. And at that moment Dare had passed the death sentence on life. In the end the vision of the gaudy, frowsy harmaid which decided him; he realized that something like that was the most he could hope for in the way of wom- anhood, and even in his prosperous days he had been fastidious, demand- ing much of, giving much to, the sex. He remembered a commemoration day at Oxford only a year ago, one of those sweet, sad memories which early spring hoards up to make bearable the winter time of age. Two days of laughter, dancing and boating. A girl with red-gold hair, and blue eyes re- sponsive to every mood of youth. A girl whose title had positively put her beyond his reach, and, therefore, by the very hopelessness of his adoration, added an additional rapture to its pangs, inspiring him to burn incense of poetry at her shrine; and one poem, sadder than the rest, he had sent her, written on the back of his photograph. Perhaps if she heard of his tragic death she would spare him a thought from the fashionable gaiety in which the papers pictured her as moving.

Yes, it must be death. But how? Should he throw himself into the river? Someone might pull him out after he had gone through all the agony. Under a train? Someone might pull him away, or, at any rate, a good deal of him; and he hadn't the price of poison, nor the privacy neces- sary for cutting his throat. Death? Yes! But how to achieve it?

CHURCH RECEPTION.

Bishop Hamilton Guest of Honor and Is Presented With Money to Buy Big Clock.

An exceedingly pleasant reception and presentation in honor of Bishop John W. Hamilton was held in the First Methodist Church last evening by the Methodist Social Union. Bishop Hamilton is on his way from San Francisco to take charge of his new bishopric in Boston and is visiting a few days in Los Angeles.

Addresses were made by Superin- tendent S. A. Thomson of Pasadena; President George F. Bovard of U.S.C., and Dr. A. W. Adkinson, superintend- ent of the Los Angeles district. The latter in his address included the pre- sentation of a draft for $150 on New York, with the request that Bishop Hamilton purchase with it a grand- father's clock for his new home. The money was contributed by the churches of Los Angeles and vicinity.

Bishop Hamilton responded in a pleasing manner and spoke of the in- spiration of Methodism in California, and thanked the donors for the gift. The bishop will preach his farewell sermon tomorrow in the University Church on West Jefferson street.

Following the speaking there was an excellent musical programme, and a reception with refreshments.

EXCITEMENT.

OARSMEN DO GOOD STUNTS.

FIRST DAY OF GREAT REGATTA IS HUGE SUCCESS.

Intermediate Double Sculls Race Is Best Event, With Eight Boats Lined up—One Man in Senior Doubles Gives Out and His Team Mate Wins Race Alone.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) Aug. 14.—The seven races rowed on the Con- necticut, the first day of the national regatta, were all hotly contested. The honors of the day, as far as the clubs were concerned, rested with the Min- nesota Boat Club of St. Paul, which captured the intermediate fours and eights; St. Mary's Athletic Associa- tion of Halifax, N. S., which won the association singles and the senior in- itial fours; the West Philadelphia Boat Club, whose oarsmen finished ahead in the intermediate pairs, and sculls, and the intermediate doubles the Springfield Boat Club, whose pair. Bennett and Warnock, beat their three opposing pairs in the senior dou- ble sculls.

Four pairs started in the senior doubles, the Springfield, New York A. C., St. Alphonsus of Boston, and the St. Louis club. The start was good, and for the first quarter the New York team led by a short length. Then Springfield gained and the two crews spun around the turning buoys on even terms. Two hundred yards from the finish Springfield was leading, but Warnock began to break and Bennett won the race practically alone, by ten feet.

The best event of the day was the intermediate double sculls, eight pairs getting away at the gun. The first half was a pretty contest between West Philadelphia, Nassau and Ro- chelle. Coming home, Philadelphia drew away and crossed the line, row- ing easily, although Nassau and the New York A. C. crews had a hot fight for second place, finally cross- ing the line in the order named.

The river conditions today were matchless, while the weather was warm enough to suit any one. Sum- maries:

The intermediate four-oared sheils was won by the Minnesota Boat Club of St. Paul, Minn.; St. Joseph Asso- ciation Club of Boston, second; time, 9m. 37s.

Association single sculls won by John O'Neil of Halifax, N. S.; Wil- liam Mehrhoff, Nassau Boat Club, New York, second; Alexander Ward- neck, Springfield Boat Club, third.

Senior intermediate four-oared straightaway, won by St. Marys A.A., Halifax, N. S.; Minnesota Boat Club, second; Vesper Boat Club of Phila- delphia, third; New York Athletic Club, fourth; Ravenswood Boat Club, Long Island City, N. Y., fifth; Wan- neta Boat Club, Flushing, N. Y., sixth; time, 9m. 29s.

Intermediate doubles sculls, won by West Philadelphia Boat Club; New Rochelle, N. Y., Rowing Club sec- ond; Nassau Boat Club, New York, third.

Senior double sculls, won by Spring- field Boat Club, New York Athletic Club second, St. Alphonsus Club, Bos- ton, third; time, 9m. 28 1-5s.

Intermediate eight-oared shells, won by Minnesota Boat Club, St. Paul; Detroit Boat Club, second; Rock Si- mon Boat Club, Springfield, Mass., third; Boston A. A., fourth; time, 8m. 42s.

Intermediate pair oar shells, won by Nonpareil Club, New York; West Philadelphia Club, second; time, 10m. 20s.

THE POLITICAL WATCH TOWER

W. H. Wright will take his country delegates to the Con- gress convention on a delightful little outing to Long Beach this morning, where they will be per- mitted to be spec- tators at a charm- ing drama entitled "Putting Up a Candidate." As a campaign manager Wright appears to have Luther Brown lost in the tall grass; the coun- try delegates have indorsed Wright al- most to a man and in so doing have accepted his candidate. The name of James McLachlan will probably be the only one presented to the convention.

Boss Lissner is having troubles of his own since the primaries of Tues- day, without bothering his head over the winning of extra delegates. A score of sub-bosses in the league have risen in open rebellio.. against the Lissner- Rebate rule. They charge that the real issue in the recent primaries was not the railroads, but the Lissner-Earl combination, and that these two were weighed by the people indorsing the league principles and found wanting.

"The majority of the voters in the city appeared to indorse the principles of the league," said one of its repre- sentatives to me last night," but when it came to the election they wouldn't vote for us. We can explain this only on the ground that they would not stand for our managers. They did not like the tactics of Lissner and Earl. I do not believe these two will be per- mitted to have anything to do with the next reform movement started here. We are agreed among ourselves that the league as an organization will never go through another campaign. "If our principles are to live they must be represented by a different class of leaders. If you could go to one of the meetings of the Executive Com- mittee since the election you would think the brimstone pit was not far off.

"I told Lissner tonight that I am through with him; twenty other men high in the councils of the league, have done the same thing. It is large- ly to his pig-headed insolence that we owe our defeat."

One evidence of the internal dissen- sions in the league is the announce- ment that T. B. Leddy will be an in- dependent candidate on the floor of the Republican convention for the Assem- bly from the Seventy-third district. In the beginning, Leddy was a mem- ber of the league, but that body saw fit to indorse De Schweitzer for the place. Schweitzer, who is Lissner's man, was defeated badly in the pri- maries on Tuesday, as he was beaten two years ago in the race for township justice of the peace.

Leddy's friends say the Taft Repub- licans cannot afford to nominate J. P. Transue because he will be defeated by John Toppan, the Democrat who came within a few votes of beating Transue two years ago. They think the convention should compromise on Leddy, who wishes it understood dis- tinctly in announcing his candidacy that he does not represent the Liss- ner Rebate League and that he is not controlled by that organization.

Apparently the Taft Republicans have not yet decided fully on a candi- date from the Seventy-third district, although Transue is the favorite; but when their choice is made it is not likely to be a member of the league.

Robert Wirsching is mentioned among the possibilities for Supervisor in Alexander's district. It is now pretty generally conceded that Uncle George has outlived his usefulness as a county official, but it is not easy to agree upon his successor. Council- man Henry Lyon has more delegates now than any of the other aspirants; he leads Alexander by at least thirty votes. But no one has yet secured a majority in this district.

Apparently the only Supervisoral contest in which the Lissner League figures as a potent factor is that in Patterson's district. There the vote of Pasadena has given the league a number of delegates. The assertion was made repeatedly yesterday that Patterson and Pridham have forty- seven votes each in this district and that the balance of power is held by Parker of Glendale, who is said to control seven delegates. Chairman Moss of the compaign committee of the Republican League, said last night that Patterson has enough votes to in- sure his nomination on the first ballot.

Trickery and secret trading are the features of the post-primary campaign of the Lissner-Rebate League. The discredited bosses have thrown discre- tion to the winds and are making propositions anywhere and every- where, and for almost everything, in the vain hope of picking up a few votes. Their first hope was to defeat Thompson for Senator in the Thirty- fifth District. They appear to have practically given up hope along this line in the last twenty-four hours and they are now devoting their doubtful talents to trading for an Assembly district in Los Angeles city. The lead- ers of the Republican League are fully awake to the tactics of their opponents and they are on the alert to prevent a repetition of tricky practices simi- lar to those of Repeater Mitchell.

Apparently the Democrats have grown weary of fighting among them- selves when there is nothing at stake but an expense bill for the winner. Judging by the offers of compromise that were floating through the air tween the Democratic League and Democratic Club when the convention meets next Thursday. The members of the league have been quite docile since they learned of the disaster that overtook Boss Tveore in the northern primaries. It is now proposed that the two factions divide the offices and the expense of the convention, and next Thursday's gathering promises to be a very tame affair.

COSTLY AUTO RIDE.

Los Angeles Woman Has Dealer Ar- rested When He Charges Her Hundred Dollars.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dis- patch.] One of the most expensive automobile rides on record was brought to light today, when Mrs. Jennie Corruthers, a wealthy Los An- geles woman, testified that she had used her $650 machine but once, and that repairs for that one ride of less than a mile aggregated more than $100.

Mrs. Corruthers charged W. E. Mc- Common, an auto dealer, with larceny as bailee, and with embezzlement. She bought a machine from McCommon, for which she paid $650. She took the car out once and had to leave it on Marion street on account of a break- down.

SINGER STILL LEADS.

TRIMS FREEMAN AGAIN.

Joe Singer added four more points to his lead over Capt. Archie Freeman in their all-around target match at Schuetzen Park yesterday afternoon, by winning the extra revolver event with a score of 197 to 193 out of a possible 250.

The event was contested on the standard American target at fifty yards' distance, each man firing twen- ty-five shots in strings of five. Singer shot a 38-caliber, officer's model Colt, with six-inch barrel, and a .38 Smith & Wesson special cartridge. He had, however, "fined" the front sight down to a size suited to the target.

Freeman used a 32-44 Smith & Wes- son revolver—that is, a 32 bore in a 44 frame, and the 32 Smith & Wesson gallery cartridge. This is loaded with six grains of powder and a round bul- let known as No. 2 buckshot. While it is rather light for such puffs as came frequently up the cañon, and may have lost Freeman the small mar- gin necessary to his victory. He made use of them on account of inability to secure the proper target cartridge.

With his usual contempt for condi- tions affecting such matters as a match for $500 stakes, Freeman threw a few shots into the target and an- nounced himself ready. His first string totaled 35, which Singer raised by four shots. Freeman made 34 on the second string and Singer 45, the latter being the best string made by either man during the day.

Singer now led by 15 points, and Freeman's seconds looked blue; but the captain smilingly tallied 41 to his op- ponent's 39, reducing the lead by two, with a total score of 110 to 123.

On the fourth round Freeman again made 41, but Singer came back with 42, pulling himself up another notch. Score 151 to 165.

With 14 points to the bad, Freeman shot his best string of 42 and Singer of 10 in favor of Freeman for the string, but leaving Singer with four points the best of the event.

This leaves Singer with a lead of 105 points on the match of seven events, of which two have been contested. The remaining events will be shot on dates to be hereafter agreed upon, with mili- tary rifle, military revolvers, shotguns and small caliber rifles. With these weapons Freeman is supposed to ex- cel, but Singer is a dangerous opponent at all times.

The score to date is as follows:

	Schuetzen Rifle.	Revolver.	Total.
Singer	480	197	677
Freeman	379	193	572

DRIVER RULED OFF.

Amateur Reinsman Gets Sentence of Banishment for Pulling a Horse at Oakland Races.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Dan- iel Hoffman, an amateur driver, was ruled off the turf for life today at the Oakland track by the judges officiat- ing at the meeting of the Alameda County Fair Association. The of- fense of Hoffman was the pulling up of Mary K, almost directly under the judges' stand when she was winning from Toppy, and allowing the latter to take the heat and race. The action of Hoffman was observed by all the spectators and many of them sur- rounded the stand, causing a demon- stration. Hoffman hurried off the track when he heard the outburst of disapproval and the officials were prompt in ruling him off.

The race in question was the free- for-all pace, with amateur drivers, silver cups being the prizes. In the first heat Verilhac, driver of Little Dick, was held responsible for Mary K breaking, he having shaken his whip near her. It is claimed that in the next heat some of the drivers Little Dick, and one explanation of the action of Hoffman in pulling up is that he wanted to see Erlin win with Toppy and have Little Dick beaten.

The other events provided fine sport and there was a large attendance. The main feature was the Berkeley stakes for the 2:08 pace. This went to De- liliah. All the heats, however, were closely contested. Summaries:

CHINAMAN ON TRIAL.

Federal Authorities Seek to Deport Chin Chung, Captured Recently at Santa Ana.

Chin Chung, one of seven Chinamen who were arrested at Santa Ana several months ago upon the charge of being illegally in this country, had his examination before United States Commissioner Williams yesterday. It will be concluded this morning.

The other six Mongolians made no resistance to the order of deportation but Chung interposed the plea that he was born in this State and hence could not be sent out of the country.

Several witnesses from Castroville testified that they had known the defendant for several years and that his father had been a merchant in that town.

Immigration officers, however, brought forward strong evidence to the effect that Chin Chung came here from Mexico and that he was born in China.

DEFINES WATER RIGHTS.

Supreme Court Affirms Ruling of the Lower Tribunal, Giving Use of Pipe to Plaintiff.

An important opinion upon the prescriptive rights of a water user, recently handed down by the Supreme Court, has been received in Los Angeles by Deputy Clerk R. L. Dunlap. The court affirms the judgment of the lower tribunal in the irrigation case of A. P. Collins against C. R. Gray, which was in favor of the plaintiff. Collins purchased a ranch in Riverside county, together with a number of shares of stock of the Riverside-Highland Water Co. This stock entitled him to six miners' inches of water upon his thirty-acre grove. The pipe which supplied the water passed through the land of the defendant. To avoid interference, the plaintiff brought suit in the Superior Court and obtained a judgment in his favor.

The Supreme Court states that the plaintiff, by the right of long usage, had run forty inches four days in the month during the irrigating season, instead of taking but six inches at regular intervals throughout the year. Although the evidence did not show he had any title to the pipe line which ran through the land of the defendant, the court finds that his prescriptive right will make him safe from any unfriendly act on the part of the defendant.

The decision apparently indicates that the courts will protect users of irrigation water, where they have enjoyed an interrupted use for a term of years, irrespective of any actual title to pipe vesting in the user.

TERRIFYING.

TRIES TO DRUG GIRL SLEEPER.

Young Miss Awakens When Liquid Hits Face.

Drives Off Intruder After Lively Struggle.

Thinks It Was Man Who's Been Trailing Her.

Awakening in the dead of night to find a man seated at her bedside, gently fanning her nostrils with a rag heavily saturated with chloroform, Miss Sadie Black of No. 217 South Hill street attacked the intruder with such fury that, under the sting of her blows and after only a slight attempt to overpower her, he ran from the house.

The girl's terrifying experience occurred shortly before daylight yesterday morning and within a stone's throw of the Police Station. Her home is directly south of the fire department headquarters, and yet, despite her loud screams for help, no man came to her assistance.

Miss Black is 16 years old, has almost attained her full growth, and is extremely pretty. She came to Los Angeles with her mother, father and sister two years ago. Since that time they have lived here constantly. About a month ago the girl became aware of the fact that she was followed almost daily. Something seemed to warn her that a man was dogging her footsteps.

To glance up hurriedly and see a figure dodge around the corner of the house, or to turn suddenly on the street to see a like form step quickly into some convenient doorway—such was the terrifying experience of the young girl.

Whether the man was actuated by love of the fair little Miss, or whether he hoped to secure rich booty from her home is not known.

A short time ago Charles R. Black, the girl's father, took charge of the apartment house at No. 217 South Hill street. For a time the girl missed the shadow that seemed to haunt her. She looked up from a book she was reading, Monday afternoon, to see a short, swarthy man dart quickly behind a building on the opposite side of the street. It was the man who had been pursuing her. Miss Black said nothing to her family and attended to her household duties, ever on the alert for trouble.

APPREHENSIVE OF HARM.

Thursday night she went to the theater with a young man, returning home at 11 o'clock. Something seemed to warn her that she was in danger, for she moved the mattress from her bed and put it on the floor, just inside the folding doors leading into the parlor. Her parents slept in the next room. Several times the girl's mother called to her, asking her to open the doors between the rooms. Miss Black was reading and replied that the light would keep her mother awake.

She went to sleep about midnight, after having locked the door leading from the hallway into her room.

Two hours later Mrs. Black leaped from her bed, aroused by the wild shrieks of her daughter. Frantic with fear, the mother threw herself against the heavy doors, pulling and clawing at them in her mad haste. The sound of a struggle came from the next room, the sound of scuffling feet and the hard breathing of a man mingling with the girl's wild cries.

Then, as the doors came open, the woman saw her daughter trying vainly to hold a man who fought to free himself and escape. As the mother leaped to the girl's assistance, the man made one last lunge, and, tearing himself free, dashed for safety.

As he ran, he dropped a piece of cloth on the floor. The cloth was found to have been cut from a sheet that had been pinned about an ironing board in the rear hall of the apartment house.

"It was a terrible experience," said Miss Black, yesterday. "This man, I think, has been following me for some time, but had not tried to molest me."

"I went to sleep about midnight Thursday. Suddenly I seemed to be swimming in air. My nostrils tingled and smarted. There was a tingling sensation at my wrists and across my back, and then something splashed on my face.

"I awoke quickly. I felt dizzy and for a moment I couldn't collect my thoughts. The spot of liquid on my face seemed to tingle and burn.

"Then my head seemed to clear. There on a trunk beside me sat this short, swarthy man. He was watching me and held the saturated cloth with which he had been fanning my nostrils. In the other hand he held a small bottle of some liquid. A drop had seeped through the cloth and struck my face and that awakened me.

"When he saw that I was awake he arose softly and put his hat on. I watched him, too frightened to move, until he had almost reached the door. Then my senses seemed to come to me with a rush. I leaped from the bed, screaming for my mother and seized his coat. It seemed an eternity before the folding doors opened and my mother came in. The man broke my hold and ran then, making his escape."

For several minutes the women screamed for help, but no one answered. Then they called up the Police Station and officers were sent to the place. The rag, saturated with chloroform, was turned over to the officers and a description of the man was furnished. A sharp lookout will be kept and if he again comes within sight of the young woman she will promptly call for help and have him arrested.

Miss Sadie Black,

young girl who was awakened to find man attempting to chloroform her and who had terrific struggle with him before he was driven away.

COURT AID ASKED.

RICH MAN SUED; ESTATE BROIL.

GOTHAMITES SEEK ACCOUNTING FROM JOHN JAY NESTELL.

Also Would Recover Title to Property in Avalon and Lots and Hotel Here—Heirs Claim Defendant, Although Executor, Has Deeds Made Out in His Name.

Suit was filed yesterday in the Superior Court by Charles H. Hart, Irene M. Collord and Emma J. Sheridan, all of New York City, to recover title to several valuable parcels of Los Angeles land now said to be in the possession of John Jay Nestell and to have been purchased with money which he received from the estate of Joseph D. Hart of New York City, while acting as executor.

The papers in the case were filed by Attorney Bradner W. Lee, acting in conjunction with Tobin & Tobin of San Francisco. The property the plaintiffs seek to acquire consists of a large amount of real property in Avalon, a lot on South Figueroa street, a lot at Seventh and Main streets and the Hotel Hinman.

According to the complaint, Joseph D. Hart made a will on March 22, 1875, in which, after a few minor bequests had been made, he ordered that the income from his property be turned over to his wife, Mrs. Emma S. Hart, during her lifetime. After her death, the property was to be divided among the children, Charles H. Hart, Irene M. Hart and Emma J. Hart.

Hart died on December 4, 1878, and, in compliance with the terms of the will, his widow, his brother, George W. Hart, and his brother-in-law, John Jay Nestell, qualified as executors.

It is alleged that Mrs. Hart never assumed the duties of executrix and that the two men handled all business matters. It is further alleged that, on the death of George W. Hart, Nestell managed things to suit himself and never made any accounting.

The heirs claim that the property to which they ask title was purchased by Nestell with funds secured from the Hart estate, but that he had the deeds made out in his own name.

Yesterday Attorney Lee was unable to locate Nestell, but he is supposed to be living at Avalon.

SECURE MONEY AND NOTE.

Burglars entered the residence of Mrs. H. E. Varian of No. 213 Schieffelin street yesterday afternoon and ransacked the house. They secured $150 and a promissory note for $300. Mrs. Varian was upstairs at the time and did not discover the theft until after the thieves had departed. A screen was cut and entrance was made through a window at the rear of the house.

REBELLIOUS.

DECLARE WAR ON LIFE MEN.

Holders of Insurance Paper Attack Company.

First Organization of Kind Ever Started.

Counsel Retained to Sue for Premiums Paid.

Prominent citizens of Los Angeles have combined to wage war on a life insurance company that is charged with conducting an "off-color" business.

While war has been declared by the National Life Insurance Underwriters Association upon what is known as "advisory board life insurance contracts," and a majority of the States have passed laws prohibiting the writing of such insurance within their boundaries, California has no law prohibiting this discriminating form of life insurance. But it is the purpose of the delegates to the annual convention of life insurance underwriters, which begins its sessions here next Tuesday, to make a fight to have such laws passed by all States which have neglected to place them upon their statute books.

Such a law, known as the Eshelman anti-rebate law, passed the California Assembly at its last session, but was smothered in the Senate.

The Legislative Committee of the Los Angeles Life Underwriters Association will hold a meeting next week and prepare the draft of another similar act to be indorsed by the national convention and submitted to the next Legislature.

Meanwhile two associations of prominent citizens in Los Angeles and San Francisco have been organized, retaining counsel to take such action as will cause the alleged unsound life insurance companies, which are charged with having victimized thousands of citizens in California, to think twice before using their secret contracts and "advisory board" agreements to mislead those who seek life insurance.

CITIZENS ORGANIZE.

In Los Angeles a strong association has been organized. It includes a number of prominent citizens, who have retained Attorney George W. McDill of the Wilcox building to bring suit against the Capitol Life Insurance Company of Denver, Colo., to recover premiums aggregating over $10,000 in cash and notes, which have been paid, the policy holders assert, under fraudulent misrepresentations. The company has ceased business in California.

So far as known, this is the first time in the history of the life-insurance business that a voluntary association of citizens has joined to attack a company on the ground of fraud, and the outcome will be watched by insurance men and policy holders all over the country with the greatest interest. The National Association of Life Underwriters probably will morally uphold the contestants.

Among those forming this association in Los Angeles are W. H. Obear, a real estate operator; James J. Jeffries, former ring champion of the world, who is quoted as saying in effect that he would like to go to Denver and exercise his knowledge of the Marquis of Queensbury rules without following them precisely; Dr. H. Bert Ellis, Contractor R. G. Mead, Prof. Robert A. Thompson of Polytechnic High School, Dr. L. D. Hollingsworth, J. G. Young of Young's market, and many other citizens of standing, who took life insurance in this company, the policies ranging from $2500 to $20,000.

RESCIND CONTRACTS.

These policy holders have recently notified the Capitol Life Insurance Company that they would not pay the notes given by them to the company under misrepresentation, that they rescind their contracts and demand a return of the cash premiums paid. This rescision of contract is made by the following notice:

"Whereas, said Capitol Life Insurance Company has failed and refused to comply with the insurance laws of the State of California and has thereby and by action of the Insurance Commissioner of the State of California been deprived of its right to do business in the State of California, and has thereby by its own acts placed itself in such a position that it cannot carry out its obligations and agreements; and through the fault of said Capitol Life Insurance Company the consideration to the undersigned under his contract with, and policy in said company has failed; and the undersigned was induced to take out an insurance policy in said company by means of fraudulent misrepresentations of said insurance company or of its agents;

"Therefore, the undersigned hereby rescinds and cancels his said insurance policy or contract of insurance in your company and hereby offers and tenders to return said policy of insurance to you, and hereby notifies you that said policy of insurance is held by him subject to your order, and hereby demands the return to him of all premiums and other moneys paid under said policy, and of any note or notes given by the undersigned for any premium or premiums on said policy."

WHAT HAPPENED.

Many of those who became policy holders in this company assert that they were primarily induced to take life-insurance contracts because the company was allowed to do business in this State on its claim that its capital stock was $250,000. But on December 24, 1907, the company reduced its capital stock to $100,000, transferring the balance to its "surplus" fund. But it was only last June that the company gave up its offices in the O. T. Johnson building, which were in charge of J. L. Bickford, now a resident of Redondo.

President Thomas F. Daly of the Capitol Life Insurance Company, has written a number of letters to policy holders in Los Angeles, explaining the action of the company, and stating that it would again take up business in this State. The company has also offered in some cases to compromise the claims of the policy holders, and to one man, proprietor of one of the big laundries here, offered $50 in full payment for the $500 he has paid to the company.

Dr. Ellis took out insurance to the amount of $10,460, and paid a premium of $460. As the company does business in California no longer, Dr. Ellis is naturally anxious to recover the money paid for his contract. So is Contractor Mead, who took out a policy of $10,000. Prof. Thompson took a policy of $5000, while Mr. Jeffries has a policy of $10,000, for which he is said to have paid over $500 cash in premiums.

DID PRETTY WELL.

Altogether, the claim is made that for the short time the Capitol company was doing business in California, it wrote over $760,000 in policies. Much of this was in Los Angeles, while most of the remainder was in San Francisco.

In the latter city an association similar to that in Los Angeles, has been formed, which has retained Attorney A. B. Harris of that city, who is now in Los Angeles, a guest at the Angelus Hotel, where he is making a special study of the situation from all points of view and preparing to cooperate with Attorney McDill in behalf of the policy holders of both cities.

But while the policy holders of the Capitol Company are the only ones who have had the courage to attack openly an insurance company and demand the return of the premiums paid, it is asserted that there are a number of other foreign insurance companies, some of them based more on the get-rich-quick order than on sound business principles, which should be shut out of the State by proper laws.

It is at these companies that special action will be aimed by the delegates to the annual convention of underwriters in Los Angeles next week, and in all parts of this country and Canada, insurance men are watching for the action of the delegates who are gathering here from all over the continent.

WELSH-AMERICANS MEET.

The regular monthly meeting of the Cambro-American Society was held last evening in Burbank Hall, there being a large and enthusiastic attendance. After the regular business of the lodge had been disposed of, including the reception of Prof. J. J. Lewis, late of Chicago, who is a musician of national fame, there was an excellent programme, as follows: Piano solo, Miss Marguerite Jones; recitation, Lelah Ellis; violin solo, Eddie W. Davies; vocal selection, Miss Ella Powell; recitation, "Dxny Str Sodom a Gomarah," Mrs. D. J. Lewis; basso vocal selections, Prof. J. J. Lewis; addresses, Evan Lewis and J. A. St. D. Williams; vocal solo, David Jones, in Welsh, "Yr. Hen Sindde Fawr" (the old fireplace,) and a vocal selection in Welsh, "Hen Wlad fy Nhadau," by Miss Mary Griffith. Afterward a number of choruses, in both Welsh and English, were sung by and by present, and refreshments were served.

REPEATER MITCHELL TAKEN AT CORONA.

Lincoln-Roosevelt Candidate for Assembly, Who Voted Twice at Primaries, Placed in Custody After He Had Left County.

ROBERT MITCHELL, Lincoln-Roosevelt candidate for Assemblyman in the Seventy-fifth Assembly District, who was detected in the act of "repeating" at the primary election, was arrested at Corona, yesterday, by Constable Ben Cohn. He was brought to Los Angeles last evening and taken into Justice Stephens's court, where bail was fixed at $1000. This was furnished by Clarence M. Taggert and Attorney W. L. Williams. The defendant will appear in the Justice Court this morning for formal arraignment.

Dist.-Atty. Fredericks issued the complaint against Mitchell upon the request of P. W. Hatch, inspector in Precinct No. 27, where Mitchell admitted that he voted twice.

The defendant who violated the purity of election law, upon his own confession, was one of the active league workers in the City Hall precinct, also a candidate for an important State office. He voted at 10 o'clock in the morning of election day and about two hours later walked into the same voting place and again deposited his ballot.

Taft Republicans, on guard against such violation of the law, reported the offense to headquarters. Some time after it had been decided to ask the District Attorney for a criminal complaint, Mitchell returned to the booth and asked to have his name scratched off the precinct register.

To a representative of The Times, Mitchell admitted that he had voted twice but said that it was an inadvertence.

"I discovered my error when I went to check up the voters on my precinct book," said Mitchell, "I called up my attorney, Meyer Lissner, and asked him what I should do about it.

"Lissner advised me to scratch my name off the precinct register and to take one ticket out of the box. I wanted to do that, but the election officers would not permit it. I don't know what else I could do."

The election officers are wondering where Meyer Lissner, boss of the L.-R. League, gets his legal authority for the advice which he gave to his client about scratching names off the precinct register and pulling ballots out of the box and destroying them.

The District Attorney, upon being appealed to, decided that no name could legally be erased from the register, neither could the officers destroy a ballot which had been placed in the box.

Since election, leaders in the L.-R. League have done their best to "square" the matter, but have been unable to do so.

Mitchell will have to stand trial for violation of the purity of election law.

When arrested at Corona, he exhibited no surprise and conversed freely with the officers on the ride to this city. He stated, so they said, that he had voted twice, but that in the excitement of the election, he had forgotten about voting once before.

COURT STEPS IN.

DRINK RUINS CHILD'S HOME

Mother, Former Choir Singer Declared Unfit.

Judge Finds Father Is not Proper Guardian.

Harrowing Tale on Stand of Domestic Disorders.

Little Vivian Russell, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Russell of Venice, was adjudged a ward of the court yesterday afternoon, and Mrs. C. H. Russell was committed to the County Jail by Judge Wilbur after an examination of the parents, which disclosed that both are unfit persons to have the custody of the child.

Russell has been employed by Abbot Kinney as his architect, and at one time was a man of standing in his profession in Los Angeles. Mrs. Russell seven years ago was the chairman of the Visiting Committee of the Los Angeles Associated Charities, and for over three years was a singer in the choir of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Los Angeles. Many persons who knew her well at that time were in court and heard with sorrow the testimony that the woman is unfit to have the care of her child because of intemperance.

Humane Officer Reynolds stated that complaints of neighbors led him to go to the Russell home at Venice last March, and that he found Mrs. Russell was drunk most of the time, that her mother, who lived with her, was also intemperate, and that the child was neglected and suffering. He found, he testified, that Russell's habits also were bad, and he finally induced the parents to place the child in the care of Mrs. Mathews of Ocean Park, Mrs. Russell to take a course of treatment for four weeks.

Reynolds said Russell has never kept his promise to pay for Mrs. Russell's treatment or the care of his daughter.

Officers Steeley and Ingraham of Ocean Park testified that last May they found Mrs. Russell's mother lying drunk on the sand of the beach one evening in her nightdress, and on taking her home they found Mrs. Russell drunk in bed with her sleeping child and two dogs by her side. On July 13 last Mrs. Russell was arrested for fighting on the street with Mrs. Arthur Wilson, a lodger in the house. Both women were intoxicated and both were taken into custody for disturbing the peace.

Officer Roy Allen said that four years ago Russell lived on Figueroa street, Los Angeles, and at that time gave the police much concern by his habit of beating his wife and threatening to kill her. He would play poker all night also, said the officer.

Testimony was given that both parents have been seen drinking together, with the child carrying liquor to them.

Russell denied that his habits are immoral or intemperate, and said that he has supported his wife properly. He denied Allen's statements and when the court decided that his daughter should be placed in the custody of Mrs. Mathews, he promised to pay $20 a month for her care. He also said that his wife drinks to excess, and that he thinks her unbalanced. He said he has supported her, but has not lived with her for two years.

COMMITTED FOR CONTEMPT.

While this testimony was being given, Mrs. Russell was constantly interrupting with excited denials of statements reflecting on her character. She was admonished over and over by the court, and was once committed for contempt; and then the sentence was remitted on her promise to keep quiet. But she could not control herself, and finally burst out again.

"You can send me to jail for the rest of my life, judge," she exclaimed, "but I will say that what these officers say is all a lie, a lie, a lie. I have drunk just five bottles of beer and a gallon of wine in the last six months. I am not intemperate, and I care for the child, but my husband has not supported us."

The court sentenced her to five days in the County Jail for contempt in disregarding his order, and she cried, "Oh, don't, judge, please don't."

Then, turning to her husband, she appealed, "Oh, Clarence, Clarence, they are taking me to jail, and I don't know what for. Clarence, why don't you come to me?"

Russell and the spectators were deeply affected, but the order of the court was carried out.

FIRST WELCOME.

Life Insurance Underwriters Reach Grand Canyon—Special Rehearsal of New Play.

Preparations are practically complete for the entertainment of the delegates to the nineteenth annual convention of the Life Insurance Underwriters of the United States and Canada, which begins its session in Berean Hall, Auditorium building, next Tuesday.

Yesterday a telegram was received by Chairman I. J. Muma, of the Executive Committee, from John W. Whittington, president of the Los Angeles Association of Life Underwriters, telling of the welcome extended at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Hotel El Tovar, on the edge of the Grand Cañon, to the special train load of delegates on their way here, and due Monday noon. He also said the entire party would attend the Belasco theater Monday evening and asked that a large delegation meet the visitors at Riverside Monday morning.

Yesterday there was a rehersal of the special play by James Crawford, entitled "Muttsburg Life Insurance," which will be staged at the Belasco the first time Monday evening. This was witnessed by members of the Executive Commitee, who were so much pleased that they made reservations for 250 seats for the delegates and their friends, besides a number of the boxes for parties.

At the great banquet at the Virginia Hotel in Long Beach next Thursday evening, National President Charles Jerome Edwards of Brooklyn, N. Y., will act as toastmaster and deliver an address. Other speakers announced yesterday will be James D. Phelan, of San Francisco; J. E. Meyers of Minneapolis; Frank G. Tyrrell of Los Angeles, and the new president, who will be elected Thursday afternoon.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Mayor Harper and the Police Commission visited Chavez Ravine yesterday and decided the Los Angeles Brick Company must use reduced powder charges in blasting the hillside, so as to not menace homes.

The Board of Public Works is faced with a dilemma in the grade to be established in improving Hill street.

Justice Selph yesterday dismissed a charge of threats preferred by Mrs. Margaret Van against Mrs. Anna Wentworth, both of Latin station.

Judge Wilbur examined George Rhines, an old probationer, on a charge of breaking his parole.

Maj. W. H. Hughes, of the Salvation Army was appointed guardian of 5-year-old Hattie Goldberg by Judge Wilbur.

MUST REDUCE THE CHARGES.

BRICK COMPANY'S BLASTS IN CHAVEZ RAVINE.

Mayor Harper, Police Commissioners and Councilmen Investigate, Get Chicken Dinner for Their Reward and Fall Into a Net of Feminine Strategy.

Mayor Harper, Police Commissioners Woodill and Lewis and Councilmen Pease and Clampitt made the trip to Chavez Ravine and Victor Heights yesterday at noon to investigate the complaints that the blasting of the Los Angeles Brick Company in the hillside shale was menacing the homes of many people. They visited the brickyard in the ravine, saw the hole where the blasting is done and then rode to the top of the hill, on the south side, to discover if the blasts were as shocking as the complaints represented them.

Four shots were fired at 12 o'clock. The first two caused a tremor such as follows the detonation of a big cannon. The last two were "fizzers" and the complaining neighbors said: "Pooh! Pooh!"

The officials then saw many houses where plaster had been cracked and foundations and retaining walls shattered by the force of the explosions, the owners said. In some cases there was no doubt in the minds of the officials that the shocks had caused damage, but others were in doubt. They have been caused by the natural settling of the houses, the swelling of the ground or the peculiarities of timbering.

The shots fired were supposed to contain one keg of black powder to the charges. The first two were fired in the upper stratum of shale and, while distinctly felt on the hill-top and side, did not appear dangerous. The last two were in softer lower strata and did not cause a jar.

"They have been practicing all morning," said one of the complaining neighbors.

The brickyard people said the morning explosions were small dynamite sticks used to enlarge the drill holes to make chambers for the black powder. It was agreed that explosions such as the company fired yesterday morning would endanger nothing.

"There seems to be no very great difference," said Mayor Harper. "If the brick yard can get along with such blasts there will be no room for complaint. It seems these people have had cause for complaint but they and the company are not so very far apart if the company will use only one keg in each drill hole."

Having made their investigation, the official party was entertained at a fried chicken dinner. This proved to be a piece of feminine strategy of which the Mayor and Councilman Clampitt were the well-fed victims. After courses of old-fashioned soup with hand-made noodles, salad, fried chicken, ice cream and cake, coffee, fruit and nuts, in overwhelming abundance, and fragrant cigars, the Mayor and Councilman Clampitt, who represents the Y. M. C. A. found themselves in the web of diplomacy and got out only by complete surrender.

The dinner was served at Mrs. Melissa L. Walker's pretty bungalow on the hilltop, from the porch of which the officials declared the view of Los Angeles was superb. They glorified Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Raymond, Mrs. Hamaker, Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Peterson, who prepared and served the viands. The entente cordiale was established on an enduring foundation —when Councilman Clampitt dropped his chicken!

"What we want to know," said Mrs. Walker, as she helped the Mayor to some more food, "is when do we get that light you promised us, Mr. Clampitt?"

Clampitt said the chicken was slippery and it fell from his grasp.

"You know we have been expecting the light for home time," said another lady.

Clampitt gripped his chicken grimly and looked appealingly at His Honor.

"Oh! you know you promised it," said the Mayor relentlessly.

Then Clampitt laid down his chicken carefully, and produced documents to prove that the light was ordered by the Council and really ought to be up now. It was a sealed thing, surely.

"And then about the grading of Figueroa street?" said another lady to President Miles Pease's hand collided with the Mayor's and upset His Honor's coffee. The question was addressed to the Mayor and Clampitt, and after some discussion they said, "Yes, ma'am," meekly. And it is so ordered.

"We can never repay you for this magnificent dinner," said the Mayor.

"I have never eaten better chicken in my life," said Clampitt.

"Then don't forget the light and the grading, for we have your promise," said the ladies as the Mayor and Clampitt sought the latter's automobile.

The Police Commission will act on the blasting petition, which asks revocation of the brick company's permit, at its next session. It is likely the commission will effect a compromise by which the company will do its work without annoyance. Mayor Harper and the commissioners will visit the neighborhood on days when they are not expected, to see if the company is using moderate charges.

HILL STREET DILEMMA.

EITHER HORN COSTS MONEY.

At a stormy session of the Board of Public Works yesterday that board was offered both horns of the Hill-street grade dilemma by conflicting property interests. Accordingly, the board took the grade question under advisement until it determines which horn to seize. Either is sharp.

The board intends to improve Hill street from Fort Moore place to Sunder an agreement with Mrs. Mary H. Banning many years ago. Mrs. Banning disputed the original grade, and recovered $2000 damages, which she waived when the board agreed to conform to the grade she wished.

In the meantime the Board of Education acquired property at Hill street and Sunset boulevard, and sold a slope along both streets to C. W. Nicklin, stipulating in the deed that he should not exceed a certain height in building. Yesterday he showed the board that between the deed and the grade to be established he would have practically no frontage on either Hill street or Sunset boulevard. He presented the board with the alternative of following the old grade and paying Mrs. Banning her $2000 damages, or keeping the agreement with her on the new grade and defending a suit by him for $5000 damages.

After two hours of discussion the board took the questions under advisement, and will consult the City Attorney.

LITTLE GIRLS HAVE BATTLE.

SEQUEL TO DISAGREEMENT OF WOMEN OVER CHICKS.

Latin Station Society Attends Court to Hear Airing of Feud Between Keeper of Grocery and "Medicine Manufacturer"—Litigation Transferred to City.

Because Mrs. Anna Wentworth, who has a grocery at Latin Station, some weeks ago sent her daughter to the home of her neighbor, Mrs. Margaret Van, to ask the latter to keep her chickens in her own yard, trouble ensued between the women that involved the children, caused two jury trials in the Watts justice court, and led to an airing of the matter in Justice Selph's court yesterday. Mrs. Wentworth was tried on a charge of having threatened to do bodily injury to Mrs. Van on July 29.

Latin Station society was well represented in court when Mrs. Van, who stated that she is a "medicine manufacturer" by profession, took the stand. She said:

"I was going past Mrs. Wentworth's store door to a lady's house just beyond. As I passed the open door, I heard Mrs. Wentworth say: 'I'll beat her within an inch of her life if I have to pay $25 for it.' We had just come from the trial at Watts and I knew that she meant me. Oh, the way she said 'her' was plain enough for me. I'm afraid of her, and I can't sleep nights, for didn't she come into my yard with a club in her hand and beat my grandchild? Oh, I've heard her sniff around before about me and I know what it means. She's a pretty powerful mean woman when she gets started, and she's fought with many people down there. Yes, indeed, I'm afraid of her, and it's a shame the way she acts."

Unfortunately for Mrs. Van's cause all her witnesses were persons who had not heard the alleged threat. She was very indignant when she found that she could not get judgment against Mrs. Wentworth on her own unsupported word, and began to speak to Deputy District Attorney Hammond in so loud a whisper that the court admonished her.

But when her counsel announced that he rested his case, and Mrs. Wentworth's counsel, to the accompaniment of smiles from Mrs. Wentworth's supporters, moved to dismiss the case and the motion was granted, Mrs. Van spoke right out.

"It's no use to come to court in Los Angeles or Watts either," she exclaimed. "I lost both cases in Watts and now I can't get justice here either."

"If you don't keep quiet," said Justice Selph, "I'll put you in custody. You must remember that you are in a courtroom, not in Watts."

"Mrs. Van told my little girl that it didn't matter much if her chickens did run in my store," said Mrs. Wentworth. "She said I had three of her chickens corralled in my back yard, and when I heard that from my little girl, I made a call on Mrs. Van right away. She said that Mrs. Weinburger had told her, and then I called on Mrs. Weinburger. Then the little girls got to calling my little girls 'chicken thieves,' and my little girl licked her granddaughter. Then she made two charges of disturbing the peace in the Watts court and the juries acquitted me on both. Oh, I'm not afraid of her. We've talked things over together before now."

CHILD'S FEELINGS.

AS IMPORTANT AS RELIGION.

Stating that he will decide later upon the question of the religious education of Hattie Goldberg, 5 years old, grand-daughter of David Goldberg of San Francisco, Judge Wilbur yesterday appointed Maj. W. H. Hughes, of the Salvation Army, guardian of the child, denying the petition of her grandfather, who desired that the child be placed with Mrs. Kahn of San Francisco.

The little girl became an inmate of the Maud B. Booth Home in San Francisco on the death of her father, just before the earthquake. After that event, she was brought to Los Angeles and was taken into the home of Maj. Hughes. Her grandfather states that he and the child's mother are too poor to care for her, but he objected to having her in the custody of the major, for religious reasons. The officer and the child have become greatly attached to each other, and he wants to keep her. Hattie protests against leaving Maj. Hughes and the court decided that her feelings must be considered, as well as the religious question.

SHE ADMITS PERJURY.

WOMAN CAUSES SENSATION.

Mrs. Rose Durbin created a sensation in Judge Wilbur's court, yesterday, when, incensed by the testimony of George Rhines, 60 years old, she stated that she swore falsely some weeks ago that she is his wife.

"I've lived with him nine years to my sorrow," she angrily exclaimed. "I said that he is my husband, but he isn't, and I am sorry I ever met him, he has bothered me so. He came to my San Julian street home and threatened to kill me, and he was drunk and when he did it, too. I am done with him."

"I've been working, Your Honor," said Rhines. "I'll swear to that on my hands and knees and toes and upside down. The whole trouble came about because I got a postal card from her inviting me to call and see her any day after 9 o'clock. I walked down there and she came by with an armful of clothes and she said, 'Hello,' and I said, 'Hello,' and then we got to talking and she raised a row. I haven't been drinking. I drank some coffee and some Jap put dope in it, and I've got rheumatism in my knees besides."

Rhines was recently placed on ten had pleaded guilty to various acts of petty larceny, and the court gave him a chance on condition that he abstained from drink.

Detective Ziegler testified that he found Rhines drunk at San Pedro and Sixth streets soon after and that Rhines was fined in the Police Court. Judge Wilbur remanded the man to jail until September 18, when he may be sent to the penitentiary for breaking his parole. Mrs. Rhines's contradiction of her sworn testimony regarding her relation to the man will then be considered.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

"FELONIOUSLY DRUNK?" A complaint unknown to the statutes was filed in the Long Beach Township Court. It charges Neil Crownover, a painter, with having "feloniously drunk" and was the cause of his release from the County Jail yesterday afternoon by Judge James after a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus. Crownover was sentenced to sixty days and had been in jail since July 27.

GUARDIANSHIP. Mrs. Lucie Lambourn, aunt of Lucille Bedford, 5 years old, was appointed the guardian of the child's person by Judge Wilbur yesterday under $5000 bond. The court announced that he will appoint some trust company guardian of the child's estate, which will be about $125,000, as Mrs. Lambourn has expressed the intention of sharing with her niece the estate of the child's grandmother, Mrs. Susan G. Mitchell, which was left to Mrs. Lambourn, with the exception of $5. Charles Bedford, former husband of Mrs. Mitchell's daughter, who committed suicide in Arizona soon after the divorce, filed a contest of Mrs. Mitchell's will and applied for the guardianship of his daughter, Lucille. This petition was opposed by Mrs. Lambourn on the ground that the father was an unfit person.

EUCALYPTUS GROVE. T. F. Taylor and others yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court against Jacob Stern of Hollywood to recover $1500 damages and $493, alleged due on a purchase of land in the Travelers' Eucalyptus Club subdivision in 1906. They allege that Stern defrauded them by failing to plant the land to eucalyptus trees and that they should recover the money already paid on their contract for the lot. John H. Carr filed a like suit against Stern, asking the repayment of $1022, and $3000 damages.

OVERRULED. Judge James yesterday overruled the demurrer, based on technical grounds, of the Consolidated Bank to the suit instituted by the Attorney-General of the State to place the institution in the hands of a receiver.

JUDGES' VACATIONS. Judge Wilbur held his last session of court yesterday until September 18. He will remain in Los Angeles until after the Republican convention, and will then be in San Gabriel Cañon with the boys of his Sunday-school class from August 24 to September 4, when he will go to Lake Tahoe for one week. Judge Jamison will spend his vacation in Los Angeles, working on cases that have been submitted. He will open court again on September 19, when the term trial jury will report.

BOUND OVER. Alonzo Hill was held to answer to the Superior Court yesterday by Justice Selph on the charge of the theft of $32 from the pocket of H. McCrea on August 5, while the latter was drunk. Hill was committed to the County Jail in default of $1500 bail.

GETS SIX YEARS. Melvin Hughes, 21 years old, who has twice been sent to Whittier on larceny charges, was sentenced to six years in Folsom by Judge Wilbur yesterday. He admitted having burglarized an Alvarado-street house and R. Perez's shop on July 23. He stated that he had been associated with J. Leinen and J. McFarlane, now serving time, in burglaries, and that he once held up a man on West Adams street. The court remarked that he thought Hughes's best chance of becoming a good citizen lay in his serving a term in the penitentiary.

FIGHT FOR ESTATE. As David Jacobs, administrator of the E. Kendall Cutter estate, handed in his resignation, yesterday, Judge Rives appointed Mrs. May Dabney Cutter his successor. She will institute a suit in Washington, D. C., against Cutter's sister, Mrs. Marian Chester, to recover $40,000 worth of real property that is alleged to have been left in trust for Cutter's young daughter, Marian.

DISMISSED. On Deputy Dist.-Atty. Horton's motion, Justice Selph yesterday dismissed a grand larceny charge lodged against E. S. Maloof by J. S. Nicholas.

FELONY. A. Vaughn, a negro convicted of felonious assault on a young negro girl, was sentenced to eight years in Folsom by Judge Jamison yesterday.

BURGLARY. Fred Weston, convicted of burglary in the second degree and recommended to mercy by the jury, was placed on two years' probation by Judge Jamison yesterday. Weston entered a Pasadena store but stole nothing.

APPEAL. Judge Jamison yesterday reversed the decision of the San Jose Township Court in the case of G. T. Scott, convicted of the larceny of goods from the depot at Spadra. The court held that the evidence of an accomplice, R. M. Smith, was not sufficiently corroborated under the statutes.

INJURIES. Mrs. Lydia C. Thompson yesterday filed in the Superior Court a $5530 suit against the Pacific Electric Railroad Company for an injury to the spine, alleged to have been received on August 15, 1907, in a collision on Temple street between a runaway team and a car on which she was a passenger.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday with the County Clerk by the Densair Company, general contracting and engineering, capital stock $50,000, and the American Eucalyptus Company, capital stock $30,000.

TEUTONIC VIEWPOINT.

RAPS ENGLAND, PATS GERMANY.

EDITOR OF "STAATS ZEITUNG" VISITS LOS ANGELES.

Says United States Can Depend on Fatherland in Time of Danger, but That the British Will Knife Us—Considers War With Japan Impossible.

At the Alexandria Hotel yesterday, Herman Ridder, editor of "Staats Zeitung," the New York German newspaper with an international reputation, dictated three "interviews" at the same time to reporters, each differing widely in subject matter. To The Times he said:

"We should study international politics more, and I say not with egotism but as a mere statement of fact, that my paper carries more topics of international moment, written by men trained in the school of international politics, than do the English daily papers. There are a number of new lessons that we must learn, as a nation. One is that Germany is our greatest friend. Great Britain our most jealous enemy.

"The Kaiser is exceedingly friendly to us and in case of war with Japan, (which I say emphatically, in spite of Mr. Hobson, is not even a remote possibility,) the Kaiser would send troops to aid us in the grand struggle; for such a war would instantly become international in complications and would show us clearly just who are our friends and who are our enemies.

"The Kaiser, by his every act, past and present, has shown that he is an earnest, consistent admirer of our country. He goes often out of his way to show his good will. I need but recall that his distinguished ancestor, Frederick the Great, helped us when we needed help, during the Revolution. De Kalb and Steuben came over and fought for us, and Steuben, especially, helped organize a fighting force out of unpromising material. Other noted names could be mentioned but these are sufficient to show that Germany has been our consistent historic friend, especially in times of danger; and as Germany has been loyal, England has been our enemy in the hour of danger.

"We must now, as a world power, acquaint ourselves with the meaning of European diplomacy. I say frankly, as yet we are not up to it. We know the domestic situations well enough, but we must study the European, as well. We must learn to judge a situation hereafter in the broad light of what the world powers are doing. England and Germany are the two opposing powers in Europe; and as Germany is friendly, England is jealous. For example, remember England's treaty with the Japanese. Then, too, Brazil is building three or four battleships. In Brazil, the English influence is dominating, and if those ships go to Japan it will be with England's consent."

In the editor's party are Mrs. Ridder and two sons; Judge E. B. Amend, justice of the Supreme Court of New York; and W. J. Amend, a prominent New York attorney.

IMPATIENT.

TWO SUFFERERS SUMMON DEATH.

VICTIMS OF TUBERCULOSIS GIVE UP HOPELESS FIGHT.

One Young Man Shoots Himself, After Carefully Arranging Business Matters; the Other Shuts Himself up in Closet and Turns on Gas. Inquests Today.

Tired of waging a hopeless fight against tuberculosis, two Los Angeles men ended their lives, yesterday, one by shooting himself in the head, the other by inhaling gas.

R. B. Holmes, 28 years old, of No. 461 Amethyst street killed himself shortly after daybreak while standing near a chicken corral at the rear of his cottage.

He worked in a local department store and was a model employé. Some time ago, he purchased a cottage in the Rosedale court tract on Pasadena avenue, where he lived alone. Recently the disease had developed rapidly and to escape prolonged suffering he decided to hasten the end. He told a neighbor of his intention. Thursday night, he spent several hours in putting his belongings in order. His pocket-book containing $23 was found in a drawer. His bank book showed a considerable amount to his credit.

Early yesterday morning Holmes walked to a clear space near the chicken corral and placing a revolver to his temple, fired.

His neighbor, hearing the shot, ran to the place, only to find the young man dead. The police took charge of his belongings, and the body was removed to the Paul morgue, where an inquest will be held.

George Gheen, 34 years old, of No. 319 Pavilion Place, had suffered with tuberculosis for several years. Months ago he visited to the desert, but returned three days ago and went to his brother's home.

Yesterday morning the brother and his wife went to work, leaving the sick man alone. Gheen dragged his mattress into the pantry where the gas stove was kept and after stopping up the key hole and stuffing rags beneath the door, he turned on all the stop cocks. A neighbor heard his groans shortly after noon and broke into the room. Gheen died before an ambulance arrived. His remains were sent to the Button morgue, where an inquest will be held.

Ore in Alpha Shaft.

rding to advices from the Ely, tions Consolidated has struck grade ore in the Alpha shaft at h of 1150 feet. The ore carries much native copper and is thought to be the same body as was encountered some weeks ago. The shaft is still being put down as rapidly as possible and it is hoped that sufficient water to run the 500-ton concentrator full time will be found at the 1200-foot level. The ore-body just opened was previously located by diamond drills just before the horrible disaster of last winter delayed development work.

Pioche Producing.

The Boston and Pioche Mining Company, among the first to get its property into shape for continuous production, is now stopping from the level of the Pacific tunnel nearly up to the surface, which is 140 feet above the level. There are two stopes in operation between the 200 and the 140-foot levels and also two stopes between the 300 and 400-foot levels. Daily shipments are going forward to the railroad, about a mile and a quarter away, the ore being consigned to Salt Lake City smelters.

Fear New Laws.

Owing to the uncertainty of the future of the mining industry in Mexico, consequent upon the possible adoption of anti-foreign laws, the deal for the purchase of the property of the Compania Miners Victoria y Anexas by an English company, which has been under negotiation for some time at over $10,000,000, has been finally abandoned. The decision of the prospective purchasers was made known at a meeting held in the City of Mexico a few days ago. It is also reported that other transfers have either been abandoned or postponed as a direct result of the general unrest.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

TIME RIPENING FOR A BOOM.

DEMAND FOR CRUDE ALREADY GREATER THAN SUPPLY.

With Reopening of Factories and Mines, Railroad Development and Generally Good Business Conditions, It Is Argued That Higher Prices Must Follow.

That a boom is due in oil new that general business is improving is the opinion of close observers. Oil is about the only thing that escaped depression. Talk anything else to a capitalist and he has looked askance and pleaded lack of funds. But there has been plenty of cash for investment in oil.

Railroads have abandoned or postponed big projects, builders have suspended their great enterprises, stores have failed, but oil has continued to pay dividends. When other industries have curtailed their operations the great oil companies have been pushed to keep up with the demand. Where other concerns have laid off hundreds of employés, the oil operators have hired more. Where other lines have checked their output, the oil men have been bending every energy to produce more and still there is a demand in excess of the supply.

If this be true now, say those who look for the boom, what must happen when factories are reopening and new ones are being established, when those that have run on short time and with small force are making every effort to produce more of their goods and are crying for power, which means more fuel; when railroads are rushed to the limit and run their engines to the utmost to get freight moved, in short when business is "on the mend?"

Every new factory, every additional locomotive, every extension of the trolley, every mine reopened, means greater demand for oil, with higher prices.

THIS YEAR'S PRODUCTION.

The production for 1908 is likely to be in excess of forty million barrels. A very fair approximate estimate follows: Kern River, 12,000,000; Coalinga, 12,000,000 Santa Maria, 8,000,000; Kern West Side, 2,000,000; Los Angeles city, Sherman and vicinity, 2,500,000; Fullerton, 2,000,000; Whittier, 700,000; Newhall and Ventura county, 500,000; all other fields, 100,000; total, 40,700,000 barrels.

Los Angeles and its tributary markets offer lower prices today than almost any other for crude. Whereas rates are $1 up in San Francisco and around the bay, in Los Angeles 80 to 90 cents is frequently the best obtainable. This is due to sharp competition. San Francisco is nearly 200 miles from Coalinga, the nearest field, and only the big companies, Associated, Standard and Union, are able to transport their product in sufficient quantity to be worth reckoning with. Los Angeles has a host of small producers within a radius of twenty-five miles, some of whom have enough to enable them to cut figures on many contracts, which they do not hesitate to do. From those that have not enough from their own wells, middlemen often buy quantities that, when combined, are formidable enough to force lower rates for the consumer.

For the refiners the situation is decidedly different from that of sixteen to eighteen months ago. The price of high gravity petroleum, 28 and up, is soaring. From $1 to $1.30 is demended at the well, which is low when compared with the prospects at a time that at least one establishment has closed for lack of oil to operate with and the demand is daily growing for the manufactured products.

It is this condition that makes the Central's strike of light oil at Whittier most important. It could not have come at a more opportune time.

The only discouraging feature for the refiner is the fight between the Standard and the Union, that is thought to be chiefly responsible for the market prices which, while higher than last year, are too low when compared with that of crude. Engine and stove distillates sell for 6½ and 7½ cents respectively; gasoline for 15. The last is very low compared with the demand.

In Eastern Utah.

Los Angeles capitalists some time ago were offered the chance to handle oil in Uinta county, Utah, just across the Colorado line, and declined after a full investigation. The distance from this section renders the oil of no value locally. Their decision was not due to a lack of confidence in the district, which is being developed by others quite extensively.

Trevitt W. Okey, manager of the Puente Oil Company, investigated and says it should be an excellent field. Oil is 44 gravity, paraffine base, and found at 700 feet or thereabouts. Drilling is the easiest possible and six to ten days will complete a well with the most inferior equipment. One company started on Monday and finished and had its rig ready to drill another on Saturday afternoon following. The formation requires no casing.

The territory, however, is very isolated. From Los Angeles one must go to Salt Lake and then over the Denver and Rio Grande to a little station just across the Colorado line, where it connects with the Uinta railroad, a little narrow gauge built by the Barber asphalt people to tap the gilsonite deposits at Dragon, Uinta county, Utah. Here a team must be taken and a drive for about 100 miles follows up into the mountains. The wells are 6000 feet above sea level and the oil can be piped by gravity right to the railroad.

Knob Hill's New Strike?

The Bakersfield papers publish a story about the Knob Hill at Midway striking high gravity oil at 1275 feet. The story is so much like the former one on the same subject that it must be taken cum grano salis.

The scholars were introduced to their new teachers and the following programme was given: Piano selection, Miss Hilda Werner; solo, Wayne Wentz; piano number, Fred Billings; solo, W. E. PANAMA CANAL LIQUIDATED.

Last Payment to Creditors of Old French Company Made in Paris Yesterday.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PARIS, Aug. 14.—The liquidation of the old Panama Canal Company, which has been going on since 1889, was completed yesterday, when the tribunal of the Seine authorized a last payment to creditors of one per cent., and issued a decree of discharge to the receivers.

In 1878 a concession was obtained from Columbia by the Societe Civile Internationals du Canal Interoceanique for the construction of a canal across the Isthmus. This concession was purchased in 1879 for $2,000,000 by a company headed by Ferinand de Lesseps.

The work of excavating for the canal proceeded on to 1889 when the company went into bankruptcy and disbanded. Great scandals followed the collapse of the company.

Extensions of time for the completion of the canal were guaranteed in the '90's to the liquidators of the company, the last naming October 31, 1910 as the time. A new company was then organized to prosecute the work, but failure to do so resulted in 1903, in a treaty between Colombia and the United States by which the latter country was to cut the canal. The American congress ratified this treaty, but the Colombian congress rejected it. A revolution in Colombia resulted in the Isthmus falling into the hands of the new Republic of Panama, and the Panama government gave the United States the right to do the work. In acquiring the title to the canal property, however, obstacles were thrown in the path of the United States by the bondholders of the old Panama Canal Company, and the stockholders of the new Panama Canal Company endeavored to prevent the transfer.

REPEATER MITCHELL'S ARREST.

Robert Mitchell, candidate for the State Assembly on the Lincoln-Roosevelt League ticket, who confessed to violating the election law by voting twice for himself in Los Angeles on Tuesday, has been arrested, it appears, and the prosecution will not lag.

Mitchell should be prosecuted for idiocy if for nothing else. His excuse for his act is that in voting the second time he forgot that he had voted before. A candidate for the Legislature—and of the Lincoln-Roosevelt superiority brand! What a statesmanlike lawmaker he would be! He is a fair sample of the Lissner-Rebate outfit—and how fortunate for the State it is that exceedingly few of them were nominated for the Assembly, only twelve or thirteen, the State over.

And perhaps if is needless to point to the significance of the fact that the only violation of the purity of elections law alleged in Los Angeles at the primaries was perpetrated and confessed by this shining light of the "purity league," this candidate of the white robes for the job of making reform laws for the great ungodly!

DEAR BEEF.

The range men tell us we shall never have a cheap beefsteak or sirloin roast again. The farmers have cut into the ranges, land has become too valuable to be used for cattle, and the population has become so large that the consumption of meat increases as the supply becomes less.

This is only the history of all countries. Yet old Ireland is almost all given over to grazing, and it pays. Ohio is in the midst of advanced civilization, yet it contrives to be a great sheep State.

As we progress we shall be obliged to raise cattle and sheep so as to alternate grazing with grain raising in order not to exhaust the soil. Irrigation will be extended, giving us larger hay crops. The mountains will be made to sustain more cattle than they do now. Thus in many ways the falling off in beef will not be so great as one might fear. The range men know of no beef not produced at low cost on the ranges, in a careless, half-haphazard way; but stall-fed cattle weigh nearly twice as much as those raised on the range.

But the real relief from a meat scarcity will come from a smaller consumption of meat. It will be better in all ways if the average American has less meat to his daily ration. He will be stronger, in better health, clearer of mind, and will live longer.

There is likely to be less consumption of cereal foods, too, as we progress, and with less bread will go fewer potatoes. Cereals and potatoes are composed largely of starch. They produce adipose tissue rather than muscle, nor are they good as nerve feeders.

An acre of ground will yield as great a weight of cabbage as of potatoes. This vegetable is rich in nitrogen taken from the air and low in phosphates taken from the soil. To be sure, the phosphates are the bone-makers, and if we ate less bread our stature might become less. The English are great meat eaters, bread eaters and potato eaters. They are large of frame. The French and Italians eat less meat, bread and potatoes, but they are wholesome and intellectual.

Fruit is a type of food the use of which is increasing very rapidly, and its effects on the bodies and minds of people are all for the good.

There remains to see which we harvest less of than most nations. Northern Europe, from the Straits of Dover to the limits of Scandinavia, uses enormous quantities of fish. The herring and codfish eaten in the British Isles count by millions. The fish markets of Holland are the wonder of all who visit them. The Japanese use fish as we use meat.

There is a great deal of human nature in a hen. Chickens flourish best on a varied diet. So do men. A ration should not mix things too much, but the more frequently we change our ration the better we thrive.

Let us possess our souls in patience. Though the price of meat should go sky high, the cost of living need not greatly increase. We need not suffer hunger nor become impaired in physical or mental development.

A "PARTY OF THE NAME OF" LISSNER.

[Used here in the plural.]

The Times prints the following remarks with an apology to its readers for offending their ears by reference to a subject so little worthy of our consideration and of their attention.

Nevertheless, we feel that it is due the old-time friends of the paper, who cannot be misled by incidents such as are here referred to, to make a straight talk on the matter to some of their neighbors, newcomers among us, who might be deceived if the light of truth were not turned on.

The disagreeable nature of this task is increased in proportion to lack of standing in the community enjoyed by the assailant, and by the known lack of character of the pretender, and the distrust entertained as to his motives, sincerity and common honesty.

Last Saturday evening, on the eve of the primary election, at a public meeting, The Times and its editor-in-chief were made the object of vindictive assaults by certain people who ordinarily would not be worth one penful of ink. One of these was a murderous braggart, going about under the mask of a reform lawyer, when in fact he does not know law enough to properly draw an indictment. This ranting demagogue is a vomiter of vilification who is often brought here by the personal enemies of The Times and its editor to assail him and the paper under the thin veil of making a reform speech.

The other, "a party of the name of" Lissner, makes his domicile here since he was fortunate enough to raise himself above the necessity of conducting a merchandise emporium under the sign of three brass balls.

Neither The Times nor its editor was in any way an issue in the election of Tuesday. Neither the paper nor the editor was engaged in the campaign in any way except the entirely legitimate one of furnishing the public with accurate and full information as to what was taking place, and in pleading for the upholding of true Republican principles by the Republican party. Neither the paper nor its editor had one single candidate of their own choosing for any office. Lissner's carefully constructed utterance cunningly concealed this fact, and was specially designed to do as much personal harm as possible in a given number of words.

In spite of these well-known facts, this fellow Meyer Lissner felt it to be good politics to lug The Times into the campaign in the hope of gaining a few votes for his hopelessly wrecked cause, if he could make it appear that this journal was actuated by other than an honest interest in the public welfare in opposing him and his small coterie bent on leading the public astray, that they might thereby enjoy the tainted emoluments that come to those who "save the country" and "serve the people." Lissner knows some polities learned at the feet of the bosses when he showed himself skillful in making "figgers" lie as a scribe of the machine. In the speech referred to, so cunningly conceived, he made as many false statements as it is easily possible to pack into as many words.

Compelled by the facts known to all intelligent persons in his audience, he set out with a confession of the importance and acknowledged precedence of The Times as a newspaper, and then proceeded, as usual, to assail the motives of its conductors. (Gen. Otis at the time lay prone upon a bed of sickness, where he still is; but he has not been so sick that he could not direct every political move of the paper in the campaign. His spirit is "on deck" and on duty.)

These vomiters of vituperation, in almost every word they uttered, violated the divine command, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor," by telling vicious, conscious falsehoods about The Times. Unable to answer fair arguments, knowing that the real purpose hidden in their hearts will not bear discovery, they seek to deflect attention by assigning ulterior motives to The Times, unworthy desires on the part of its editor by declaring that he is actuated wholly by hatred and prejudice, and that the paper is never honest and sincere, but always under some malign influence. They know that such innuendoes are without foundation. They know they murder the truth; but even if they realize that the people will not swallow what they say, they still hope, by stirring up a great cloud of dust, to escape with the political swag which they have hidden in their sleeves or in some receptacle beneath the robes of virtue they have stolen to conceal their corrupt designs for their own selfish personal ends. It will be seen that these remarks apply to divers Meyer Lissners.

We candidly confess that too much attention was paid by us to Meyer Lissner in the campaign, and too much is being paid to him now. It is with a sense of shame that The Times and its editor feel constrained to spend ammunition upon men of this type. It is also with a sincere and manly sense of duty to our readers that we apologize to them for using the editorial riata to fetch such creatures from their obscurity. But there are here so many people of comparatively recent citizenship, and who are in entire ignorance of the lack of intelligence and conscience of men like Meyer Lissner, that something is due them in the way of enlightenment.

From such persons all we ask is that they wait, seek information, and learn who Meyer Lissner is. Learn whence he came, what he was, what he does, what are his practices, and what he is, and get some "old-timer" to tell you what this fallen boss has ever done in this community excepting to distress the widow and the orphan. When you have found out any high service he has rendered this community, any act which did not begin, continue and end in selfishness, by all means let the world know it.

Lissner seeks to make much capital out of the large number of newspapers in the State which were with him in his attempt to steal the Republican organization in order to "run the party" and elect his backers to office. If these editors had any ability or influence, and their motives were so pure, how is it that they and he so signally failed in their purposes? Are the members of the Republican party so generally either corrupt or lacking in intelligence that they purposely do wrong, or are blindly led astray?

The Times, almost alone so far as newspapers go, fought this latest fight against humbugs and won because it was right and the people knew it was right, as in all past fights against lawlessness and insurrection, against corrupt corporate influence in politics, and for the free harbor, for good government and for countless other worthy causes.

Long before the interstate commerce law came into being, the editor of The Times repeatedly refused railroad passes and many courtesies offered by corporations, not churlishly, but because he was determined to remain free to criticise them when he saw fit. He never was more absolutely without obligation of any kind to all corporations than today, and never in a position of such complete independence, personally and editorially. The paper is as free to condemn corrupt influences today as ever it was, and indulges that freedom whenever criticism is timely, competent and deserved.

Is it because railroad passes have so much less cash value now, and because they cover so many fewer miles, that so many as the alleged one hundred and sixty journalistic cohorts of Spreckels, Heney, Lissner, Mitchell, et al. join their vague cries against the railroads, not in season but out of season? Or is it the virus of socialism that runs in the blood of many people today, the bald hatred of success by the down-and-outs, that must be looked for to account for the cloud of vindictive witnesses that still rise up to repeat exploded lies against The Times? Let the captains of tens and of hundreds and of hundred-and-sixties, if need be, bear in mind that no matter what the embattled numbers may be in the fight or in any fight on either or both sides, the blows cannot all come from one side.

Let the beaten and vindictive ones reflect upon the criminal folly of their indefensible course. Beware of

Of him who treasures up a wrong."

The attempt of the Lincoln-Roosevelters of Pasadena to foist "Eddie" Hahn of that city upon the county convention, by trade and dicker, as a candidate for Superior judge is the most preposterous thing that boss-ridden organization has tried yet. What are these leaguers thinking of? Do they want to degrade the Superior Bench to the level of a kindergarten? "Eddie" Hahn cannot be elected a judge of this county so long as the county is in its right mind.

THE WRECKER.

PLAIN PEOPLE'S PREROGATIVES.

Zealous and well-intentioned people, who burn to bring about what they may deem great "reforms," must always remember one thing.

The plain people have their rights, in the ordering of their own lives, and they must be protected. This is fundamental. There may be a difference of opinion as to the advisability of this alleged "reform" or that; but the rights of the great number of people who differ from the "reformers"—these must not be forgotten, and they are certain to prevail.

It may be well enough for zealots, who have luxurious homes and wear silk stockings and lay claim to a monopoly of purity, to meet at their banquet boards and give voice to their earnest yearnings to impress their own style of thought and habits of life upon the great mass of the plain people—to decide for them what they shall eat, what they shall drink and wherewith they shall be clothed.

But the plain people, those who have no automobiles in which to take a Sunday spin, those who cannot buy banquet tickets, those who have no cosy libraries and broad verandas—those who must toil steadily six days a week—they have a right to their humble glass of beer and their homely Sunday diversions.

No, gentlemen—you who have so many ways of enjoyment and hours of leisure opened to you by your well-filled purses, who can run down to the beach any afternoon in your own automobiles, who can smoke your Havana cigars on your attractive porches with ice and seltzer water at your elbows—you must not go too far! You must not say to the plain people that they shall not have their own humble pleasures, although they do not accord with your tastes and convictions. You may advocate, but not dictate.

The Times warns the Taft Republican managers to be on their guard against the wiles of the Lincoln-Roosevelt traders and dickerers at the county convention next week. All sorts of tricks like that of Repeater Mitchell will be attempted.

THE CALIFORNIA FARMER.

The country will heartily sympathize with the President's lively interest in the welfare of the American farmer. It may be a truism that Mr. Roosevelt indulges in when he descants on the importance of the farming interest as the basis on which all prosperity in all industries must rest. But it is a kind of truism that, like the Ten Commandments, cannot be too often impressed on our minds.

As the President says, the lot of the American farmer is far better than that of the agrarian class in any other country. It has always been so, and is conspicuously so at the present time. Twelve years ago the farms of the country were nearly all heavily mortgaged, and the fences and outbuildings were generally dilapidated. The mortgages are wiped out, the fences are in repair, and the houses of the farmers and the outbuildings are in a better style than ever known before. Pianos are no rare things in the homes of farmers. They and their families dress in broadcloth and silks, ride in handsome carriages and in automobiles to church on Sunday, and to the play on week-day evenings. They own bank stocks, run their own grain elevators and have fat bank accounts.

Still there is always a height above the highest height, as well as a depth below the lowest depth. Hand in hand with the prosperity of the farmers has gone that of all of us. Enrich the farmers still more and we shall all climb the golden stairs in their good company.

We hope Mr. Roosevelt will send out his commission at once to inquire into the welfare of the farmers. We hope this commission will come to California. We would like to show them the happy lot of the farmers in Riverside, Pomona, Redlands, San Bernardino, through the valley along by Monrovia, Azusa, Glendora, Covina and away to Beaumont; in the fat plains by Anaheim and Santa Ana; up in the bean and beet fields in Ventura and Santa Barbara and down by Santa Monica; in the groves at Rivera, Whittier and Fullerton, and through all Southern California. Then they should go to Fresno, where 150,000,000 pounds of raisins are packed, and to San José, where 150,000,000 pounds of prunes are cured, up in the Sacramento Valley, where cherries, peaches and pears abound. There are some very fine homes occupied by farmers all through this State. Many farmers have good balances to their credit at the banks. The ladies of the households can make a piano speak entertainingly, while the girls from Stanford and Berkeley can talk art and science with the learned men from Washington.

If Mr. Roosevelt will get his commissioners on the road and head them this way, we will send them home next spring well qualified to appear before the Ways and Means Committee when that body gets to work to make the revision of the tariff to be undertaken next March. The commission is likely to learn what the farmers regard as the fountainhead of their prosperity, and to give Congress the keynote to be sounded in tariff revision. And the name of Nelson Dingley, Jr., and William McKinley are likely to become more beloved than ever.

PASADENA.

OFFER PLUM IF BONDS CARRY.

TOURNAMENT ASSOCIATION TO DEED PROPERTY.

Holdings Worth Over Sixty Thousand Dollars Will Be Turned Over to City in Event of Park Improvement Expenditure Receiving Sanction of Voters.

Office of The Times, No. 38 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Aug. 15.—If the city of Pasadena issues bonds for the improvement of Tournament Park, and carries out the proposed improvement of the park, it will become the possessor of the entire property of the association, according to a decision of the latter at its meeting last night. The vote in favor of deeding all the property and holdings of the association was unanimous, 165 proxies and members being represented.

This opens the campaign for the bond issue, which will close on September 24. Systematic endeavor will be directed by officers of the association.

The gift of the property to the city will be of no small importance, for it carries a valuation of $62,000. Of this $48,000, as inscribed in the assets of the city, is for the present park, and the $24,000 valuation is on the fifteen acres adjoining on the south.

The Tournament of Roses Association will celebrate its twentieth anniversary on January 1, and if the park is improved as planned, the event will be remarkable in the history of Pasadena. Since its inception the association has grown with the popularity of its entertainments and floral parades. That it stands practically free of debt, and the possessor of property valued at over $60,000, and with a national reputation for the most original floral parades and dashing chariot races, is a matter of no small consequence. The deeding of this property to the city in order that the people may feel that they have a more personal interest in the pageant is the final conclusion of the twenty years of work.

In deeding the property over to the city the Tournament of Roses Association does so under the stipulation that the bonds are carried and that the city make the proposed improvements already outlined.

LEARN OF LICENSE SYSTEM.

Dr. W. A. Lamb, president, and Miss Helen Mathewson, vice-president of the newly-organized Humane Animal League of Los Angeles, paid a visit to the local Humane Society yesterday to learn the details of the Pasadena-Rochester system of collecting the dog license. They were much impressed with its value and will probably advocate its being taken up in Los Angeles. The system is in brief to arrest the owner of the dog, should he fail to take out a license each year.

WILL FIGHT DIVORCE.

Mrs. Alice Smith, a servant employed on South Lake avenue in this city, has kept the police busy during the past two days investigating claims of being tormented by her husband, who is seeking a divorce. She claims that her life has been threatened, which her husband denies.

It is said that Mrs. Smith and her husband were married rather than let him face the State penitentiary and that he lived with her but one day after the ceremony.

WILL BE WELCOME.

Plans for the reception of the National Underwriters' Association were discussed by the Board of Trade, yesterday, but no definite scheme of entertainment will be announced until after the meeting Monday.

W. R. Sturtivent and L. L. Test, two local men who are working in conjunction with the Los Angeles committee are looking after the interests of the delegates in Pasadena.

"They will come here on Saturday," said Mr. Sturtivent, last night. "The big trip to Mt. Lowe will be taken in the morning and in the afternoon the delegates will return here. Already I have the services of a dozen automobiles promised, and if there are any more public-spirited people who wish to donate the use of their machines for a time I would appreciate any notification to that effect. I hope the Board of Trade will coöperate with us in entertaining the visitors."

FOR FULL EXPRESSION.

President Off of the Board of Trade is anxious that a full representation be made in the postal-card vote on the attitude the board shall take on the water-bond election.

"If the board voted to fight the bond issue, I would feel it my duty, as an officer, to lead the fight; if it indorses the bonds I will do everything in my power to see them carried," was the way he expressed himself last night.

Last night the returns from the canvas showed a favorable ballot of 113 yeas and ten nays. At this rate the bond issue will easily carry.

The work of building is still active, all contractors, carpenters, and masons being busy. During the next month the contract for the erection of the new Masonic Temple, to be built at the northwest corner of Fourth and Thomas streets, will be let, all of the funds having been provided for. Work will be pushed rapidly. The lots, furnishings and building when completed will represent an investment of approximately $30,000, which has all been subscribed by members of the local Masonic fraternity.

AVALON.

AVALON, Aug. 14.—The annual midsummer meeting of the Women's Missionary Society took place yesterday afternoon at the Congregational parsonage and was largely attended by representatives from many localities and from many denominations. Mrs. Williams, mother of Rev. C. W. Williams, pastor of the Avalon Congregational Church, presided and those who took part in the meeting were Mrs. J. C. Worley, missionary in Japan; Miss Frances Freeman, superintendent of the Methodist Chinese Mission in Los Angeles; Mrs. Davies, wife of the pastor of the Vernon Congregational Church in Los Angeles; Mrs. H. G. Brainerd, representing the First Congregational Church of Los Angeles; Mrs. W. C. Whitney and Mrs. J. D. McLean of Avalon.

Already the over-Sunday crowds are gathering and hotels have ceased to make reservations for Saturday night, every room being either occupied or engaged.

Miss Harriet Monroe of Chicago, who has written of the Grand Cañon in various magazines, is at the Metropole, the guest of Mrs. Thomas W. Phillips. Miss Monroe has just returned from a mountain trip with the Sierra Club.

SOLDIERS' HOME, Aug. 14.—While awaiting on the south porch of the dining hall, the call to dinner, Joseph Howard of Home Co. L, who but a minute before appeared in normal health, and was pleasantly conversing with a knot of waiting comrades, fell suddenly to the floor and expired. Death was ascribed to heart failure. Howard, who was a native of Illinois, served during the Civil War in Co. A, Seventieth Illinois Infantry. He was admitted to this branch from Sawtelle in 1905, and was aged 70. He leaves a widow, Nancy A. Howard of Sawtelle, and four children

HIGH UP.

NEGOTIATE FOR FARMAN FLIGHT.

SPLENDID ATTRACTION SOUGHT BY LONG BEACH.

Festival of the Sea Committee Endeavoring to Secure Famous Flying Machine Inventor as Star of Celebration—Contest for Queen Grows in Interest.

LONG BEACH, Aug. 14.—A view of Henri Farman in one of his thrilling and record-breaking aërial flights is among the attractions to be offered the people of Southern California who attend the Long Beach Festival of the Sea, September 1 to 5 inclusive. The committee appointed to provide entertainment for this week of pleasure recognize the absorbing interest in the solution of aërial traffic problems and are doing their best to give them an opportunity to see one of the worlds leaders in this great work. Accordingly they opened up a telegraphic correspondence this morning with Prof. Farman and hope to secure the presence of himself and his airship at Long Beach during the first week in September.

The preliminary work on an immense stage which is to carry the queen's throne and will be the scene of the inaugural ceremony and the varied daily and nightly programmes was commenced today. This structure will stand in the surf and its every effect will be of the sea. Facing it will be a monster grand stand about 350 feet long, capable of accommodating the thousands who are expected to congregate to witness the unique spectacular performance.

At the meeting of the Executive Committee last night favorable reports were received regarding the floats for the five parades. These will be unusually varied and beautiful in design and finish and the parades promise to be among the most attractive ever given in the Southwest.

Another feature decided upon at the meeting last night was a monster band contest to last through the week. An appropriation of about $1000 was made for prizes and the committee feels confident this will suffice to secure the presence of all the best bands in Southern California. Some of the best musicians in the State, who are not connected with the various competing organizations, will be secured for judges and every band entered will be given an equal show for the big prizes.

The queen of the carnival is to be chosen by popular vote, the contest to close Saturday evening, August 22. At present there are four contestants, the vote at 6 o'clock showing Mrs. H. S. Callahan in the lead with 170 votes, Mrs. Frank L. Wood second, 144 votes and Mrs. W. F. Wing, forty eight.

WOMAN HELD HIM.

D. G. Ward, the burglar arrested in Los Angeles yesterday as an escaped prisoner, was the man who was captured in the St. George rooming-house in this city a year ago by Mrs. Fred Whitten, wife of Detective Phillips. Ward, surprised in one of the rooms, had felled the landlord, when Mrs. Phillips, who had apartments in the house, leveled a revolver at him, backing him up to the wall, and, with hands in air, held him at bay until the arrival of her husband, who had been telephoned for.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORK.

The main themes developed at the Sunday-School Convention of the Christian Assembly today were organization and equipment and grading. The principal addresses were made by Dr. E. W. Thornton and F. L. Hiatt. An ovation was given Dr. S. M. Martin, the principal speaker of last year's convention, when he came in just before the close of the morning session. At tomorrow's session superintending and teaching will be discussed.

MAY SAVE EYE.

Young William Schilling, whose eye was shot out by an arrow yesterday shows signs of improvement today and there seems now no danger of the brain having been penetrated. A specialist from Los Angeles is attending the little sufferer and watching for complications. There is a faint hope that the injured eye can yet be saved.

FALL CAUSES CONCUSSION.

For an hour last night Mrs. Emily Kirk, aged 67, suffering from an injured knee and head bruises lay on the floor of her home at No. 537 Elm street, before her condition was discovered. The old lady had three fainting spells, falling to the floor each time. Her condition is regarded as serious, as one of the falls caused concussion.

LONG BEACH NOTES.

W. E. Brown has been appointed to the police force and went on duty today. He is a carpenter, married and 40 years of age. He is appointed under civil-service rules.

An election will be held at West Long Beach tomorrow to select a successor to the late C. A. Lewey, Councilman from the Sixth Ward. Henry Late and Philip Reel are the candidates.

Lee Warren, arrested by the police on a charge of passing worthless checks, has been released for want of prosecution. Warren's father telegraphed him $600, which he used in making good all his bad checks.

TAXPAYERS PROTEST.

Monrovia Property Owners File Complaint Against Manner in Which Highway Is Being Constructed.

MONROVIA, Aug. 14.—Property owners on East Olive avenue have filed a protest with the Street Committee of the City Council against the manner in which Contractor S. M. Sevier is constructing the oiled highway. They assert that specifications are not complied with. The contractor contends that the protestants should have waited until the work was completed before passing judgment. The complainants say the time to make good is while the work is in progress. The matter may be taken into court.

Principal E. E. Knepper has announced that all city schools will open September 14.

LETS CONTRACT.

Thomas Wardall let the contract today for a two-story and basement brick addition, 45x57 feet, to his Myrtle avenue business block, now occupied by Kemp and Culbertson and the Monrovia Building and Investment Company.

K. E. Lawrence, through the agency of Caverly and Heckman, has sold his home on Encinitas avenue to F. W. Brown of Los Angeles, for $2400.

ERASED.

CHISEL HITS RAISE STORM.

REDONDO TRUSTEES' NAMES ARE OBLITERATED.

New Board Orders Record of Predecessors Removed from Cornerstone of City Hall—Majority of Citizens Condemn Action—Curious Incident Causes Criticism.

REDONDO, Aug. 14.—A stone mason, operating under the personal orders of the recently-elected members of the City Council, removed the names of the members of the old Board of Trustees from the corner-stone of the City Hall building this morning. This action is said to be the result of a pledge made by the successful candidates at last April's election. When the corner-stone was originally put in position there was considerable criticism on the part of a certain faction. It was argued that nothing but the date of the building's erection should be put on the stone; that, being a public building, the names of no citizens should be carved on it, whether members of the Board of Trustees or not. On the other hand, those who approved the action of the board in putting the names of its members on the corner-stone of the building, asserted that nothing but petty spite actuated those who were responsible for the criticism.

One of the new members stated today that there was nothing of that sort in the minds of those responsible for the present action, but that having promised to erase the names, they were merely carrying out their word.

This action of the board is being perhaps more widely criticised than the original act of inscribing the names. Many commend it, but the majority condemn it, not because of any desire to have the names remain, but because they denounce the bad taste which they say has inspired the conduct of the Trustees in directing that a public act be done privately. It is contended that the matter should have been brought up in a public way before the Board of Trustees, and that the latter really has no more control over it than any private citizen.

But the names of L. J. Quint, A. B. Ainsworth, A. J. Graham and F. A. Cleveland, are no longer engraved on the corner-stone of the City Hall.

BUYS SCHOOL BONDS.

State Board of Examiners Purchases Duarte Issue—Auxiliary Water Supply Used.

DUARTE, Aug. 14.—School bonds in the amount of $15,000 recently voted by this district to defray the expense of a new grammar school building to replace the one destroyed by fire last May, have been purchased by the State Board of Examiners. The premium paid was $690, or 4.6 per cent.

W. Bacon has been elected secretary of the Duarte Mutual Irrigation Company, vice A. T. Blain, resigned.

DRAWS ON NEW WELL.

For the first time in three years the Duarte Mutual Irrigation Company is drawing upon its auxiliary well supply. But one of the two wells owned by the company will be pumped, and for only three or four days each week. The one now in use was put down four years ago, near the close of the dry era, and has never been thoroughly tested. It is equipped with a seventy-five-horse-power electric motor and a centrifugal pump, and supplies 120 inches. The company's old well, tapping the same subterranean flow of the San Gabriel River near the mouth of the cañon, steadily increased its yield from 40 to 100 inches as the underground feed channels were pumped clean, and it is believed the same conditions will obtain with the new well. The present flow of the San Gabriel is 1820 inches, of which the Duarte district receives 340. Mountain storms late in July increased the river flow 200 inches, otherwise pumping would have begun August 1.

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL.

Leroy Air Power Fame Notifies Ocean Park That He Is Returning from East.

OCEAN PARK, Aug. 14.—Stockholders and directors in the Leroy Air Power Manufacturing Company, are in receipt of information from W. R. Leroy that he has started from the East, and has packed and shipped the wonderful engine. He says it runs beyond all expectations or fondest hopes, and again there is a revival of hopes.

This is the invention that created such a sensation in Los Angeles and along the bay a year ago, when Leroy, the inventor, blossomed out in silk hat and broadcloth and produced documents to show that he had received an offer of $30,000,000 in cash for the stock of the corporation. The sum of $50,000 was said to have been paid by a representative of Carnegie for the option, and as long as this forfeit lasted money flowed more freely than water all along the strand.

But before the day for final payment rolled around the whole business was involved in libel and damage suits, and the mysterious purchaser—one Nealson—failed to put in an appearance. Stockholders, who were counting their prospective wealth in the hundreds of thousands, estimating their stock at $10 per share, were glad to close it out at the original purchase price of one penny per share.

But all is hope once more. Leroy says the engine will run, consuming nothing but air, water and electricity of its own generation. It is expected to arrive here the first week in September.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company (Sunset) makes no complaint on the assessed valuation of its personal property, placed at $24,000, but asks to have its franchise assessment cut from $4600 to $700. The Los Angeles Gas Company asks to have its personal property assessment reduced from $30,000 to $20,000, and the franchise assessment of $15,600 cut to nothing. The Pasadena Home Telephone Company wants its personal property assessed at $2250 and its franchise, assessed at $3600, cut to $1500.

MARCH UP HILL AND THEN DOWN.

SAN PEDRO POLICE FAIL TO EVICT WOMAN.

Spanish Dame Who Claims the Harbor City Manages, With Aid of Wicked-looking Gun, to Keep Officers at Arm's Length When They Try to Dislodge Her.

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 14.—The local police department has had a strenuous day. Yesterday Mrs. Theodosia Eastman of Los Angeles, formerly the wife of José Loreto Sepulveda, one of the Spanish pioneer owners of the Palos Verdes Rancho, arrived here from Los Angeles with her children and household effects and announced that she owned San Pedro, and was here to take possession. She made a futile attempt to locate herself in the Bank of San Pedro building at the corner of Sixth and Beacon streets and was prevented from taking possession of the new City Hall by Marshal Ben Baker.

Later, she entered a vacant cottage on Mesa street and established herself with her children and furniture. This afternoon Marshal Baker led his cohorts up the hill to dislodge the woman and then marched down again. Arriving at the cottage Constable C. T. Carlson threw his massive frame against the front door, but it refused to yield. All the doors and windows had been securely nailed by the old Spanish woman, who imagines she still owns the land over which her husband's sheep and cattle grazed in the years before the "gringos" came. When Carlson and Special Officer Cline attempted to force the door a second time, Mrs. Eastman pointed a wicked looking gun against a front window only a few feet from the officers and announced in broken English that if they again attempted to enter the house they would be killed. Not desiring to harm the woman the officers retired.

Marshal Baker stated this afternoon that he would communicate with relatives of the woman and have her removed by peaceful methods, if possible.

IDENTIFY BODY.

The body of the man found yesterday floating about two miles southeast of Long Beach, was that of J. M. Magill, sixty-two years of age, formerly a resident of Long Beach and a member of the Carpenters' Union of that city. Identification was made today by Dealia Magill, the widow of the deceased, who resides at No. 337 South Flower street, Los Angeles. She was able to identify the body by the watch and clothing. Mrs. Magill stated today that she married Magill about three years ago. He had been missing since the middle of June. A few days before his disappearance he was out of work and very despondent and threatened several times to commit suicide. The Coroner's jury held an inquest and returned a verdict of suicide.

YACHTING HELPS TRADE.

The following communication has been received by the Chamber of Commerce, from H. P. Wood, secretary of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, acknowledging receipt of a loving cup sent to Hawaii, by the yacht Hawaii, the island contestant in the recent trans-Pacific yacht race.

"Upon the arrival of the yacht Hawaii, there was delivered to us a magnificent loving cup, the inscription on which showed that it was a present from the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce. With the cup there was also delivered a magnificent photograph of San Pedro harbor. The cup and picture are accepted by the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce as an evidence of your good will and a desire on the part of the people of San Pedro that the business relations between San Pedro and Honolulu may quickly develop to a point that will warrant regular communication between our ports. The Honolulu Chamber of Commerce assures you of the appreciation of its members of the kindly thought that prompted the gift."

Charles Wilkinson is erecting a $3000 bungalow at the intersection of San Fernando and Cypress streets.

Crown Prince Christian, acting on behalf of King Frederick, yesterday welcomed to Denmark 300 delegates who are now at Copenhagen for the fifteenth International Congress of Orientalists. The leading delegates from each State extended the congratulations of his country to King Frederick and the Danish people.

The Only Breakfast For Little Ones

On summer mornings—Mapl-Flake and fruit. The maximum of nourishment with the minimum of heat.

And how children like it. The maple flavor is so enticing that they'll want it every morning.

Meat is not the food for hot weather. It produces too much heat.

Whole wheat is the ideal food for days like these. No other cereal can begin to take its place.

But it takes 96 hours to prepare wheat rightly. That is the time that we spend on it.

First, we steam-cook the wheat for six hours. Then we cure it for days.

Then each separate berry is flaked so thin that the whole heat of our ovens can reach every atom. Then we toast those thin flakes for 30 minutes in a heat of 400 degrees.

The result is a food that is wholly digestible. The particles are so separated that the digestive juices can get to them.

One can make a flaked wheat one-fourth of this time—a part that but half digests.

The cost of making is less, but half the food value is lost. The part of that which should nourish simply ferments and irritates the stomach lining.

So we spend 96 hours to prepare whole wheat into the shape best for you.

Mapl-Flake

The Food with the Maple Flavor

Another expensive thing that we do is to cook our wheat in pure maple syrup.

But that gives it a flavor which all people like. It leads children to prefer the food that is best for them.

Please order a package of Mapl-Flake now—serve it tomorrow morning. Mix it with fruit, if you have the fruit. Serve it alone if you don't.

Don't go longer without knowing how good a food we have made for you. You will wish you had known it before.

GOOD ROADS CAMPAIGN WELL ON IN SAN BERNARDINO.

Enthusiasts Think the Issue Will be Approved by an Even Greater Majority Than That Obtained in Los Angeles County—Fast Horses Entered.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 14.—The campaign for good roads is now on in this county, and the enthusiasts are confident of carrying the $635,000 bond issue by even a greater majority than Los Angeles county bonds were carried. Thousands of good roads posters are being distributed in every precinct in the county, and literature in abundance mailed to every voter. The opposition which threatened to manifest itself in some quarters of the county last spring, when the bonds were first discussed, seems to have completely disappeared.

MATCH RACE.

A match race for $500 a side has been made between Ruby H., in the C. E. Owens string of this city, and My Pam, owned by J. J. Ortega of Fullerton, but in training at the local race track. The race is to be pulled off on the 22d inst., and it is expected that two or three other races will be arranged for the same day, the events to be pulled off under the auspices of the San Bernardino and Riverside Racing Association. It is possible that a third horse will come into the special race, namely, Velex, owned by C. E. Thomas of Redlands.

Local horsemen are enthusiastic over the showing being made at the recent races by San Bernardino horses. Ambrush, owned by Mr. Strong here, won the 2:00 trot Saturday, while Don Reginaldo of the late F. A. Ramsey string won the three-year-old pace. Lady Josephine, owned by W. T. Russell of this city, took third money in the 2:20 pace. Other horses from here are entered today.

FELONY CASES.

During the two years ended June 30 of this year, the District Attorney's office handled 152 felony cases. Of these, 32 were convicted on trial, 50 pleaded guilty, 18 were acquitted, 51 were dismissed, and 2 are pending. Of the fifty-one dismissed, twenty-six were released outright, while in twenty-five cases the charge was reduced to misdemeanor.

HIS CASTLE IN SPAIN.

William Driscoll, a recent escape from the Patton asylum, has been writing letters to the county officials here inquiring about a large imaginary castle which he thinks is due him, which he says was probated in this county. The officers spent considerable time looking through the records until it suddenly occurred to one of the clerks that the name of William Driscoll was familiar, and his commitment nearly two years ago was found. The asylum was communicated with, and it was learned that he escaped, and his whereabouts unknown. The letter was mailed from San Diego, and an effort will be made to locate him.

BODY NOT RECOVERED.

Remains of Charles Richardson, Drowned at Hueneme Beach, Have not Been Washed up.

OXNARD, Aug. 14.—The body of Charles Kellogg Richardson, the athlete drowned at Hueneme yesterday afternoon, has not been recovered and there seems to be little hope of finding it. All last night his friends paced along the beach at Hueneme lighthouse south for a distance of five miles. Lanterns were placed a mile apart and relays of men stood in boats between the lights, rowing out into the rough surf and dragging for a glimpse of a body. Toothed grappling hooks have been dragged over the bottom of the bay within the radius of the spot where the unfortunate swimmer lost his life. Seines have also been drawn between launches and dragged through the waters of the harbor, but to no avail.

SEA HOLDS ITS VICTIMS.

Two more time residents of Hueneme tell of several cases of drowning at the same wharf in recent years and that never has a body been recovered when lost at the time. Several years ago a body was washed ashore, however, within a mile of the beach on yesterday's fatality occurred. It was never identified. This circumstance lends hope that the tide will wash it the remains of Richardson will where on the sands within the fortnight and the watch will be recovered.

Joseph Holmes of the University of Southern California athletic teams arrived this morning and is one of those to watch for what the tide may bring.

BEACH MANUAL TRAINING.

The grammar school authorities have secured a space in the basement of the local school building in which manual training will be taught. The plan has proved so successful in the High School that it was tried to a slight degree last year in the grammer school, the work being the specialty. The school board has now purchased the necessary tools, and will begin extensive work.

WILL PLAY TENNIS.

There will be a tennis tournament on September 9 between the teams of the Oxnard Country Club and the Pirate Club of Ventura. It is planned to make it an all-day tournament, with three or more matches.

ONTARIO.

ONTARIO, Aug. 14.—The work of installing the National Projectile factory building, for which purpose the A.O.U.W. Hall is being used, is rapidly nearing completion. The machinist, is expected to witness its completion. The first carload of machinery has arrived from Grand Rapids and will be installed as soon as the building is finished.

The Home Telephone Company is extending its system throughout the colony. It expects to have Ontario and Upland connected by tomorrow.

NEW POSTOFFICE SITE CHOSEN.

DEAL OF IMPORTANCE TO SAN DIEGO ACCOMPLISHED.

As Soon as Titles Are Exchanged It Is Expected Contract Will Be Let for New Building—Taft Republicans Easily Lead Leaguers. Good Roads Contest.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Treasury Department at Washington today consummated its plan for acquiring a desirable site for a postoffice and Federal building. It has accepted the bids of A. C. Riordan and Miss Isabel Babcock for block 156, Middletown, and lots E and F, block 44, Newtown, and the northwest corner of F and India streets, for $15,000, and will exchange this property for block 39, which is owned by the War Department. Block 39 has been wanted by the treasury for a long time, but the War Department would not surrender it without an equivalent. Secretary Cortelyou closed the matter today with the War Department, and as soon as titles are exchanged it is expected that a contract will be let for the new building to cost $150,000.

LEAGUERS LEFT.

The official count of returns from the primary election held Tuesday is completed, showing that inside the city of San Diego the Taft Republicans elected 123 2-5 delegates, and the Roosevelt Leaguers 64 2-5, there being a tie among five delegates in one precinct. Outside the city the primaries were under authority of the county committee, and sixty-two are regulars and fifty-four are Leaguers, with fourteen yet to hear from.

FOR GOOD ROADS.

With their hearts set on good road building, A. G. Spalding, the millionaire sporting goods manufacturer, and E. W. Scripps, of Scripps newspaper fame, have entered into a friendly wagering contest as to which is the champion road builder of San Diego county.

Both are members of the County Highway Commission, and also of the Boulevard Commission of the city. The former is superintending the construction of a section of boulevard through Point Loma, while Col. Scripps is bossing the job of building a similar highway to La Jolla. The bet between them is which can build the finest stretch of road for the amount of money appropriated for the purpose.

It is said that no matter which loses, the city will be winner for the reason that each is financially able to go beyond the appropriation from their own private purse in order to secure the kind of boulevard his mind is set on.

Col. D. C. Collier, who is also interested in road building in that section, is said to be willing to referee the contest and to put up something on the side as to the result.

WILL ASK MILLION.

At the mass meeting to be held at the Garrick Theater next Wednesday night in the interest of good roads, it is said a resolution will be presented asking the Supervisors to issue a call for a proposition to vote not less than $1,000,000 bonds in order to carry out the county boulevard system now being prepared by the Highway Commission.

SCHOOLS SHOW GROWTH.

Statistics of the schools prepared by Superintendent MacKinnon show a phenomenal growth, the enrollment figuring 30 per cent. increase within the past three years.

The school census of 1905 shows the number of children between the ages of 5 and 17 to be 2991; in 1906, the number increased to 4390; in 1907 to 5365, and in 1908 to 5622.

In 1908 there are 498 children attending private schools and 742 attending no school whatever. The census also shows that there are 1905 children under 5 years of age in the district, making the entire total 7617.

MUST WAIT.

Secretary Cortelyou of the Treasury Department at Washington has recognized San Diego's request for a revenue cutter to be stationed here by writing Secretary John S. Mills of the Chamber of Commerce, advising him that no action can be taken until the revenue service fleet returns from Bering Sea, where all the spare cutters are patroling the northern waters.

CAPTURE ANDERSON.

The police of Los Angeles have succeeded in capturing J. A. Anderson, who is wanted here for peddling alleged bogus stock securities. A warrant against Anderson was issued at the request of Mrs. Mary Hopkins, who claims she was induced by Anderson to part with $600 in exchange for stock of fictitious value in the Humboldt Brewing Company. Detective Harry Vondenberg went to Los Angeles and brought Anderson here. He has not yet been arraigned.

Sunset Company Must Show Santa Ana Cause Why Franchise Assessment Be not Raised.

SANTA ANA, Aug. 14.—The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, formerly the Sunset, has been cited to appear before the Board of Equalization at 10 o'clock Monday to show cause why the assessment on its franchise should not be raised from $750 to $1000 per mile as it was last year. The company has never taken out a franchise from the city. The Home Company turns in 2 per cent. of its gross earnings to the city treasury on its granted franchise. To equalize the two companies' taxes the City Trustees last year fixed the Home franchise assessment at $500 per mile and the Pacific at $1000. The Pacific brought suit against the city, which matter is still in litigation. City Assessor R. L. Freeman reduced the Pacific assessment to $750 per mile, and the Board of Equalization proposes to return to $1000. The Pacific company has thirty-five miles of poles and wires in this city.

C. B. Tarbell has been cited to appear Monday to show cause why the $2000 assessment on the Tarbell building should not be raised.

ENGINE STARTS FIRE.

Fire, probably started by sparks from a freight engine on the Santa Fé, burned over 150 acres of grass and stubble on the Munger lease four miles south of El Toro yesterday and destroyed between 350 and 400 sacks of barley cut for the thresher. Ranchers turned out and helped get the flames under control. The burned area lies on the O'Neil ranch. The damage amounts to $600.

STILL IN JAIL.

W. M. Puck, the Los Angeles attorney charged with passing a $300 forged check on the First National Bank here on March 31, is still in the County Jail unable to raise $5000 bail for his appearance for trial the last of September. Peck does not relish county grub and has his meals brought in to him from the outside. As yet he has not appeared in the attachment suit begun by the bank against him to recover the $300 and in which attachment papers have been served on O. H. Burbridge, the poultry fancier of Los Angeles, who owes Peck $400.

PLEADS GUILTY.

Silverio Rios, the Mexican boy forger, pleaded guilty in the Superior Court this morning to signing the name of Dr. J. M. Burlew to a $5 check cashed by J. H. McCarthy of San Juan Capistrano, and was sentenced to the Preston Industrial School until his majority, three years hence. The lad also forged a $5 check using the name of Edward Mendelson of San Juan Capistrano.

SIMPLIFIES SITUATION.

District Attorney Retires from Race for Imperial County Superior Court Judgeship.

EL CENTRO, Aug. 14.—The political situation in Imperial county has been simplified, so far as local affairs are concerned, by the withdrawal of Dist.-Atty. J. M. Eshleman as a candidate for Republican nomination for judge of the Superior Court.

Not long ago Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb notified inquirers from Imperial Valley that he should advise Gov. Gillett to include in the call for a general election the selection of a judge for this county, as he held that when the county was organized the appointment of judge was only until the next general election.

Judge Franklin J. Cole, the incumbent, was a candidate for reelection, and the appearance of the District Attorney in the race embarrassed Republicans. Cole is now their only announced candidate. Ex-Judge Farr of Imperial is the candidate of the Democrats, and the Socialists will have a man in the field.

MINING ACTIVITY.

Reports come that there is much activity in the mining district in this county lying along the Colorado River, and that fully 400 men are now employed at the Picacho mines, while a pipe line is being laid to the Hodges mines from the Colorado River.

FOR BETTER SCHOOLS.

This school district is to vote on August 29 on the proposition of issuing $25,000 bonds for the erection of a new grammar school building. The plan of the directors is that when the building is completed the present one will be used for the Union High School, the first term of which will open this fall. Bernard Nichols, a graduate of Stanford University, has been engaged as principal of the new High School.

MAN AND AUTO MIX.

Riverside Resident Sustains Compound Fracture of Right Leg. Railroad Assessments.

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 14.—Samuel Agard, who resides at No. 166 East Sixth street, suffered a compound fracture of the right leg this noon in a collision with an automobile driven by J. T. Jarvis, a local real estate dealer.

McLean Pollock, a well-known young business man and member of the local lodge of Elks, left today for his old home in Washington, Pa., where he will claim as his bride Miss Belle Johnson of that city. The marriage will take place September 2. They will return to Riverside September 15, and will reside at a pretty home which the groom has fitted up at Twelfth and Cedar streets.

RAILROAD ASSESSMENTS.

According to the figures received from the State Board of Equalization, there is a reduction of $20,575 in the railroad assessment in the city. This year's total is $455,800, against $476,375 last year. This makes the total assessment of the city of Riverside $8,687,695, which is $112,175 less than last year. The Salt Lake assessment is raised in both city and county and the assessment of the other railway companies is decreased. Railroad valuations in the county as a whole have been reduced from a total of $4,527,540 last year to $4,225,446 this year, a decrease of $209,094.

The Southern Pacific assessment this year in Riverside county is $1,985,560; Santa Fé, $1,985,202; Salt Lake, $170,004; Southern California Motor Car Company, $128,654, and Pullman Car Company and Tonopah & Tidewater Railway Company, $65,020.

COLTON.

COLTON, Aug. 14.—The old plant of the cement works, known as plant No. 1, will close down September 1, and plant No. 2 will begin operations. The latter has five kilns, while No. 1 has but one; so the output of cement will be much greater than heretofore. All employés of the old plant will be transferred.

Albert Wright has gone to Michigan to visit relatives.

Mrs. S. E. Franklin, one of the oldest local residents, is seriously ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. M. Brown of G street.

DITCHED.

J. E. Strock of this city returned today from Prado with a good story on J. R. Newberry, a Los Angeles wholesale grocer, and an Englishman who accompanied him. Mr. Newberry and his friend dropped into a peach orchard at Prado and were enjoying the luscious fruit when the young son of the owner spied them. Despite his threats they refused to leave the premises. The lad then procured a rifle and began discharging it. The Englishman dropped, thinking himself killed, and Newberry fell head first into a ditch and dared not get out, as the boy fired every time he raised his head.

BIG BADGER BITES DUST.

Newport Woman Kills Brute as It Is About to Attack Child.

NEWPORT, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Yetter, who lives at Newport Heights, yesterday killed a large badger in the yard.

While in the house getting dinner, she heard a child's scream. Hurrying to the door, she found a large badger standing within half a dozen feet of the house.

The animal was about to attack the seven-year-old child of a neighbor. Mrs. Yetter, with the aid of some boys, quickly dispatched the brute.

MORE FREE ONCE MORE.

Banker Collins of Ventura Refuses to Prosecute Son of an Old Friend Now Gone.

VENTURA, Aug. 14.—T. R. More, scion of one of the greatest of the landed proprietors of the old California days, T. Wallace More, who was murdered by settlers on the Sespe Ranch in this county in the seventies, escaped serious trouble in the Justice Court here today. Young More, once worth half a million, was up for alleged forgery, the charge being preferred by Banker J. S. Collins of this city, who, in a complaint, asserted that More obtained from his bank a year ago $350 on a forged draft. The charge was dismissed, Mr. Collins stating that because of favors received from the elder More in the old days, and knowing conditions of the young man as he now does, he did not desire to pursue the matter.

The District Attorney was plainly put out, and bluntly asked Mr. Collins if he was making a collection agency of the State. This the prosecuting witness denied. Then, said the District Attorney, if Mr. Collins and the Bankers' Association had no desire to protect themselves in such cases he could do nothing, as it was useless to go on with the matter, or to insist upon taking the case to a higher court. He left it to Justice Ortega, who stated that he would not consider contempt proceedings and the charge was dismissed.

WON'T BE CANDIDATE.

Col. J. Logan Kennedy, a leading Democrat of this county, and a well known pioneer, refuses to allow his name to be used as a candidate of that party for the Assembly.

The Potway Ranch Company has been incorporated to do a general land and ranch and irrigation business. The capital is $50,000, shares of the value of $100 each. The directors are George S. Barnes, E. E. Barnes, C. M. Richardson and A. C. Richardson of this county, and W. R. H. Weldon of Santa Barbara.

REDLANDS.

REDLANDS, Aug. 14.—At a meeting of the directors of the Redlands Central Railroad Company, this morning, at the office of A. G. Hubbard, Howard E. Huntington, was named as president, Vice A. G. Hubbard, resigned; George C. Ward was chosen as vice-president, in place of J. H. Fisher, who also resigned, and E. T. Cook was selected as secretary and treasurer, Vice F. E. Sanford, secretary, and C. S. McWhorter, treasurer. Two of the board under the old ownership remain, viz: E. S. Graham and F. E. Sanford. Notice was given that on September 15 the principal place of business would be changed from Redlands to Los Angeles.

HONOR THE FAIR.

ARIZONA LADIES CLUB GUESTS.

HASSAYAMPANS ENTERTAIN FAIR TERRITORIAL VISITORS.

Next Week Line of Gaiety to Be "Handed Out" Will Satisfy Most Critical — Barrels of Imported River Water to Be on Tap at the Banquet—Reception Friday.

As a sort of preliminary to the Arizona celebration to be held next week, the members of the Arizona Hassayampa Club of Los Angeles entertained visiting ladies from the Territory with a reception at the Hollenbeck yesterday afternoon.

Arizonans are arriving daily to take part in next week's festivities, and more than 300 guests enjoyed the hospitality of the Hassayampans.

The festivities began at 2 o'clock and continued throughout the afternoon. Refreshments were served and music enlivened the pleasant occasion. John S. Mitchell, vice-president of the Hollenbeck Hotel Company, and high scribe of the Hassayampans, acted as general host, and made everyone feel thoroughly at home.

The preparations for Arizona week are well under way, and when the citizens of the neighboring Territory fall into the hands of their hosts they will be "handed out a line of gayety" that will satisfy the most critical.

The great event of the week will be the banquet to be held at the Hollenbeck on Thursday evening at 9 o'clock. Scribe Mitchell and his assistants promise that it will be a jolly one. Just what the chief features will be is kept a secret, and the only response inquisitive ones can get from Mr. Mitchell is a knowing wink.

Though it is positively announced that the banquet will be held within the walls of the Hollenbeck, yet it is also promised that it will take place upon the banks of the Hassayampa River. Whether the river is to be moved here Mr. Mitchell will not say.

It is promised, however, that there will be at least two full barrels of Hassayampa River water on tap at the banquet. Pursuant to the directions of Scribe Mitchell, the water was bottled on the banks of the famous stream in the presence of a Justice of the Peace, and comes here with its authenticity fully attested.

"No man who imbibes of the water of the Hassayampa can ever leave the country, save a cent or tell the truth again," announced Mr. Mitchell last night in solemn tones. Some of the Arizonans insist that Mr. Mitchell is a living refutation of the statement, however, as he is known to have saved some money.

Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock there will be a reception tendered the Arizonans by the Chamber of Mines in the Germain building, and on Friday the big Arizona picnic will be held at the seaside.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, an had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred-dollar doctor's bill."—[Adv.

WEAK MEN

The Master Specialist
No other physician employs a like method, and so thorough is my work that there need not be the slightest fear of a relapse into the old condition. It is not a question of whether you can be cured, but whether you will be cured. Don't wait until it is too late. My method is perfect and quick. The cure is absolutely certain. I use NO KNIFE, cause no pain, and you need not be detained from your work for one day. I especially solicit those cases where many so-called treatments have failed—or where money has been wasted on electric belts and other appliances. My special treatment cures "WEAKNESS" in men in a very short time. My cures of this disorder are permanent and lasting. No tonics that stimulate temporarily, but thoroughly scientific treatment for the removal of conditions responsible for the functional derangement. "Weakness" is merely a symptom of inflammation or congestion, and under my own original local treatment this gland is promptly reduced to its normal state and complete functional activity is the lasting result.
My Fee for Any Ailment of Men Is Only..... $10 In Any Simple Ailment.
PAY WHEN YOU ARE CURED
Can any reasonable man desire a more fair treatment of my methods than to let me cure him first and to pay the bill when he will?
No man could be fairer than that. I take all the risk. You take none whatever. You have everything to gain and absolutely nothing to lose.
Those in trouble suffering from VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, BLOOD POISON or any other disease tending to destroy and disfigure and to render happiness impossible are urged to call upon me without delay.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Novelties on the market are rare and when they appear, are frequently passed by without a notice of the grocerymen and general buyers. Yesterday there were two new products offered for perhaps the first time in Los Angeles. One of these was the apple cucumber. This vegetable is similar to the lemon and yellow harvest apple in exterior appearance. The pulp is like that of the ordinary cucumber, only much richer in flavor and having none of the bitterness of the pickle vegetable. It is supposed to eliminate all of the dangers coming from the eating of cucumbers.

The other novelty is a fruit, the Japanese persimmon. It might be mistaken for an extremely large Early Harriet, having a perfectly smooth skin and a soft yellowish color. The interior is much like the ordinary cantaloupe, a little more pulpy and a trifle more sweet. They were offered at $1.60 a standard cantaloupe crate, while the apple cucumbers sold at $1.25 a crate.

The egg market was unchanged and firm. Offerings were rare and considerably above the bid prices. Receipts were a trifle larger than the day previous, totaling 152 cases.

Butter arrivals were 19,800 pounds. The only variety placed on sale was creamery firsts, and there was a sluggish demand. On the street, butter moved fairly well.

Cheese receipts were 2215 pounds. Twins and longhorns formed the principal offerings. There were no purchasers.

Potato receipts were higher than usual, totaling 1810 sacks. The latest arrivals on the local market are Oregons, and they are the first arrivals of Burbanks from that State and the prices are reported of excellent size. The price marked on them was $1.50 per cwt., and the demand for them was quite fair.

Only one sack of onions came in. Silverskins dominated in the light trading of that particular vegetable. Bean arrivals were 165 sacks. Pinks were offered, the only offering. Arrivals of sweet potatoes were 20 sacks.

Apple arrivals were heavy and 1262 boxes were reported in by the various railroads. Pears were plentiful. Prices weakened consequently. There was a better feeling in nectarines and fancy fruit ranged as high as $1.50 a lug box. Peaches and plums were unchanged. The first Calimyrna figs to arrive from Fresno reached here yesterday. They were good sellers at $1.25 a box.

Berries fluctuated throughout the day. Strawberries sold as low as 3 cents a box and Logans went as high as 6 cents. Raspberries ranged from 3 to 4 cents, while blacks moved at 4 and 5 a box. Currants have entirely disappeared as have gooseberries. Vegetables were the same.

DULL DAY ON 'CHANGE.

Interest Centers in Oil Stocks—Associated and Union Traders—Much Off-Board Activity.

Stagnant conditions ruled on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. Trading was confined to two oil and three mining stocks. Considerable "off board" activity was reported.

Associated Oil stumped under large offerings. A total of thirty shares changed hands at 30.87½, cash, and the stock closed at 30.75@31.25, off ¼ point and up 1-4, respectively.

Five shares of Union Oil changed hands at 237.50 during the early call. Temporary profit taking swept the price of this issue down after the last call, but with easy money, brokers predict another skyrocket flight for this and other leading oil stocks.

Interest has by no means abated in Central Oil, many traders are said to be loading up with the stock, anticipating the next boom movement. The close yesterday was at 1.00 bid, 1.05, off ¼ point in the holding price.

Amalgamated Oil was the big bid, closing at 65.00, with none in the market.

Of the industrials California Portland Cement received a bid for the first time in several days, closing at 45.00@72.00, much lower in both quotations. Edison preferred was offered down to 81.25 and closed with a bid of 81.00, off ¼ point in the holding price.

Home preferred was wanted at 46.12½, and was held at 47.25, a gain of 1-4 points being apparent in the bid, while the holding price was 3-4 point under Thursday's market. United States Long Distance was quoted at 41.50@45.00, up 3-4 point in the bid.

The bonds and bank stocks were practically unchanged.

There was light trading in Consolidated Mines at 1¼@1 5-8, buyer thirty days; in Johnnie Consolidated at 1 and in Furnace Creek Extension at 2 3-8.

SLUMP IN MINING SHARES.

Combination Fraction, Jumbo and Daisy Among Sufferers on Los Angeles-Nevada Exchange.

Prices were softer on the Los Angeles-Nevada Mining Exchange yesterday, and trading was extremely light. Fluctuations in prices seemed to be the result of manipulation from San Francisco.

Combination Fraction was a sufferer, selling down to between 1.35 and 1.36 during the early call, when 900 shares changed hands. Two hundred shares sold at 1.36, buyer thirty days. The close was weak at 1.34@1.35, a drop of 6 and 7 points, respectively.

Jumbo Extension was the only other important issue handled in the morning. One hundred shares went at 54, a decline of 3 points from the price of Thursday. The afternoon bid was 52.

Daisy sold at 76 on the informal session, and closed at 75@76, off 2 and 3 points, respectively. Ivanhoe Consolidated dropped to 6.50, bid, closing with none offered. Florence was quoted at 2.40@2.50, off 12 and 15 points, respectively.

There was minor trading in Baby Florence at 8 1-4; Consolidated Mines at 1¼; Florence-Lessing and Mininger at 2 5-8@2¾; Johnnie Consolidated at 1, and Blue Bull at 12.

while in lobbing lines orders are mainly for immediate shipment, but numerous orders are received for future delivery. Commission houses place larger orders for next spring in the better crop conditions, despite an increase in the cotton crop, partly of long fashioned, mostly short staple. Orders are about to begin and the railroads are preparing for a heavy movement. Outside of cotton goods, trade is reasonably quiet. Reports at Cincinnati, but traveling men in fair, orders for dry goods and clothing manufacturers report a good business in August and the same time last year. Trade at Portland, Or., is quiet, but there is confidence in future business.

Bradstreet's Review.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: Trade is of fair volume, but shows no marking further progress, being hindered by rains, and by the fact that crop conditions do not permit of much improvement. Reports from the interior of the country agree that buyers are cautious, particularly in regard to placing orders for dry goods, but conservatism and conservatism appear to be the keynote of the situation. Orders are not expected to be placed in any volume before the first or second week in September. Reports are as favorable as for some weeks past, but there is no material change to call for special comment. Collections are fairly satisfactory, but are not as prompt as they were a few weeks ago. Failures for the week ending August 13 were 219 in the United States, against 201 last year, and 23 in Canada, against 20 last year.

New York Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—There was a fair business in the market today, but prices were irregular. Lead was dull at $4.15@4.20. Spelter was quiet at $4.05@4.07½. Spelter closed steady at $4.05@4.07½. Copper was quiet and unchanged.

New York General Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—In a general way more and higher are the order and rate news from the Northwest, and the most encouraging feature recently is the steady demand for future delivery. Jobbers report a larger business than for some weeks past, and the volume of business is expected to be fully as large as for the corresponding month last year. Outside of Chicago, trade is reported quiet, but traveling men in the whole country report a good business, and there is confidence in future business.

BULLISH ENTHUSIASM REIGNS IN CHICAGO PIT.

Strength from Northwestern Grain Centers Additional Incentive to Buying, and Closing Quotations Are Almost at Top—Oats and Corn Weak.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—After experiencing a slight drop at the start owing to selling brought out by the failure of the Liverpool wheat market to respond to the advaice here yesterday, the local market rallied and continued firm the remainder of the session. The upturn was due to reports that rains were general last night throughout the Dakotas, which will, it is said, greatly interfere with harvesting. Active buying by a leading bull, whose purchases yesterday were largely the cause of the advance, added fresh vigor to bullish enthusiasm during the last hour of trading and caused lively covering by shorts. Strength from the northwestern grain centers, said to have been due to an active milling demand for cash wheat, was an additional incentive to buyers here. The market closed strong, with prices almost at the top. September opened ¼ to ⅝ lower at 92⅞@93, advanced to 94¼ and closed at 94@94⅛.

Corn closed weak. September opened ⅛ lower at 77⅛, advanced to 77⅜ and closed at 76⅞@77.

Oats were weak. September closed at 47.

New York Cotton Market.

[By Private Wire to E. F. Hutton & Co., Bankers and Brokers, Members New York Stock Exchange, No 112 West Third street.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—On cables better than the trade looked for, the local market opened steady, 4 to 6 points in advance. The trade was rather light, with the sentiment very bearish. The chief news of the day was an advance of 50 points in the August option. As this is a one man's month, we advise no trade in it on either side.

The spot market shows some resistance around these prices, and the South is not freely as when the market was some 50 points higher for new crop.

Weather conditions are not so favorable. The long interest has been reduced to a low point, but the short interest is very large. We believe purchases on all soft spots around 9 cents for new crop look safe.

The New York Commercial says: "There was nothing to indicate that Livermore was making any effort in the market yesterday. He is supposed still to be long of August, and August remains very strong. There are some bad reports from different sections of the belt, but in the main the crop reports continue very good, and the most active bears are claiming that the crop will be the largest ever grown. The good crop reports are a very old song now, but the market is in a position that would make it respond very readily to any bad crop news."

Allwood, Violet & Co. say: "In the main, traders were inclined to take a rest today; hence trading was comparatively light. The talent, no doubt, were pretty well evened up on yesterday and are now trying to solve the problem of how things stand and who has the long and short of it. Some belated August shorts, however, found it hard to buy that option, and there may be sky-rockets in it during the next few days."

H. S. & Co. say: "The arguments look at the moment to favor a further decline, but we repeat our caution against over-confidence on the short side, as spinners are liable to come into the market on any break of consequence."

J. S. Bache & Co. say: "The argument that farmers will not sell on the basis of present New York prices still holds good. Yesterday morning would not be improbable, after a decline of 24 a 34 sale."

FINANCIAL SITUATION IN LOS ANGELES TODAY.

BY J. A. GRAVES.

The panic of 1907, is already a thing of the past. Confidence has been restored, business is normal, and good feeling prevails. Old stocks of merchandise have been pretty well cleaned up, and I predict that the merchants will shortly be tumbling over themselves in buying new stocks. Our citrus crops have been marketed at a fair profit. The price of hay and grain is such that the producers are realizing about as much money as they would have done, had the crop been heavier, and the price less. The heaviest walnut crop ever grown in Southern California will soon be harvested. Real estate is fairly active. Owners who are out of debt view the situation with much satisfaction. A few speculators, operating on too thin a margin, find the shoe pinching. Building operations surpass the expectations of the most sanguine. The beach resorts are all well patronized, yet the streets of this city are daily crowded with people.

Money is fairly plentiful, and I have not heard of a single business man, with proper credit, or collateral, who has not been accommodated for all reasonable demands. Speculators, pure and simple, have not fared as well. Our summer tourist trade has been larger than ever, as every hotel proprietor and transfer man in this city will testify.

To sum up the situation, there is plenty of money here for all legitimate purposes. Los Angeles has all the time been, and still is, on the up-grade, and in my opinion next winter will see better trade conditions with us than in any city on the coast. I also predict the largest influx of wealthy new residents, in the next six months, than we have ever had in the same length of time.

The nerve of our people in undertaking and successfully carrying on the Owens River water development, and in voting to build four hundred miles of modern roads, in the face of the panic of 1907 has attracted the attention of the people of the world to us.

The majority which this county will give for Taft and good government in the November election, will also be a heavy bid for a larger population.

THE SEA AND ITS SERMONS.

Terse Comments on the Uniform Prayer-meeting Topic of the Young People's Societies—Christian Endeavor, Baptist Young People's Union, Epworth League, etc.—for August 31: "Lessons From the Sea."—[Ps. cvii, 23-32.

By William T. Ellis.

woman from the city tenements beholding the ocean for the first e. After a moment's gazing her ment was "There! I'm glad to see ething at last that there's enough That was her characteristic trib- to the immensity of the sea. Like mercy of the Lord, to which it ften likened, the ocean is limitless; has never been able to tell its ndaries or measure its depth. The atness of "the vast deep" is the first ression which it makes upon the older. Here is the finest symbol of nity. Immeasureable, unfathom- mysterious, all-embracing, suffi- t, it typifies the life eternal; bear- on its bosom the small craft and great ships, meeting the needs of and yet adequate for all. All the ersity of that realm where every- finds the fulfillment of his loftiest itions is expressed by the beauti- changeful, sympathetic, life-giv- expanse of great waters.

he greatness of God's inanimate ations is a summons to greater atness on the part of his sons.

od works in the superlative de- e. There is nothing to which we y liken the sunset or the sea. All poets and painters have tried to ict the inexpressible ocean; but y cannot equal God's handiwork. en the casual visitor to old ocean seen beauties in it which the most mpathetic pens and brushes have er caught. So always God's works best. Sometimes we think that can improve on His plans, and bet- His ways. Fuller knowledge re- als that He not only "doeth all ngs well," but also that there is no er possible way equal to His way. e sea preaches the sermon of God's periativeness.

Like life, the sea wears away all arp edges. There are no jagged cor- s on seashore pebbles or rocks; en a piece of glass quickly loses its eanness when subjected to the roll- s and rubbings of the ever-moving d of the beach. Thus the attrition experience, the daily-recurring grind life, take away the sharp edges m a character and round it into oothness and beauty. The most mfortable people to get along with a those who have lived most.

Great whales and tiny fishes alike ke their home in the sea; even as re is room in the all-enfolding love God for the least as well as for the atest.

Like religion, the sea both separates d unites the nations of the earth.

Fluid, soft, yielding, water would em to be the weakest of elements. hose has wrestled with the breakers the sea on a steep beach in a storm ows the pounding irresistible power this same water. Bathers who have ed a rough surf understand the ling of utter impotence which a rson experiences when he is picked and tossed and rolled about help- ly by the mighty waves. Of all the ercible experiences of nature of which have personal knowledge (with the ssible exception of that of standing the vibrating edge of a roaring fiery ysano,) I know none to equal the rfulness of the aroused ocean. That ight and majesty incarnate. Some ple have a fair-weather conception of od's love; they regard it as a flaccid, xible, favoring quality, "as weak as ater." The erroneousness of this ould be patent. The Infinite, like the n, is not fully known until He is en in His strength and power and rfulness. God has force to wield, well as favor to bestow. His jus- e is as divine an attribute as His ttleness. Like the ocean, those who ve him best, fear him most.

The depths and reaches of God, like e depths and reaches of the sea are er newly to be discovered. No navi- ator knows all waters. A hundred fetimes would not be sufficient to fa- iliarize one with the universal sea. nd all eternity will not be long ough to enable a soul, with free and ntrammeled powers, to find out the ches and glories and love of God.

Personally, I like the ocean best in storm. Often, when the winds have en howling and the waters leaping d rushing and warring in indescrib- ble conflict, I have wandered about long the deserted beaches, while mmer visitors sat indoors and played rds or gossiped, never dreaming that ey were missing the sea at its very est. These pictures of the storm- ased waters are the ones that re- ain in memory most satisfactorily; lthough I have seen the ocean so pla- id that tiny canoes have put out from hore and paddled around the becalmed iling vessels. In somewhat the same ay, it seems that the true nature of eligion—its ultimate significance—is ot to be understood by those who sail hrough the days in frail and pretty easure craft; but, by those who have elt the buffeting of the unleashed inds of disaster; the breath-snatch- ng torrents of sudden sorrow; the ound, pound, pound of the relentless aves of piled-up troubles; and the ear and shriek of the storms of de- pair. Little lives may have little easures; but great lives learn in tress and conflict that "the Lord is a ery present help in trouble."

Leaning over the rail of an anchored ailboat one moonlight night on the ea of Japan, I was watching the himmering reflection of the moon in he water, when one of the crew threw verboard a bucket of water. Instantly he quiet surface flashed fire in a my- iad directions. The water agitated by he pail became all aglow. The line hat drew it up came up out of the sea s a fiery serpent. Delighted by the spectacle, we amused ourselves for a long time disturbing the water in order to see the beautiful lights. For it was the phosphorescence in the water that shone when disturbed. Un- guessed in a calm, there lay all the while that potential beauty. Often, since then, I have stood at the bow of great steamers, plowing up a path- way of light, and mused how, as it is in the sea, so it is in life; friction, conflict and trouble bring out unsus- pected beauties in a human character. Spirits that seemed dull and common- place under ordinary conditions shine radiantly when adversity overtakes them.

BIBLE LESSONS.

FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS AND OTHER BIBLE STUDENTS.

Prepared for The Times by J. S. Kirtley.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 16.

I Samuel xviii, 6-16: "Saul Tries to Kill Samuel."

THE CONNECTION.

The intervening verses tell us that when David had slain Goliath, Saul made still further inquiry of Abner, his captain, and then of David himself, as to the latter's parentage, although Saul knew something about him already. The way in which David replied won the heart of Jonathan, who was standing by, and they became fast friends. David was taken to the court, and to fit him for it, Jonathan put on the brave young man his own royal cloak and gave him suitable weapons. But at the close of the series of fights with the Philistines, which must have covered some time and extended over much territory, Saul's jealousy was kindled.

THE LESSON.

I.

Saul Jealous of David. 6-9.

"And it came to pass as they came, when David returned from the slaughter of the Philistine, that the women came out of all the cities of Israel, singing and dancing to mee King Saul with timbreis, with joy, and with instruments of music. And the women sang one to another as they played and said.

Saul hath slain his thousands.

And David his ten thousands.

And Saul was very wroth, and this saying displeased him; and he said, They have ascribed unto David ten thousands, and to me they have ascribed but thousands; and what can he have more but the kingdom? And Saul eyed David from that day and forward.

(1.) Saul's Satanic Treatment of David.

The fifth verse anticipates the story told in verse 13, and tells us the kind of life David became accustomed to, but it does not tell us Saul's true motive in sending him out on these expeditions. We learn that later on Saul wanted to get him killed.

(2.) David's Choice Spirit.

His tasks then were chiefly of a military nature, and he held himself ready to go wherever he was sent. His spirit is disclosed very clearly—cheerful and prompt obedience to authority, which was all the more marked because he knew that Saul's throne and crown belonged to him as a gift from God; clear perception of the nature of each task; skillful use of the means necessary to accomplish them; magnetic and magnanimous control of the men under him. His success was marked—the tasks accomplished, as the word "wisely" includes the idea of success; a noble character developed, and that is the highest achievement, the true success; and the making of a man; the love and confidence of all the people won by him. He "had a way with him" that bound the hearts of soldiers and courtiers to him. His character and conduct were balanced, and they were lofty. He was a man of head, hand and heart, and they coöperated harmoniously! This is one thing that maddened Saul. Saul felt the tide going out. The volcano within him was getting ready for another eruption.

(3.) David's Popularity.

When the whole series of skirmishes with the Philistines was over, they gave David a great welcome when he came home. It was natural that they should, as all Orientals do, and even as we do. The women participated as well as the men, and they were more in the habit of doing so than women among us. They gave expression to their enthusiastic admiration for the handsome young hero, as people do today, not with cannon and flags and speeches, but in the way most suitable to them, with music, vocal and instrumental, tambourines and rhythmical movements of the body called by the name of dancing. They had a programme and carried it out. One group of women, probably the older, sang "Saul has slain his thousands," and another group, probably the younger, answered, "And David his ten thousands." Of course, it touched the heart of Saul—his natural dislike to have another praised above himself, though the women may not have intended to humble him, for they might have meant that, in willing Goliath, David had killed a man who was equal to a thousand; his feeling that he had lost his hold on the people; his sense of awful separation from God by his own fault; his newly awakened suspicion that David was the man whom Samuel alluded to, when he told him that God would take him from the kingdom and give it to a neighbor better than himself. He felt that he had been dethroned by Jehovah and supplanted by David.

Saul kept silent then, but the words rankled in his bosom, as he said to himself: "He hath robbed me of my popularity and praise, and has taken away the hearts of my people, and he has just one thing more to take—the kingdom itself." We pity Saul and almost sympathize with him. It was a suspecting, fearing, vindictive eye with which he followed David. The song of the women had a jingle in it that caught the popular ear, and it was sung all over the country, and the Philistines heard of it, as we afterward learn.

II.

Saul Directly Attempts David's Life. 10-12.

"And it came to pass on the morrow that an evil spirit from God came mightily upon Saul, and he prophesied in the midst of the house; and David prayed with his hand, as he did day by day. And Saul had his spear in his hand; and Saul cast the spear; for he said, I will smite David even to the wall. And David avoided out of his presence twice. And Saul was afraid of David, because Jehovah was with him, and was departed from Saul."

(1.) Saul's Satanic Frenzy.

The effect of this on Saul was one of his old spells the next day. It was insanity, probably brought on by Satan, called "from the Lord," because he was permitted by the Lord and had his opportunity in the abandonment of Saul by the Lord. But this frenzy was the worst he ever had. The tumult had disturbed the volcano, and now he prophesies or "speaks forth" in words of strange import. Perhaps he had worked himself up and reserved enough shrewdness to carry out a murderous purpose. He knew they would send for David as usual, and if he killed the youth with his great spear he would be exonerated on the ground of his temporary insanity. He was diabolically shrewd as well as insane.

(2.) David's Escape.

David's skill at escaping must have given Saul a new idea. He saw, as never before, that his own power was gone, and that there was a providence over both himself and David, defeating himself at every point and giving David steady success. He saw the young man's career as directed by Jehovah, and a new phase of his jealousy took possession of him. He had made himself the fit abode of that evil spirit, while the young man's life was aglow with God's presence; he had lost all, and David was gaining it; his throne was forfeited, and David was ascending its steps. God was bringing it about. There were mysterious powers in the youth, and he stands awed and fearful, as before the presence of God. He despairs of being able to take that charmed life, and he is a coward. But he will not give it up.

III.

Attempts His Life Indirectly. 13-16.

"Therefore Saul removed him from him, and made him his captain over a thousand; and he went out and came in before the people. And David behaved himself wisely in all his ways; and Jehovah was with him. And when Saul saw that he behaved himself very wisely, he stood in awe of him. But all Israel and Judah loved David; for he went out and came in before them."

He first degrades him by removing him from the court and by putting him in charge of only a thousand men, instead of the whole army, as before. But that was David's opportunity, for he displayed those high qualities in deeds all the more extraordinary, because of his small army. He had a new opportunity to meet the people, and to know him was to admire him. The twofold reason was the presence of God, and his own fine, steady exertion of himself in doing his duty. His prosperity and popularity and wisdom grew. He was getting followers, as he could not have done in the court, and was getting ready for the day when he would be King and need such subjects. Saul did the very stupidest sort of thing.

He not only sought to degrade David, but he subjected him to danger of death in battle or ambush. But David had around him a wall of protection. He not only was of Judah and the southern of the northern tribes as afterward came to be There had always been tween the two sections, charmed life, and Saul was afraid, and sought to and his officials to kill him.
